Planting Trees 4-H Project

Several Duplin 4-H boys have adopted the project of growing trees. They are planting cedar and pine seedlings.

Henry and Harry McLean of Wallace have applied for 5000 pine seedlings. These are sent from the state nursery near Clayton and are furnished at no cost by the North Carolina Pulp Company.

Bobby and Dalton Sholar of the Wallace section, and three sons of J. C. Stroud are planning to set out 1000 red cedars each. The cedars will be grown for sale during the Christmas season. V. H. Reynolds, assistant county agent, estimated the first ones would be ready in four or five years. The pines should reach a size suitable for sale in about ten years.

Planting time runs from now until February, said Reynolds. Applications can be obtained from his office.

Duplin Plans For Poultry Chain In 1950

Plans are being made to renew the poultry chain contest designed to promote poultry raising among young farmers in Duplin, announced V. H. Reynolds, assistant Duplin county agent.

Teen-aged farm boys and girls are selected and given 100 chicks for a good breed for egg production. After six or seven months these young people give 12 of the pullets to the county for showing and sale. The money received from the sale is used to buy more chicks for ten more aspiring young farmers the next year.

THREE NEW TOBACCO VARIETIES RELEASED
Millions of dollars eventually may be added to the State's farm income as a result of the release of three new flue-cured tobacco varieties by the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station.

They are: Dixie Bright 37; Dixie Bright 101; and Dixie Bright 102, all of which were released last week. The first combines good yields and quality with high resistance to Granville wilt. The other two have combination resistance to blank shank and Granville wilt. All three varieties have shown up well in experiments on State test farms.
