Young People's Work In Church

The churches of today offer the young people good opportunities for growth and service. There is a program for each age group that promotes study, worship, and service in the Presbyterian Church there are the Pioneers, ages 12-14; Seniors, ages 15-17; and Older Young People, ages 18-24. For the Senior Young People there is a Council which promotes unity, fellowship and study.

On Sunday, March 19th three members of the Presbytery's Council visited the Faison Group and gave a program of instruction, recreation, and inspiration. They were Bill Hood, Delaney Boney, and Archie Faires of Wallace. The program began at 4 p.m. with a meeting to discuss problems that confront the council, followed by recreation. A quiz was held and questions were asked by the local Fellowship. This was followed by supper after which the program came to a close with an inspiring worship service led by Archie Faires.

Some of the things the Faison Young People did during the closing church-year were: Furnished and pinned on the people roses at Sunday School and Church on Mother's Day; presented program in Sunday School in May; clothes collected for a needy family; food collected and given to a displaced persons family. Two picnics were given honoring college student; posters made for Bible school and members helped with same; clothes given to a small boy so that he could attend Sunday School. Took part in Rally Day Program. Conducted church service on Youth Day, and took part in the Christmas pageant. Christmas Sunday School bags were packed, fruit delivered to shut-ins, and carols sung on Christmas Eve, and many other items of a service which show the opportunities available to youth within the church. Too much time cannot be given to providing leadership, methods, and opportunities for their growth, interests and service.

Wilmington Presbytery will provide a Pioneer Camp at Lake Singletary June 26-July 1st for ages 12-14; and a Senior conference at Flora MacDonald College, Red Springs, June 19-24 for ages 15-18.
