The Faster You Drive The Longer It Takes

TO STOP. - That is!
Good drivers know that the higher the speed the more distance required to stop. The question is — Do you know how much distance is required to recognize the need to stop, apply the brakes, and come to a full stop at any given speed?
Do you always drive realizing that you must be able to stop in an emergency?

We'd all be safer drivers if we'd remember three things: the driver has to see and recognize the need to stop before he can start stopping.
After he does that, there's a half-second or more interval called "reaction time" before he is actually doing the third thing, putting on the brakes. All this time — until the brakes finally stop the car — the car is moving forward toward the thing the driver doesn't want to hit!

Here are figures on how long it takes an average driver to see an emergency, react, and stop an average car:

At 20 m.p.h. 43 ft; 30 m. p. h.
80 ft; 40 m.p.h. 128 ft; 50 m.p.h.
186 ft.

You see, the faster you drive, the longer it takes too stop. All drivers should remember it.

SPORTS AFIELD

By TED KESTING

The primary purpose of streamer, spinner and bucktail flies is to get big fish, and they lie deep. Getting a fly down under the current is the first lesson in this type of fishing.

An obvious method of sinking a fly is to weight it. A fly not pre-weighted can be fixed by winding the long shank of the hook with strip lead.

Yet a fly, no matter how it is weighted, will plane to the surface with the line and leader when it is under tension across or against the current. The way it is handled in the water makes the difference.
For instance, when the fly is cast

SCRIPTURE: The Book of Jonah.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Ephesians 3:14-21.

Peevish Prophet

Lesson for June 23, 1950.

JONAH THOUGHT he knew better than God. When men said, "Be a prophet," Jonah decided to take a long vacation. He took a ship for a far place so far away he thought even God could not follow. When God said, "Preach to Nineveh," Jonah decided that was the very thing he did not want to do. When God said, in effect, "Be a missionary," Jonah thought he would rather be a tourist.
Of all the prophets on record, Jonah was the peevish one.

Dr. Foreman

The remarkable and unique little book of Jonah is perhaps the most misunderstood book in the Bible. Nobody knows how much ink has been wasted on the whale (which, incidentally, was not a whale but a fish!), whereas the real message of Jonah is not about whales at all.
It is about taking the message of God to the most unlikely places in the world; it is the story of how the very people who ought to be doing it, sometimes won't do it.

Does God Care?

CONSIDER the good reasons Jonah might have given for not going to Nineveh. They are like the reasons people give nowadays for not believing in foreign missions. (A mission to Nineveh was about as foreign a mission as any one could have thought of, in those days.) Reason number one: The Ninevites were mean people.
So they were. Assyria, of which Nineveh was the capital city, had done, and would do Israel more harm than any other enemy she had.

The Ninevites were an unscrupulous, greedy people. They knew no law but force. They spread by violence into many a country. They were the nation nobody loved.
Should the message of God be given to such a city? Jonah thought not; God said it should.

And of course God was right. If the message of God had been sent only to peoples and nations that "deserved" such a favor, God's messengers would all have stayed at home.

Too Far From God

REASON number two: Nineveh is a long way off. Indeed it was. To reach Nineveh, Jonah would have to pass through at least a dozen other cities, all of which no doubt needed preachers. Were there not enough people at home who needed preaching? Of course there were. . . . Only Jonah did not preach to them. He had a wonderful missionary opportunity there on the ship. Every man of the crew was a heathen. But Jonah was fast asleep.

This is often too true. People will protest about foreign missions: why send preachers and doctors and teachers and money so far away? Aren't there plenty of heathen right at home?
Of course; but you won't often find the objector to foreign missions doing much about it.
Any church that is awake and active in supporting foreign missions will be found to be just as alive and intelligent in meeting the problems of the neighborhood.

Judge The World

REASON number three: (This sounds like a silly reason, but Jonah actually put it forward—Jonah 4:2.) God is too good! What was the use of preaching to Nineveh, Jonah wanted to know, if God was going to be gracious and not destroy the city with fire from the sky?

If God is good and merciful, why should we bother about sending missionaries anywhere?
Won't he save every one anyhow? Isn't God too good to judge the world?

Jonah overlooked the fact that God had mercy on the Ninevites because they repented. Nowhere in the Bible is there any encouragement to believe that God has mercy on the unrepentant. To all who turn to him, God is gracious; and the job of the missionary, whatever else he does, is to persuade people to turn to God. "Be ye reconciled to God," said Paul, the great Christian missionary. If rebels will not lay down their arms, how can there be an amnesty?

The great tragedy of Judaism is the tragedy of Jonah: God wanted his people to win the world; but they became in-grown, they ceased even to wish to be a missionary faith.
Shall the same tragedy overtake Christianity?

cil of Christian Education on behalf of across current, it should be allowed to float free for some distance on an almost slack line. Another method is to drop the fly in the current where it surges over a rock and cuts under the surface before it is carried down by the current.

Once the fly is down under, you "let" it get the most killing action with a series of short twitches. Work the fly slowly. Often the current will grab the belly of the line and race along with the fly in spite of everything. To counteract this, concentrate on a slow retrieve.
No matter what fly you use, make the stream work for you. Let the current take charge. It is bound to carry the fly in the channels where fish expect food.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Why should Irish potato vines be destroyed before harvesting when the field is infected with late blight?

A. This disease, if allowed to get started on the tubers will continue to develop on the potatoes and may result in rejection or heavy dockage on the market.

The vines must be killed long enough to be thoroughly dry if infection is to be prevented.
Q. Please suggest a control for flies on my dairy farm.

A. Fly control on the farm will need close attention this season.
There is evidence that flies may build up a tolerance to DDT and other insecticides. This means more preventive measures. Locate breeding places and remove manure piles and clean out twice a week during summer months. Watch areas in poultry and hog houses, beneath feeders and watering troughs. Use substitute for DDT methoxychlor on milk cows. DDT may be used on dry dairy animals and beef cattle, hogs and other animals as well as in poultry houses and places where flies congregate. Spray areas where fly 'specks' are numerous such as cellings, beams, light cords, etc.

and dressings, relishes, main dishes and vegetable which need onions for their savor!

As a cooked vegetable onions are
