CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the many considerations shown during the recent illness and death of our sister, Emma Davis. Brothers and sisters.

RESOLUTION

Mrs. Nita Pickett

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom called from our midst on May 25, 1950, our beloved leader of the George Rollins Circle of the Baptist W. M. U. Nita Pickett. It is fitting that we pause in our activities to pay loving tribute to her, one of our best and most loved members.

She was truly a person worth knowing, passing to and fro among us with her genial personality, radiating cheerfulness and good will. Her devotion to service and the happy spirit of her life was an inspiration to others to follow in her lead. To her nearest and dearest we extend understanding sympathy for the loneliness they must feel. May they find comfort in cherished memories of their dear one.

"Beautiful life is one whose span, is spent in service to God and man, Beautiful twilight at set of sun, Beautiful rest with life well done."

First: that we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well;

Second: that we wish to extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy;

Third: that a copy of these resolutions be recorded in our minutes, a copy be sent to the family, a copy to the Biblical Recorder, a copy to the Warsaw-Faison News and to the Duplin Times for publication.

Respectfully submitted, Mrs. C. A. Womack, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. Walter Carter

Outlaw's Bridge

The HDC will meet in the home of the president Mrs. Lottie Berger Monday July 17 at 3 p.m. with Mesdames J. H., and James Parker joint hostesses. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Pate and son of Courtland, Va. visited Mrs. W. D. Pate and family last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parker spent the week end in Wendell.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Mewborn of Goldston visited here Sunday.

A. J. Outlaw, M. B. Holt, J. H. Byrd, R. D. and Leroy Simmons were among those attending the tobacco plant demonstration at McCullers near Raleigh Thursday of last week.

The A.U.W. held their July meeting in the home of Mrs. Leroy Simmons Saturday afternoon with Miss Sallie Outlaw presiding. Meeting opened with song. Mrs. Ed Smith gave the Bible lesson. Rev. L. C. Prater led in prayer. During business various committees were heard from and old and new business dispensed with. Miss Pauline Outlaw gave interesting highlights of Institute Day at Chapel Hill enjoyed by A.U.W. and Institute for Young People.

Mrs. Herman Outlaw directed the program for the afternoon. The meeting closed with prayer by the president. A delightful social hour was enjoyed while the hostess assisted by Mrs. M. W. Simmons served delicious ice cream and cookies to the 12 members present.

Pleasant View

Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Kelly visited Mr. and Mrs. Minnie Holt who is ill, on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Grady of Elizabethtown spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ned Grady. Mr. Grady returned with them for a visit.

Miss Jo Joyce Grady of Goldboro is spending her vacation at home.

Mr. Dave Howard of Warsaw is visiting his niece Mrs. Authur Grady.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Leffers of Ft. Wayne, Ind. spent the week end with her mother Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Oates. Mrs. Leffer will remain with them for a while.

Gaston F. Grady and Edith Byrd entertained the young people of the community Saturday evening. After the party all enjoyed a show at Mt. Olive.

Well, most of you know by now that we lost one of our young ladies last week. Yes, Miss Ruth Teachey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Teachey, was married to Mr. Douglas Townson of the Garner's Chapel Community. From all of us to you "Good Luck".

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Mewborn visited Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Mewborn Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Grady are spending the week with their parents Mr. and Mrs. J. H. O'Neil in Jackson, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grady and Mr. and Mrs. Durham Grady visited Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Oates Sunday afternoon.

Most of the farmers around here have started to barn their tobacco. After the rain last week they rolled up their sleeves, so for about six weeks they will be housing the "weed".

"DUPLIN STORY"

CONTINUED FROM FRONT to have his revised script completed in a few days and the copy will go to the mimeographer who will make copies for the actors.

Again this year approximately 1000 people will have a direct hand in the showing with the actual cast counting nearly 800. Those who saw it last year can still feel their pulse beat when they recall Molly Bright, played by Edith Hinant, who a few months ago changed her name to Mrs. Edith Hinant Dickerson, singing "Yes, Indeed" with her strong soprano voice. Mrs. Dickerson, a Negro School Teacher in Duplin, almost stole the opening phase of the story, so typical of Duplin and Eastern Carolina at this time of year, the tobacco housing scene. It is so realistic that those of us who have helped with "puttin in tobacco" feel we are actually in the tobacco field.

Mrs. Dickerson, along with all other leading characters are expected to play their same roles. Last spring a survey was made of those in the cast last year and approximately 80 per cent stated they would like to be in it again. Interest is mounting throughout the county and by pageant time Duplin will be all a-stir as if we were celebrating our 200th Birthday again.

What, with "The Lost Colony," "Common Glory," and "Unto These Hills", attracting attention in North Carolina throughout the summer, we know we have something just as good, just as thrilling, and just as historical as they have. In fact we'll challenge anyone to show us a scene that is as spine tickling as the one where the British Red Coats come marching over the hill during America's struggle for independence. When cannons roar, the men retreat, and smoke of battle clears away and quiet again settles on Colonial North Carolina, the observer relaxes in his seat with a sigh of relief. Yes, we'll challenge any of them, including Broadway, to outdo the battle scenes. These scenes are not on a stage, but actually take place in a huge field to the side of the main stage. You actually see the battle. In fact, the "Battle of Rockfish" scene was agreed on by everyone who saw it as being worth the price of their ticket, and time to come to the Hampton D. Williams Amphitheatre to see. "The Duplin Story" is being presented a second time because lina has demanded it. Its production is on a non-profit basis, but should a profit accrue, it will be turned over to the schools of Duplin County. Those who are giving their time and money in the production are doing so because they believe here in Duplin we have something that may live as long as "The Lost Colony" and other North Carolina pageants.

Park Naturalist

CONTINUED FROM FRONT the park does not have a naturalist. It is not necessary to make appointments for guided study trips but interested groups may do so by writing "Naturalist", Cliffs of Neuse State Park, Rt. 2, Seven Springs, N. C.

In addition to the naturalist, the park has now employed a refreshment stand operator, Dick Mumford, from Pikeville. Picnickers and sightseers may purchase cold drinks at regular prices on any afternoon, the stand remaining open as long as daylight permits. The refreshment stand also carries cigarettes, cigars, candy, chewing gum, paper plates and cups in addition to a line of souvenir novelties.

M. F. Westbrook Rites Wednesday Buried At Hebron

Moses F. (Modie) Westbrook, 80, Duplin County native, died in a Kinston hospital at 9:25 Monday. The funeral was held from Garners Funeral Home at 11 a.m. on Wednesday with interment in the Hebron Presbyterian Church Cemetery near Pink Hill. The Rev. N. P. Farrior, Presbyterian minister of Pink Hill officiated. Members of Kenansville Masonic Lodge were in charge of the burial rites. Mr. Westbrook was a son of the late Jesse and Hester Kornegay Westbrook of this county and was a member of the Hebron Church. He was a former chairman of the Duplin County Board of Commissioners for eight years. A member of the Board of Education for a time and was sales supervisor of the Kinston tobacco market for several years. He served as superintendent of the Hebron Sunday School and was also a member of its board of deacons. During the past few years he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Mark Taylor of Kinston and his son, O. A. Westbrook of Garner. Surviving with these children are another daughter, Mrs. Pat Wright of Kinston; his second wife, Mrs. Sallie Smith Westbrook of Pink Hill; four grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Nannie Fanetam, of Mt. Olive. His first wife was the late Lula Smith Westbrook.

LOST COLONY MAY GET REPLICAS OF OLD ENGLAND

Fort Raleigh on Roanoke Island, which already has the replicas of several early American buildings, may soon get some authentic structures of 16th Century England. This would be in keeping with the historical significance of the site where English-speaking America had its beginning in the New World, according to Inglis Fletcher noted author of novels with an Albemarle region setting.

Mrs. Fletcher's announcement came following the appearance of Norman Cordan, former Metropolitan Opera baritone and Secretary Oscar Chapman of the Department of the Interior as guest performers in the show this week.

The Truman cabinet member speaking to the audience at intermission said, "I would like to see some replicas of old England built here. It would be in keeping with the hopeful future and desire that still lives in the hearts of the American people." His statement was not considered a commitment, but it was a strong indication that Ft. Raleigh may soon get improvements from the Department of the Interior as it is one of the National Historic Sites of that governmental agency.

What is true, simple and sincere is most congenial to man's nature.
