Correction ---

Due to an oversight we failed to include the name of Myrtle Wheelless, daughter of Mrs. Nellie Wheelless, in our list of Faison High School alumni who are away at college. Myrtle graduated with the class of 1948 and is now taking a business course at Pineland.

Gas Range

A new gas range was installed in the Community Building last week. This improvement answers a need that has been felt for some time. In the past an oil stove was used for cooking which was far from satisfactory.

Local Man Coaches Boy To Success

News from Kinston the past week stated that Jimmie Cole of Rockingham won divisional honors and a $50 award in the American Legion's oratorical contest held there last week. Cole earned the right to compete in State semi-finals at Lincoln on March 17. He is a student in the Rockingham city schools and was coached to success by Melville F. Warren son of Rev. and Mrs. F. F. Warren of Faison. He is a teacher of English in the Rockingham schools and a graduate of A. C. College and has his MA from the University of North Carolina and is working during the summer toward his Ph. D.

Personals

Rev. and Mrs. Dennis Kinlaw

and Rev. and Mrs. Eads of the Universalist Church of Clinton were dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Warren at Taylor's Bridge community building Friday evening.

Mr. W. H. Andrews remains very ill at Wayne Memorial Hospital.

Rev. W. C. Goldston, Methodist minister of Goldsboro, was dinner guest Monday of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Warren. He spoke that evening at Epworth Methodist Church to the young people of the Clinton area.

Roland Williamson is very ill at his home here.

Men's Bible Class

Last Sunday evening the Men's Bible Class of the Calypso Presbyterian Church sponsored a moving picture called "Like a Mighty Army" to a full house.

The picture produced by the Lutheran Church, is a story of a few people in a comfortable, indifferent city church, who wanted to do something for the Church and the Lord. In one of the suburban areas where thousands had recently made their homes, there was no Protestant church. These few people, despite bitter opposition, made sacrifices in time, energy and money, rented and remodeled a house for a chapel and secured a minister for pastor. In the end the opposition was won over and the church itself had taken new life.

Some wonderful lessons were taught in the picture which emphasizes in a subtle way the great lesson of stewardship. It would do any congregation good to see this picture.

Elect More Officers

At a meeting of the Stanford

Presbyterian Church Sunday night Feb. 26 two Elders and three Deacons were elected. Elders were: Albert Outlaw and Ralph Jones; Deacons: Coy Smith, Ned Robert, and Borden Roberts. The Session will examine these men as to their beliefs and the knowledge of their duties at a meeting on Tuesday night, March 21.

At preaching service on Sunday night, March 26 these officers-elect will be ordained and installed by the laying on of hands and prayer. Visiting Elders are expected from other churches to participate in the service. The public is invited.

Garden Club Meets

The Faison Garden Club met on Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Z. A. Gibson with Mrs. R. D. Clifton assisting hostess. Mrs. I. R. Faison presided. Mrs. A. F. Rector, nominating chairman, nominated the following officers: Pres. Mrs. C. D. Lee; Vice Pres. Mrs. D. L. Groome; Sec. Mrs. C. R. Lewis; Treas. Mrs. N. K. Oates; Historian, Mrs. Z. A. Gibson; Librarian, Mrs. W. T. Hines, who reported the Sesame Club and Garden Club planted over 200 dogwoods. Mrs. D. Newton reported the Garden Club had ordered 300 Azaleas. Mrs. W. R. Clifton introduced the speaker, Mr. J. H. Harris, Horticulture and Landscape Specialist from State College, who spoke informally on planting and fertilizing shrubs. Mr. Harris, known as "The Tar Heel Gardener" is the author of some 15 bulletins on landscaping and home beautification. Miss Hilda Clontz, Duplin Home Demonstration Agent, was a guest of the club. The hostesses served a salad plate with hot tea during the social hour.

Presbyterian Lawn Is Landscaped

On Friday, March 3 several men and women of the Faison Church met Mr. Fergar of Wilmington to set out shrubbery on the lawn. He brought many kinds of plants that had been carefully selected for particular places on the lawn. Several ladies also contributed plants among whom were: Mrs. Mat Lee Thompson who gave a beautiful boxwood, and other plants, as a memorial to her mother and father; Mrs. D. Newton, Mrs. T. W. DeVane, Mrs. W. T. Hines, Mrs. J. C. Bell, Sr., Mrs. M. C. Lewis, and Mrs. N. F. McCalman. There were others who made considerable contributions in time and energy among whom were Mrs. W. T. Hines who was chairman of the committee, Mrs. C. D. Lee, several of the Deacons, Mrs. Kalmar and son Nick Kalmar. The contribution of these and many others, and the interest of all, has been very commendable.

On Sunday March 12, following morning service, the congregation met to adopt a budget for the coming church-year which begins April 1, and to elect Elders and Deacons to replace those whose terms expire at the end of this month. Elders J. B. Stroud, Jr., and M. C. Bowden were reelected for a term of three years; Deacons William Thompson and Perry Lewis were reelected for a term of four years; and William McCullen was elected to fill the unexpired term of Charles Decker. These officers to be installed in April. Following the election an every member canvass was begun, to be completed by the Deacons during this month.

Male Chorus Renders Anniversary Program

The auditorium of Duplin County Training School was the perfect setting for the anniversary program conducted by the Community Male Choral Club, Sunday, March 5th, at 5 p. m. The harmonious blending of the voices in "Even Me" captured the spirit of the capacity audience and held it spell-bound throughout the evening. The organization demonstrated the versatility of its membership in a program of sacred music and spirituals, sung in solo, duet and quartet as well as by full chorus. The quartet composed of J. C. Thompson, V. L. Brewington, W. T. Lee and Leo Faison appeared in two numbers. Soloists appearing on the program were V. L. Brewington, James Adams, J. C. Thompson and Jessie Adams. Narrators were C. G. Thompson and A. F. Thompson. C. H. Chalmers gave the history of the organization.

The Burning Bush Sunday School has the following slogan: "Our Sunday School must grow; we must help make it grow". As a result of that slogan the classes vie for the attendance and offering banners. The Young Men's Class received Attendance Banner; the Young Ladies' Class the Offering Banner.
