Traffic Recipe

Chicago -- Recipe for traffic tragedy: mix alcohol and gasoline -- and steer!

The National Safety Council says that in one out of every four fatal traffic accidents in 1949 the driver or a pedestrian was reported to have been drinking.

Also that one out of every seven drivers in fatal accidents who were violating traffic laws was driving while under influence of alcohol.

SPORTS AFIELD

Did you realize that almost every wild hickory, walnut, butternut, pignut and kingnut in this country was planted by a squirrel? Some scientists believe it was squirrels which speeded up the reforestation of all parts of North America swept bare of life by the great ice sheets of the glacial age. And of all the squirrels, the gray is the most efficient tree planter.

The life of the gray squirrel usually begins at the end of winter when mating is at its height. Four or five young are born about 44 days after breeding. The babies don't open their eyes for 30 days, and are utterly helpless for eight or nine weeks. They are ridiculously short, their ears seemingly nonexistent, and the tails give little promise of future beauty.

All this time they see nothing of their father. In the first place there is nothing he could do to be useful. In the second place, the male is by this time pursuing another mate. This is not repeated by the first; his promiscuous behavior merely puts more little squirrels in the world, and who would object to that?

When a gray squirrel is big enough to walk and balance himself, his mother puts him away from her and he has to go and look for his own breakfast. Then the fun begins. And nature has fitted him superbly to enjoy it. He has big bright eyes, and a nose that can smell anything good to eat. His forepaws are almost as mobile and cleverly manipulated for handling things as a raccoon's; his hind legs are coiled springs for jumping. And finally nature has pinned on him that preposterous tail.

Once in a squirrel's lifetime an impulse stronger than love may

1916 Grand Opening Of 1950 McLellan's Store IN KINSTON

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22nd at 9:00 A.M.

THE MANAGER:

"It's really your store . . . that's right . . . you folks have made this store! More than that, it was your acceptance of this first store ever to bear the McLellan sign that encouraged our founders to carry McLellan values and service into 29 states. As a tribute to your sustained patronage, and to Kinston's future, we've built this new modern store. But the only fancy thing about us is the quality of the merchandise and, of course, we will have plenty of wonderful opening specials."
