Miss Price Weds Hugh Wells, Jr. In Church Rites

The wedding of Miss Catherine Price, daughter of Mrs. Ray Starnes of Charlotte, and Hugh Wells, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wells of B. F. Grady, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Advent Christian Church in Charlotte, Rev. V. L. Harrison, pastor, officiated.

The background for the ceremony was of southern huckleberry, clematis, palms, and fern, interspersed by candelabra holding white tapers.

W. P. Babcock, organist, and Mrs. Hugh Thompson, vocalist, presented the wedding music. Mr. Babcock played "To A Wild Rose," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "Indian Love Call." Mrs. Thompson sang "Because," "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Lord's Prayer." The wedding march from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was played for the processional, and Mendelssohn's march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was used for the recessional. As the benediction Mrs. Thompson sang "O Perfect Love."

Bill Price gave his sister in marriage, and Hunter Wells, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Alfred and Donnie Wells.

The bride wore a dress of imported embroidered organdy fashioned with a fitted bodice, low neckline, and full skirt.

She wore a silk fascinator with sheer shoulder-length veil and carried a miniature white Bible topped with a hybrid orchid showered with white satin streamers and maline. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom, and sheer nylon mitts.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Thompson, maid of honor, wore an orchid organdy dress fashioned as that of the bride and carried a nosegay of mixed flowers tied with multi-colored ribbons.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Later the couple left for a wedding trip to the mountains. Upon their return they will make their home at 2113 Green St. in Charlotte. For traveling the bride wore an aqua Palm Beach suit with white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Bain High School and is now assistant to Thomas J. Holton.

The groom was graduated from Chinquapin High School and attended Presbyterian Junior College and N. C. State College. He served two years in the U. S. Navy, and now holds a position with General Dyestuffs Corporation.
