"A LOOKIN' UP"

CONTINUED FROM FRONT

I have been thinking for some time that if we of all the churches in Faison could find a little plot of land on a hillside suitable for a small amphitheatre what a wonderful thing it would be if the members of the various churches could get together and build an open-air church. It wouldn't take much money if we would all pitch in and do the work.

There is no end to the possibilities of such a project. Instead of Sunday morning services in the summer at the various churches we could hold union twilight services each Sunday afternoon. I have lived in towns where such was the practice and they certainly were interesting and large crowds attended each Sunday afternoon.

The men of the town could do all the necessary clearing and building and the ladies do the planting of flowers and shrubs. Such a place could be turned into the garden spot of the town.

The usefulness of the amphitheatre could go beyond the union church services each Sunday afternoon. Easter morning services could be held there second to none. Combined choirs and peoples of the various churches could really put on something worth seeing and hearing. Perhaps summer church plays could be put on there and there is nothing that will more quickly attract people to the churches and their work than these.

I don't think this is too great a project for a town the size of Faison and if the clubs, made up of various members of the four churches, will take the initiative I believe we can put it across. I have approached several people in town regarding my idea and they have all expressed interest.

If enough people will express interest in such a project we can have a call meeting and appoint a committee to locate a plot suitable for an amphitheatre and contact the owner about buying. We can again get together and plan building it for next summer. It couldn't cost much and would certainly be something worth while.

Little known fact: Prisons Supervisor J. G. Sawyer (asked to resign) and Maintenance Foreman A. W. Livengood (fired) both were associated with J. B. Moore in WPA days. And both were brought into the prison department when he took over as director. Well-known fact: all three are gone.

It was learned this week that numerous prison camp employees are under the watchful eye of the SBI. If reports prove correct, the "ex-prison department employee" population is due for a nice increase.

One concrete result of the visit to Washington by Gov. Scott and members of his staff: Two days after their return, Highway Commission Chairman Henry Jordan was approached by a man who offered delivery of a boatload of cement to a North Carolina port to be used as a stockpile in the event the cement supply becomes more critical.
