

TARHEEL WILDLIFE SKETCHES TAKE A BOY FISHING

BETWEEN the innocence of babyhood and the dignity of manhood we find a delightful creature called a boy. Boys come in assorted sizes, weights and colors, but all boys have the same creed: To enjoy every second of every minute of every hour of every day and to protect with noise (their only weapon) when their last minute is finished and the adult males peek them off to bed at night.

Boys are found everywhere—on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around, or jumping to. Mothers love them, little girls hate them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them. A boy is Truth with dirt on his face, Beauty with a cut on his finger, Wisdom with bubble gum in his hair, and the Hope of the future with a frog in his pocket.

A boy is a composite—he has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the energy of a pocket-size atomic bomb, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a cracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

He likes ice cream, knives, saws, Christmas, comic books, the boy across the street, woods, water (in its natural habitat), large animals, Dad, trains, Saturday mornings, and fire engines. He is not much for Sunday School, company, schools, books without pictures, music lessons, neckties, barbers, girls, overcoats, adults, or bedtime.

Nobody else is so early to rise, or so late to supper. Nobody else gets so much fun out of trees, dogs, and breezes. Nobody else can cram into one pocket a rusty knife, a half-eaten apple, 3 feet of string, an empty Bull Durham sack, 2 gum drops, and 6 cents.

A boy is a magical creature—you can't lock him out of your workshop, but you can't lock him out of your heart. Might as well give up—he is your captor, your jester, your boss, and your master—a headstrong, pin-sized, eye-shining bundle of notes. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them like new with the magic words—"Hi Dad!"

Miss Myrtle Landen Becomes Bride Of Mr. Benjamin Harvey Beach

The marriage of Miss Myrtle Landen, daughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Landen of Chinquapin, and Benjamin Harvey Beach of Hudson and Lenoir, son of Mrs. E. E. Beach and the late Mr. Beach of Hudson, took place on Saturday, May 27 at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hunt of McCoy Road, Milford Hills. The Rev. Charles A. McGirt, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, officiated.

The bride was escorted by her brother-in-law Glenn Hunt and had her sister, Mrs. Hunt, as matron of honor. The bridegroom had his brother James Beach for best man, Freddy Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jordan, as ring bearer. The candles were lighted by Gilbert Koontz of High Point and Fred Jordan.

Miss Patsy Rogers, pianist, played "Poem," "To A Wild Rose," "Liebestraume," and the traditional wedding march. Mr. Lindsay Hess sang "One Alone," "I Love You Truly," "Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Lord's Prayer." The vows were said before an improvised altar in the living room with the bay window as background. The window was banked in white gladioli, lilies and snapdragons. Candelabra with white tapers completed the background.

ered unsuccessful. Observers will point out problems encountered in making a pasture. The tour will include stops at the farm of Ed Dudley Monk in Stanford neighborhood, Robert Dobson's in the Elder neighborhood, Columbus Murray, Little Creek neighborhood and a tour of the Coastal Plains Station at Willard. The group will leave the Negro County Agent's office at 9:30 a.m. June 15. Each farmer interested should make the effort to go on the tour.

The bride was dressed in a two-piece aqua linen dress with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of bronze orchids.

The matron of honor was attired in a navy blue dotted swiss dress with navy accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Beach is a graduate of Queens College in Charlotte and this summer will be a candidate for a degree in library science at the University of North Carolina. For the past several years she has been a teacher in the Chinquapin High School. Mr. Beach is a graduate of Wake Forest College and has been a student at Guilford College and Love's Law School in Asheville. He served in the Army during World War II, having been in the Asiatic Pacific for ten months. After June 10 they will be at home in Lenoir where Mr. Beach is practicing law.

Following the ceremony, the guests were invited into the dining room where a wedding reception was held. Mrs. Gilbert Koontz of High Point received at the door. Mrs. Fred Jordan cut the cake, and Mrs. Jack Cox of Linwood poured punch.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mrs. W. J. Pickett and Miss Martha Pickett of Kenansville; Mrs. J. B. Cooper and Miss Henrietta Cooper of Wallace; Miss Pattie Loftin of Raleigh; Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Hunt and Miss Carrie Hunt of Lexington; Mrs. Jack Cox of Linwood; Mrs. E. E. Beach and Mr. James Beach of Hudson; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Koontz of High Point; and Miss Eugenia Quinn of Chinquapin.

State College Hints To Home Makers

Tea Towel Tests: Homemakers generally agree on the qualities they want in kitchen towels. For drying glass, silverware or dishes they want towels that are durable, soft, easily laundered, lintless and reasonable in price.

Thirty-six toweling were tested after one laundering and after 50 launderings, and it was found that no one kind of toweling has all the desired qualities. They found that rayon and linen towels lost strength and absorbed moisture less, so it was suggested that the homemaker buy according to what is most important to her.

Towels generally increase in absorption from the first to the 50th laundering. Tightly twisted yarns and close even weave makes for durability. The rayon and all-linen towels had least yarn twist and lowest yarn count. Cottons were most firmly woven. Linen and rayon lost weight with use and laundering. Shrinkage made towels heavier and more durable but less absorbent. As for cost, linen and rayon mixtures were most expensive. Plain cotton towels were decidedly cheaper than the average toweling.

MOTOR DEATHS CLIMB NINE PER CENT IN APRIL

Motor vehicle fatalities were up 9% in April as compared with the same month last year in North Carolina. 82 persons were killed in traffic accidents in April and 963 injured with 1,991 accidents reported.

Pedestrian fatalities took a downward turn with 13 killed, a 7% decrease as compared with last year. 57 were injured in the 66 accidents involving pedestrians.

her support of Senator Frank P. Graham, because of his long-time efforts to improve the well-being of farmers.

She pointed to Graham's efforts to improve rural electrification, telephone service, research, soil conservation and the extension program. She also praised Graham for his support of the agricultural parity price support program.

"I will vote for Frank Graham for U. S. Senator because his experience and actions have proven that he is a Christian statesman interested in the welfare of the citizens of our state, the nation and the world," Mrs. Boney said. "He is interested, too, in seeing that rural people have a more abundant life. He has shown in his activities that he will not sell us out to big business in promoting war plans that will take us into action and make more corporations richer."

ONE Look

Yes, a look will show you why it's Ford for Fashion, again for '50! Once again Ford's modern styling earned it the Fashion Academy's coveted medal as "Fashion Car of the Year." No other car at any price has received such an honor 2 years in a row.

"This is the Fashion Car of the Year!"
"And it costs so little to buy!"

ONE Listen

You can hardly hear the '50 Ford's powerful V-8, or its companion in quality, the 95-hp. Six—both are "hushed" to a whisper. Your ride is quiet, too, because "sound-conditioning" throughout Ford's roomy and sturdy "Lifeguard" Body keeps noise out!

"It's so quiet!"
"You can hardly hear it run!"
"And you go so far for so little money!"

ONE Ride

One "Test Drive" and you'll know the luxury comfort of Ford's "Mid Ship" Ride... the safety of its "Lifeguard" Body and King-Size Brakes... its big car roadability. Then check Ford's low first cost, great mileage, low upkeep and high resale value. You'll agree—Ford's the "Big Economy Package" of the low-price field.
