Baptists Convene At Ridgecrest

With the coming of summer, the Southern Baptists are turning their thoughts to Ridgecrest, N. C., where June 1, through June 7 the opening conference will again be conducted by the Home Mission Board. Last year more than 13,000 were registered for the various religious conferences held at this well-known camp nestled in the North Carolina mountains.

During the home mission conference, Baptists will study the problems of winning the homeland to Christ. City and rural missions, work among the Indians, Negroes and language groups will be among the problems considered in the conferences. Leaders of the recently completed evangelistic crusade in which Southern Baptist churches west of the Mississippi River joined together in a simultaneous revival will be present to help those east of the River in their plans for a similar campaign March 25 through April 8, 1951. During the two weeks of revivals in the West more than 120,000 converts were won to Christ.

Other conferences scheduled for Ridgecrest camp this year will include conferences on the following: Sunday school, Training, YWA, W.M.U. foreign missions, brotherhood work, church libraries, visual aids, church recreation, church music and Bible conferences.

Civic Clubs Help Scouts

The public spirited contributions of the various Civic Clubs of Tuscarora Council have been of inestimable value in providing the leadership for the three Jamboree Troops which will participate in the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa., next month.

Mr. A. T. Griffin, Jr., Chairman of the local Jamboree Committee. The Scouts attending the Jamboree are bearing their own expenses but the Jamboree felt that it would be unjust to expect the leaders to utilize their entire vacation period for this cause and in addition to pay their own expenses. An appeal was made to the various Civic Clubs of the Council to help in defraying the expenses of the leaders. A fine response has resulted. Sizeable sums for this purpose have been received from the Clinton Rotary Club, the Goldsboro Rotary Club, the Smithfield Kiwanis Club, and the Goldsboro Lions Club. Information received by the Jamboree Committee indicates that several other Clubs are also planning to participate in this worthy cause. The Jamboree Committee wishes to take this opportunity to express the sincere gratitude of the entire Tuscarora Council for the aid they have rendered.

LETTERS

1220 S. Geo. Mason Drive, Arlington, Virginia, 24 May 1950
The Duplin Times, Kenansville, N. C. Gentlemen.
It has been so long since I saw a copy of the Times, I've forgotten what your subscription rates are. However, I'm enclosing check for $3.00 to start my subscription and will make up the difference when I receive the paper. I'm extremely interested in plans for the Pageant next September, and want to catch up with news of Duplin people, and to bring my family down for the occasion. We're kin to the McGowens, Dicksons, Kenans, Pearsalls, Rutledges, Kinnears, and other old Duplin families.
We see folks from Eastern North Carolina occasionally. One such reunion was the dinner thrown by the Alumni of the University a couple of weeks ago in honor of Gordon Gray and his election to the Presidency of the University. Graham Barden called up not long ago to get something started on the Flood Control project for the Northeast Cape Fear River. I happened to attend the local hearing on that two or three years ago, and thought it was "in the bag", but it came up before the Board while I was on a five-months mission to Colombia, South America, and they sent it to the Chief of Engineers with a non-convinced notice. However, we are going to get the Wilmington district engineer to look into it again and may have better luck next time. The Army Engineers think a lot of Graham Barden, up here - he's one of the best friends we have down at the Capitol.
We have our immediate family all pretty well together again, which is fortunate, considering that all three of my children were overseas in the Air Force during the war. The oldest, Capt. Haywood R. Faison, Jr., completed his stint with the Berlin Airlift as squadron leader, just as it closed down. My youngest son, Walter E. Faison is a controller with the C. C. A. at the Airport here, and my daughter Betty, (Mrs. Stanley Trapp) lives just a couple of blocks from us. Mrs. Faison, Sr. and I fit in well as baby sitters with the three grandchildren.
Will drop in to see the Times on my next visit.
Sincerely,
Haywood R. Faison, Sr.
Chief, Economics Div.
Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors.

About 60 members and companions partook of the delicious barbecue, punch and coca colas.
