The American Way

Education in Americanism

By: George Peck

Back in 1941, John E. Cox, then State Superintendent of Education of Louisiana (perhaps he still holds that office) outlined a program of "Americanism" for schools under his jurisdiction. In introducing his program he said in part:

"We cannot assume any longer that a Republic automatically perpetuates itself and that American youth will naturally absorb a love and devotion for and secure an understanding of Americanism from their environment without definite and specific instructions. . . . What we need most is a generation trained with the devotion to those principles which will serve as a guarantee of our freedom against its enemies who refuse to value the values of the people who constitute it."

Mr. Cox was not merely theorizing. He had definite ideas as to how this devotion could be engendered.
He suggested that in the lower three school grades, a few minutes should be devoted each day to teaching patriotism, and that beginning with the fourth grade and running through the eleventh, good citizenship clubs should be formed and regular meetings held for at least thirty minutes once a week.

He further suggested that each organization or room have a president vice president and secretary, necessary committees, etc.

As to what should be taught, he offered the following:

Ability to understand and appreciate the meaning of the Flag.

Ability to sing the National Anthem and other patriotic songs.

Ability to understand what our national heroes stood for from the time our Government was founded; to understand wherein our Government is superior to a State ruled by a dictator;

to understand the long struggle to establish basic freedoms; to condemn dishonesty, corruption, graft and inefficiency in Government;

to keep the body in good health and physically fit.

Through pupils to strengthen the parents against insidious propaganda.

To bring about a close relationship between school and community through studying Americanism.

Such a program was badly needed ten years ago. There is even greater need for it today.

The Church Dynamic

Lesson for January 8, 1950

THE CHURCH is not meant to be a club, a lecture-hall, a debating society, a rest home, a music hall, an entertainment bureau or a burial association. It has something to do along all these lines, of course. But the Church is meant to be a place and channel of power.
One of the last things Jesus, the Founder of the Church, said to his friends was: "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you." Not—you shall receive comfort, or wealth, or insight, or any other good thing, though all of them have their place. What Jesus highlights is power.

Dr. W. M. Horton, in his little book on the Christian faith, asks:
"What is a church not a church?" His answer is: When it has lost the Holy Spirit. That is a good New Testament answer.

The early Christians could not have imagined a church without the Holy Spirit, because in fact there had never been one without him. It was the coming of the Spirit on that summer day in Jerusalem that actually made the church, in the first place. True, it was not made out of nothing.

But suppose the Spirit had never come? What would have happened?
Sooner or later the little band would have grown tired of waiting, would have given up faith in Jesus' promise, would have drifted off one by one, and the Christian church would have died after it was born.

Tongues of Fire

THERE SEEMS to be something mystic, mysterious and unreal about the Holy Spirit, to most people's minds. We read in Acts about the flaming tongues of fire, about the rushing mighty wind, about Christians talking in strange languages; and then we go to our own church and find there no fire, no wind; only ordinary English is spoken by everyday people, the same people we have been seeing all week.

We get to thinking the Holy Spirit is just something in the Bible, some experience they could have away back yonder, but not here and now.
After all, looking over the church from that day to this, and around the world at the present day, how many cases, authentic genuine cases of fire-on-the-head or storm-in-the-church-house, do you find? Not many! Does that show the Holy Spirit is not here any more?

We must remember that St.
Paul met with much the same questions. Did a man have to speak in strange tongues to be sure he had the Holy Spirit? Fortunately, Paul stated in so many words what the fruits of the Spirit are: Love, joy, peace
... Look up the rest of it in Gal.
5:22-23.

You may take St. Paul's inspired word for it: If you ever see a church, a Christian group, that is notable for love, joy, peace . . . gentleness, goodness, faith . . . you may be sure the Holy Spirit is there.
We do not gather grapes from thorns nor figs from thistles, Jesus says.

You don't have the fruits of the Spirit without having the Spirit. And that is Power. Said a great Australian preacher: Show me a church where the members treat one another with more real love than the people outside the church treat one another, and you will find men crowding the doors of that church to get in.

How Can We Get
the Holy Spirit?

WE CANNOT GET the Spirit by wishing ourselves back in the first century. We can have the Holy Spirit now, on the same terms as always. There are no new conditions, no complicated rules, no application blanks to fill out. Jesus said: God will give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him; Paul said: Covet earnestly the best gifts.

In any church, if there is even a small group who want the power of God in their lives, who want his power for the church, that little group can change that church and change the community. Power passes through a wire when one end of it is attached to a dynamo and the other end to a machine that is doing some work.

Prayer—that is the touch with God. Service—that is the link with man. So power will flow through the Church when at one end it is in touch with God, and at the other end it is doing something real for human needs.
