

Combination Hunting And Fishing Licenses Go On Sale August 7th

The 1950-51 hunting licenses and combination hunting and fishing licenses go on sale throughout North Carolina on August 1, according to Clyde P. Patton, Executive Director of the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission.

Combination licenses and hunting licenses for the past fiscal year expired July 31. The new licenses have been distributed to license dealers throughout the State, and copies of the official regulations will be available at the time new licenses are purchased. All county

Game and Fish Protectors have been instructed to have their license agents furnish a copy of the regulations and abstract of the game laws to each purchaser of a license. This is a part of the Commission's intensified educational program.

Hunting licenses and fishing licenses purchased separately cost $3.10 each, whereas combination licenses sell for $4.10, thus giving sportsmen a saving of $2.10 by purchasing the combination license.

God Give Us Men!

Lesson for August 6, 1950

THERE ARE WAYS of saying "No" without using that short and ugly word. A writer in the Christian Century has pointed out three of these. One is to say, "This is not the time." Another is to say, "I agree with you in principle, but..." and the third is to say, "I am with you—but don't quote me!" What we need nowadays is men who are willing to stand up and be quoted, quoted for good and against evil. All men are "against sin" in general; it takes a braver man to be against it in particular.

Dr. Foreman

In a large town in Kentucky recently the grand jury indicted the whole police force. In the course of the jury's report they said they had heard a good deal of testimony about rotten places and practices in and around town, but most of those who had come before the grand jury had said, in effect, "Don't quote me." It is hard to make any indictment stick if people who know damaging facts are not willing to come out in broad daylight and testify. So abuses go on and on, all because every one is too shy to point an accusing finger.

Man of Courage

WE NEED more men like the prophet Elijah. God providentially removed from him all the usual temptations to keep his mouth shut. He had no investments to protect—all he had he wore on his back, and that was not much. No family depended on him. He did not represent any institution. He could speak his mind—without worrying about the effect it might have on investors, or his family, or some institution. Of course Elijah had Elijah to look after; but for himself he was not afraid in the least. Lone figure though he was, he stood out against lies and exploitation in varied forms. He stood out against popular opinion, and that is not easy for any normal man.

So many thousand votes or voices must be right we think. But Elijah did not think so. He knew that "one man with God is a majority." He stood out against official opposition; this was more dangerous still. The crowd's favor or dislike comes and goes, the crowd soon forgets; but a tyrant like Ahab (and still more like Jezebel) neither forgives nor forgets a man who has stood up to contradict and condemn him. Then Elijah stood out against the most difficult enemy of all; organized religious leadership, that is, the false prophets. Even in the Christian era that organized church has sometimes taken the wrong side of some important questions and persecuted men who were on the side of right. But church tyranny is at least as bad as any other kind, and it takes a brave man to face it.

In Our Time

THANK GOD for all the Elijahs! Every generation has seen a few, and we have them in our time. They have not all had the spectacular success of the original prophet of Carmel, but they are here all the same.

In public life one thinks of these senators—and your state is fortunate if it has even one who stands up for persons against profits, for the advantage of all against benefits for a few, true representatives of the people as against invested privilege.

In church life we need more men like that pastor down in Alabama who was recently "fired" because he would not take his stewards' advice and use more "tact" in his sermons against sin in general and drinking in particular. It takes courage to do such things. And Elijahs are needed in the business and professional worlds, not only in the pulpit.

Is Liquor a Sacred Cow?

THE LIQUOR traffic alone, to name but one public evil, is doing our fellow-citizens a vast amount of damage. What other business makes necessary wards in hospitals to cure its customers? But how few men will stand up and be quoted for the fatal Newspapers will editorialize against gambling when they won't against liquor; gambling doesn't advertise but liquor does. Count the big newspapers or magazines which for the benefit of their readers are willing to go without the income which liquor advertising produces.

State College - Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. How can I keep my turkeys from picking other birds?

A. Feather picking is a mild form of cannibalism. Ample floor space and providing oats in the feed appears to be helpful. Baled legume hay, fresh cabbage and other such materials placed in the pen seems to curb this vice.

Debeaking, cutting or burning off the outer one-fourth inch of the upper mandible will control this habit. Another way is to fit a hog ring into the nostrils without penetrating the septum and allowing it to swing between the upper and lower parts of the beak is also effective. None of these methods interfere with eating or drinking.

Q. Can peppers be frozen? A. Yes. Ruby King of Pimiento should be used. They should be washed, halved or sliced and sealed for two minutes. Then cool, pack and freeze.
