Infant Jack Morrison Sends Greetings

Fri. Sept. 22, 1950 To all the Duplin friends of my Mom and Pop - Greetings - from the Greenbrier Valley Hospital, Ronceverte, W. Va.

I, Jackson Davis Morrison, first saw the light on the 15th of September about 30 minutes after my Dad brought Mom to the hospital. Ever since then I've been hearing them saying such nice things about the folks in Duplin that I thought I'd drop you this little note and tell you about myself. As you might guess, I'm another red head, weigh 8 pounds and 10 ounces, have one dimple and they say I look like Joe Boy did when he was my age.

We can lie here and watch Joe Boy go back and forth to school and keep a close tab on my Daddy's going and coming. We also like to look out at the church against its background of majestic mountains, every night the "Jesus Window" lights up to remind all who pass by of that wonderful love and saving grace which is free to all who ask. (Gracious, I sound like my Daddy already!)

By the way, he sure seems happy about the way everything has turned out. But I kind of suspect that part of his big grinning is due to the fact that his new bird dog also arrived last week!

My grandmother is mighty happy too, cause Daddy bought a 2-year-old country ham last week! My cute little sister seems quite pleased over my arrival but that Joe Boy says "just another one to tend to!" He says he's at least glad I'm a boy, tho!

The nurse has just come in so I know it's time for me to go visit my mother for about half an hour. So goodbye and love to all of you. Jackie.

Industry Teams Up With Farm Youth In 4-H Club Programs

Chicago - (Special) Ten years ago a handful of industrial concerns were supporting 4-H Club work nationally. Today -- through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work -- nearly 50 industries, businessmen and women are backing up their faith in two million 4-H Club members with incentives valued at $400,000 annually. This amount is distributed for awards and leader training funds in 4-H programs which range from canning to tractor maintenance.

The money is considered a sound investment in the nation's future by encouraging these rural boys and girls who have pledged their head, heart, hands and health to make the best better," declared Guy L. Noble, director of the National 4-H Committee, a non-profit citizen's group.
