"OKAY DEAR... YOU WIN! I'LL BUY YOU THE WHEELBARROW!"

World Evangelist

Lesson for September 24, 1958.

IT IS not only the ignorant and the prejudiced who claim that Protestant Christianity did not start till the 17th Century. Even Protestants can make this mistake. The real founder of Protestantism is Saint Paul. What the Reformers of the 17th Century did was to re-discover Paul. The doctrines of Protestantism are not some peculiar invention of Luther, not a vagary nor a quirk, still less a heresy; they are simply Christianity according to Saint Paul. If for no other reason, Paul is one of the most important figures in Christian history, perhaps in all history.

The World is My Parish

THERE is another reason why Paul is important. It is not too much to say that if it had not been for him, there never would have been any Christianity, as a world-religion. It would have died as a Jewish sect.

What the history of the world would have been in that case, God only knows. But although our so-called Christian era is still not exactly Christian, it is vastly different from what it would have been if Christianity had been no more (say) than Essenism, a word you would have to look up in the encyclopedia, an antique and forgotten sect.

To many un-named Christians, but to Paul more than any other one person, we owe the fact that ours is a religion with a world-outlook.

First Great Missionary

PAUL was not a typical Christian any more than George Washington was a typical American. To this day, missionaries can hardly be called typical Christians. They are far too few, and their quality is far too high, to stand for the "average" Christian—who in fact does not even understand missionaries, as a rule. Nevertheless, the missionary now as in Paul's time is the burning-point of Christianity, the front-line patrol, the cutting edge. . . . What made Paul a missionary makes missionaries today.

One thing was his vital experience of Christ. Jesus, for Paul, was not somebody he had read about in a book, he was not a statue on an altar or a picture in a museum, he was not a definition in a dictionary. Jesus was Someone he had met on the Damascus Road.

Second, Paul loved people, all kinds of people. (After his conversion, not before!) He could see in the most pitiful little morsel of a slave-girl, the meanest jailer, a sister or brother for whom Christ died, as he put it. Nowadays you sometimes hear church people saying about others outside the church, "They're not our kind. They wouldn't make good Presbyterians (or Baptists or whatever the speaker's church may be)." It never occurred to Paul that anybody would not make a good Christian, if only Jesus Christ got hold of him.

Furthermore, Paul had a world-horizon. There are hole-and-corner Christians and there are world-Christians. Paul was a world-Christian. He "thought big." To this day, the wide-horizon, big-thinking Christians are either out there on the mission field, somewhere, or they are supporting missions with all their might.

Bibles Across the Sea

WHERE is one thing which you, I reader of these lines, can do right now, if you have some of this world-vision. This week, today, you can help in a great missionary enterprise which is not confined to any denomination.

Over in Japan, General MacArthur says, Christianity and the Bible are the dykes holding up the flood of Communism. Dr. Shiro Murata, a Japanese Christian, also says: "The eyes of Japan are fixed on two books. One is Das Kapital by Karl Marx. The other is the Holy Bible. Japan is at the crossroads."

A campaign is being conducted this year to send to Japan five million Bibles and Testaments. The Japanese can read; they have the largest non-Christian population in the world reading one language. Through your local church, or even by yourself, you can contribute to this great undertaking to bring the Bible to a people sorely needing it.

Pleasant View

By: GASTON F. GRADY

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Griffen of Snow Hill visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady Sunday.

Most of the people of the community went to see the Duplin Story last week. I think everyone enjoyed it. I enjoyed being in the Story again this year. Although I had but a small part I think that is something that I will never forget, even if I live to be 100 years old. The thing I like most about a thing of this sort is that you get to meet so many new people that live right in your county. One of the most lively people I met was Charles Hales of Warsaw. He has such a wonderful gift of "gab." I remember other names such as: Betty, Eloise, and Pat; O, we don't want to forget Carol, how could we. That is enough of this for now. Here comes Pleasant View . . .

the latest farm and homemaking techniques by some 20 specialists in various phases of the extension program. The conference was designed to put latest agriculture research into the county program for 1951 that might interest farmers and homemakers of the county. Farmers should welcome some of the developments such as improved weed control in corn and pastures, new varieties of disease resistant tobacco and introduction of Arlington oats, whose yield often tops 100 bushels per acre. Specialists pointed out the need for better housing for Negro farm families, and pointed to several demonstrations being conducted in housing for low income groups in several counties. The agents also welcome any suggestions from the farm families themselves.
