College Alumni Association she brought it new life and that her work there reserved the highest praise.
"Mamie" has been honored many times by her associates. At the close of the school year 1948-1949 she was presented with the Jeanes Fund Medal for twenty-five years of outstanding educational service. For two years she was Treasurer of the State Congress of Parents and Teachers. They remembered her with a beautiful bouquet of roses during the program being reported. Some years ago she organized the Duplin County Teachers Federal Credit Union which helps finance teachers in emergencies, but especially helps them to further their education.
CHAS. S. MURPHY
He did a lot of legislative work for the Missourian, including drafting the 1938 Civil Aeronautics Act. He said that one day Mr. Truman came off the Senate floor and met him in the lobby. The Senator said he just made a speech and asked Murphy to get a copy and work up a resolution. The resolution was adopted and the Truman committee was born.
In 1947, Mr. Truman, who had been in the White House two years, plucked his former legal helper from Congress and made him one of his $15,000-a-year administrative assistants.
Murphy's chief job in the 1948 campaign was collecting speech material and relaying it to the President's train. This material was the basis for the "give 'em hell" speeches that roused the voters to put the man from Missouri back in the White House for another four years.
Murphy would not confirm or deny that he wrote most of the President's speeches last year. But another White House aide said that he believed that it "wasn't far from the truth."
His work on the speeches is believed to have partly responsible for his elevation to his new $20,000-a-year post.

"Mamie" Turner has retired. All who know her wish her many more years of happiness and usefulness to . . . humanity.
Zion Church at Southport, N. C. They have two children, Lois P. Turner who teaches English and Dramatics at Fayetteville State Teachers College, and a son, William B. Turner, Professor of Chemistry at Maryland State College, Princess Ann, Md. Both have their M. A. degrees and are working for their Doctor's degree. They were home especially to be present when their mother received her well-earned recognition. Mamie - who is 61 years old - retired at the end of the last school year as Supervisor of Negro Elementary Schools in Duplin County at her own request.
Music for the program was furnished by the Douglas High School Choir of fifty mixed voices, of Warsaw. Edith Hinnant sang "On My Journey" (You who saw "The Duplin Story" at Kenansville last September will remember her as the soloist who thrilled you with her rendition of "Yee, Indeed"). The Rev. M. S. Branch, Principal of the Douglas High School gave the Invocation.
Mr. O. P. Johnson, Superintendent of Duplin County Schools, welcomed the visitors and presented Mrs. Turner with $1,000 in Government bonds as a token of appreciation for her many years of useful and able work in the field of negro education in this county. The bonds were the proceeds of contributions from negro teachers, principals and supervisors and Mr. Johnson. He then introduced Dr. Clyde A. Erwin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who was the main speaker. Dr. Erwin congratulated Mamie on her long years of worthwhile service and told his audience that her efforts and accomplishments were worthy of emulation by those who follow her. He also used the occasion to plead for "tolerance and democracy for all mankind . . . Unless men have in their hearts the desire for tolerance, courage and intelligence, there is no hope" . . . "I like for colleges and universities to look up," Dr. Erwin stated, "but education must look down to the needs of the people. Mrs. Turner's dreams for better facilities for the education of her people will probably be a reality in her life time. The state is spending fifty million dollars for schools for all the children of North Carolina . . . We are entering a new era of understanding and achievement."
President J. W. Seabrook, of Fayetteville State Teachers College, presented several other gifts to Mrs. Turner. Among them were gifts from the North Carolina Congress of Parents and Teachers and the Duplin County Parents and Teachers organization.
President E. D. Williams, of the Duplin County Teachers Association, presented Mrs. Turner with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

initially not too late to pay for the Seals because the work of the tuberculosis prevention and control which they will finance will continue through the 12 months of 1950," Dr. Colwell said.
"Some people may have unintentionally mislaid their Seal Sale letters or may have overlooked making their contribution in the rush of holiday preparations. We are happy to report that payments for Seals are coming in daily, even though Christmas is over, and we wish to make it known that although the campaign closed officially on Dec. 25th, returns are still needed and welcome."
Dr. Colwell also added "there are many persons in Duplin that have not been reached by the Seal Sale letter and that he is anxious to get their names on our mailing list so that they too will be a part of this winning fight against T. B. A contribution at this time would be doubly appreciated."

Negro Students Red Cross For School Courses

The following three letters are from students in the Branch Negro School to Miss Augusta Futch who taught the Red Cross Home Nursing course in the school this year:
P. O. Box 67, Pink Hill, N. C.
December 8th, 1949
Dear Miss Futch:
This is just a note to try and tell you how much I've enjoyed the course. I have learned many important and wonderful things, and I have you to thank for everything. I am sorry that the course can't be any longer, but I am thankful for this much time. I have always wanted to be a nurse, and I am sure if my dreams come true, this course will help me in later years. I think you are wonderful, and you have inspired me to go on and become a nurse.
I wish you a merry, merry Christmas and a very happy new year.
Yours truly,

Dear Miss Futch:
I decided I would write you and let you know I thank you for what you have done for me and all the others. You have taught me a lot that I did not know. I really enjoyed Home Nursing in the last six weeks. I can not thank you enough because you have been good to us. Mother thinks home nursing is a very nice thing to know about. I would like very much to take the training course. Maybe I can work my way through. Good bye.
From Iceline Pearsall,
To Miss Futch.

Dear Miss Futch:
Words cannot express how much I thank you for the wonderful course you taught me. I really enjoyed it. I have learned just how to take care of a patient in the home. In fact, you seemed to be so interested in us. You wanted each of us to learn the course. I shall never forget you. I hope you a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.
Sincerely yours,
Josephine Coysus.

House By Charity Nears Completion

The home of Mrs. Bettie John in Kenansville is nearing completion. It is not a fine, handsome structure but it is being well built and will protect her from the weather and out-of-doors.
Mrs. John moved here a few years ago and threw together a shack to live in that was hardly more than a covered chicken house. She owns her land but has no source of income. She is fed and clothed mostly by neighbors and the local churches. A few months ago some of her neighbors, the ladies being the spark plugs, decided that she needed better housing and set about to see what could be done. They have given of their time and labor; they have begged money, lumber and labor until today the John home is hulled in, the outside completed except for steps and a chimney. The floor is laid but the interior needs completion.
On Thursday of last week a group from Beulaville came up and gave

Six Reported Wrecks Mar The Christmas Weekend In Duplin County

Patrolman Earl Whitaker, of Warsaw, was kept busy over the holiday week end investigating wrecks throughout Duplin County. Patrolmen Brooks and Lane of Wallace, and Coker, of Kenansville, were on vacation.
The first wreck investigated by Whitaker occurred in the Friendship Community, near Warsaw, on Saturday night about 11 o'clock. Grady Johnson Redmond, of Burlington, was driving a 1946 Plymouth sedan occupied by six other men; all reportedly drinking. The car turned over in a ditch and careened into a tree. Homer Cleveland Redmond, 24 year old white man of Warsaw was seriously injured suffering a broken back. He was rushed to a Richmond, Va. hospital for veterans; last report was that he was in a dying condition. Other occupants of the car escaped injury. The car was damaged about $200. Redmond has been indicted on charge of careless and reckless driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, failure to report wreck resulting in personal injury and property damage. Redmond escaped the scene of the wreck and had not been apprehended Wednesday at noon.
At 12:20 p.m. Christmas Eve on a dirt road near Faison, James Faison, 29 year old negro, driving a 1935 Chevrolet 1 1/2 ton truck, ran into a wagon and male, driven by another colored man, cussed the man out for being in the middle of the road. The wagon was slightly damaged. Faison then drove off and ran into a pick fence; after damaging the fence he drove on and ran into a 1949 Mercury sedan, driven by mail carrier, Francis McCoin, of Faison, damaging the Mercury about $300. No one was injured during the escapade. The negro then ran the truck into a ditch and escaped. Later, after capture he reported to Patrolman Whitaker that he had no knowledge or recollection about what had taken place. He was charged with drunken driving and no drivers license.
Christmas Eve about 9 o'clock Patrolman Whitaker was called to investigate a wreck three miles south of Warsaw on Highway 117. He found that a 1939 Ford had turned over. Later he arrested Henry Glenn Moore, 22 year old negro, of Rt. 1, Warsaw, for failure to report wreck. Moore was tried before Magistrate C. B. Sitterton, of Kenansville. He was a day's work. Those working were: Thurman Kennedy, E. W. Simmons, Morris Grady, Earl Brown, Lee Mobly, Floyd Brown, Bruce Duff, Gurman Guy and Arnold Thomas. The house has one bed room and a kitchen.

of freed after paying $18.50. The car was practically demolished.
Christmas Day about 1:30 p.m. Will Jeter, 54 year old negro, of Siler City, was thrown through the windshield of a 1948 2 ton truck, driven by Enoch Wright, 25 year old Warsaw negro and owned by the Godwin Building Block Co. of Warsaw. The truck had been stolen. Jeter was given first aid at the scene of the wreck three miles west of Warsaw, on the Beasley Mill Road, and rushed to the Wayne Memorial Hospital, where it was found he was seriously injured with severe cuts about the face and head. Investigation revealed that Wright was driving at a high rate of speed and ran into a ditch on the right side of the road. He was arrested and charged with drunken driving and larceny of truck.
Christmas Night about 9:45, on a dirt road near Teachey, a 1940 Ford sedan, driven by Robert Lewis Simmons, 26 year old negro of near New Bern, pulled over into a ditch on the right side of the road as he was meeting a 1937 Ford pickup, driven by Carl Baysden, 29 year old negro of Tin City. Baysden's truck struck the Simmons car on the left side. The car was damaged about $200 and the truck about $300. The truck had been stolen from Roscoe Teachey of Wallace. Baysden was charged with drunken driving and larceny of truck. Wednesday at noon, he had not been apprehended.
Christmas Day about 4:00 p.m. Albert McKay, 30 year old negro, from Brooklyn, N. Y. turned over and demolished his 1941 Buick, while driving along the Magnolia-Boone Lake Road. He was not injured, but was charged with drunken driving.
