Auto Drivers Insurance Reduced

Approval has been given to the filing of the North Carolina Fire Insurance Rating Bureau of proposed changes in rates on fire, theft, collision and comprehensive automobile coverage as amended.

The filing as proposed provided for reductions in the following classes: private passenger cars, commercial intermediate hauling, commercial long-hauling, comprehensive, fire and theft.

The filing also proposed the re-symboling of pre-1942 automobiles in the State so as to increase collision premium rates on old cars.

CLUBS TO OBSERVE ACHIEVEMENT WEEK

More than 115,000 4-H Club members in the State will join with nearly 2,000,000 other boys and girls throughout the U. S. in observing National 4-H Achievement Week, November 5-13 it has been announced.

Special programs will be held in practically all counties in N. C. Newspapers, radio, exhibits, and posters will be used in calling attention to the accomplishments of club members during the past year.

A public hearing was held by the Department of Insurance on Sept. 21, 1949, to consider these proposals and it was brought out that the pre-war private passenger cars are not paying their part of the losses on collision coverage.

A thorough study of the facts as brought out at the public hearing has resulted in approval of the filing with respect to fire, theft and comprehensive, resulting in a considerable reduction to policyholders.

With respect to the collision filing and on the basis of a study by the Insurance Department of information by the North Carolina Fire Insurance Rating Bureau, the Department has approved their filing for changes in collision rates, resulting in an overall reduction of an estimated saving of $527,797.

The three-fold purpose of the observance is to report to the nation on over-all 4-H achievements, to recognize outstanding members, leaders, and parents, and provide a basis for planning next year's program.

Reports from State leaders indicate that a new record has been set by 4-H members this year. More than 76 per cent of the boys and girls enrolled have completed a wide variety of farming and home-making projects, and achievements in these projects have topped those of any previous year.

Cotton is a major crop in all the Southern states.

Trust God

Lesson for October 23, 1949

SHOOTING WARS and cold wars were going on. A great whirlpool of international intrigue was roaring around and around, and Judah was in the midst of everything. The star of the once-great empire of Egypt was setting, and the star of the new and powerful nation of Assyria was rising.

Dr. Foreman

Some of the little nations were trying to take advantage of the disturbed situation by getting up little empires of their own. All of them were scheming and scrambling for a place in the sun. Some were betting on Assyria, some on Egypt; no one knew just what to expect, but every one was afraid.

Cowardly King, Bold Prophet

INTO ISAAH'S little country of Judah an invading army was marching, and the hearts of king and people trembled "like leaves in the wind." Little Judah was being invaded by a combination of two ambitious powers, Syria and Israel, either one larger and stronger than Judah. Isaiah had to go out and try to calm the mind of the King. It was of no use; it was clear that King Ahaz did not believe the prophet. But Isaiah was right nevertheless.

The foreign army that looked so big would not win the war. The alliance that looked so frightening did not last. It could not last, because God was against it. Military men and others too find such things hard to believe.

Is not God "on the side of the largest battalions"? Is not "Gilt that fustest with the mostest men" the one and only recipe for victory? Nevertheless, the prophet was right. In fact, whenever a prophet raised a banner inscribed, Trust in God, it was not likely to be at a time when things were going smoothly in the world. That banner most often appeared in times of trouble, of darkness and dismay, of wars and invasions.

Leagues Don't Always Last

The situation had a different angle, later on. The Syria-Israel invasion collapsed, just as Isaiah said it would. But still the little nations jockeyed and maneuvered. It looked like a death-grapple between Assyria and Egypt, and every nation wanted to be on the winning side. So it was a great time of treaty-making, of pacts and agreements and alliances.

Isaiah changed the form of his message to suit the changing times, but the core of it was still the same. To King Ahaz he had said: Don't be afraid of hostile alliances; trust in God. To King Hezekiah, and others he said, in effect: Don't put all your hope in alliances; trust in God. Egypt will fail you, any alliance you form will melt away in time.

But God will not melt away. You can depend on him. Now in our time the situation is strikingly like what it was in Isaiah's day. People today are tempted to put their trust in what is big and imposing. Big nations, big armaments, big armies, big alliances.

Are All Alliances Bad?

THIS does not mean that no alliance is good, or that no treaty can be relied on, or that the United Nations (for instance) is bound to collapse. What Isaiah is driving at is this: God has a Purpose to work out in this world, and the name of it is Justice, Righteousness, Peace, Love.

Any nation or combination of nations, any pact or agreement or program, that goes against God's purpose is going against the grain of things and is bound to fail. Pure "power politics" always looks impressive; but the question is: What is the power going to be used for? If it is really for the benefit of mankind, God will bless it; but if it is selfish and unjust and against the peace of the world, it will fail, because the God of Justice has set his face against it.
