HISTORY IN BRIEF

THREE BATHS IN A LIFE TIME

During the 17th and 18th centuries, the average woman took only three baths during her life-time—at birth, at marriage and at death.

First Chartered City

America's first chartered city was established in what is now York, Maine, in 1641.

Oldest Industry

The textile industry is the oldest of any in existence.

Still Going Strong

Dorothy Dix started her writing career in 1896.

On The Bandwagon

During the period 1880-1915, most so-called town bands were financed by merchants to attract the farmer trade into town.

Funeral Train

William Henry Harrison was the first president for whom a funeral train was used, in April, 1841.

Air Mail Service

The U. S. Post Office Department's air mail service is now 31 years old.

Railway Act

Martin Van Buren in 1838 signed the act establishing railway mail service.

Forerunner To Oil

Animal fats were once used by industry as lubricants.

L. G. Carter Dies

Louis G. Carter, 71, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday at his home in the Scotts Store section. Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday with Rev. Rudolph Harper, pastor of the Church of Christ at Albertson in charge. Burial was in the Jones family cemetery near the home. Surviving are Mrs. Carter, the former Cattie

Jones; three sons, Edward and Elbert of Mt. Olive, Rt. 1, and Alton of Wallace, Rt. 2; two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Register of Goldsboro and Mrs. Roland Thigpen of Mt.
Olive, Rt. 1; and a half-sister, Mrs.
Hattie Hinson of Ft. Barnwell. Mr.
Carter was a member of the Albertson Church of Christ.

Nothing Fancy, Please

Ornamental touches on bird houses often repel birds seeking a nesting place.

Radio Sets

Three-fourths of all radio sets in the United States are electrically wired in Duplin County. He still operated from power lines.

Head Named For Soil Survey
In Duplin

E. F. Goldston, agronomy specialist with State College Extension Service, has been named to head a soil survey party now starting represent the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station. The party also includes representatives of the U.

S. Dept. of Agriculture, Division of Soil Survey, and the Soil Conservation Service.

Goldston is a graduate of N. C.
State College and holds a Bachelor's Degree, received in 1929. Upon graduation and until 1946 he was soil surveyor, devoting most of his time to soil classification and mapping studies in western North Carolina.
