State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. I have twin calves, one a male and one a female. Will the female breed?

A. In about ten cases out of 11, she would not be expected to breed.

Q. What items should be included in a first aid kit for the farm home?

A. A first aid kit might well contain the following: rolls of adhesive tape of various widths, sterile cotton, swabs and sticks, sterile white cloth or bandages and tourniquets, tube of sterile white vaseline for minor burns, scissors, boric acid, tincture of benzoin, an accepted antiseptic, aromatic spirits of ammonia.

A good first aid kit need not be expensive or difficult to provide. The National Safety Council suggests that first aid kits be located in the house, barns, shops, and machine sheds. Small kits might well be included as standard equipment on the tractor, combine and other equipment.

State College Hints To Home Makers

Q. Is the sting of a European hornet unusually painful?

A. Yes. The sting is different from that of a honeybee, yellow jacket, or white-faced hornet. Not only is the pain sharper, but it persists for several hours, diminishes very gradually, and leaves a tender area around the point of puncture.

A Durham County farmer, stung on the fingers when he attempted to pick European hornets off a nest in a tobacco barn, had to enter a hospital for treatment.

RUG REPAIR

Want to save money underfoot? A good way to do it is to mend rugs and carpets at the first sign of wear.

Mending a rug often is a tedious and time-taking job, but it pays good returns, especially when rug prices are up. To make the job easier, plan for it in advance, first by reading up on the best methods, then by assembling materials and equipment needed.

Before beginning repairs, clean the rug well. If the rug is washable, tub it gently so that washing will not enlarge the damaged spot. Never beat or shake rugs or carpets, especially those needing mending.

Choose a bright day for the job for ease on the eyes. If the rug is too heavy to lift onto a table, sit on a low stool with a cushion with the back against a wall to relieve strain. You may slip a small box under a heavy rug to raise it from the floor and make it easier to get at the damaged place.

Anyone who is sensitive to dust should wear a mask over nose or mouth.

Robert P. Raiford Dies On Wednesday

Word has been received here of the death of Robert P. Raiford, 75, former Warsaw resident, who died in a hospital at Kalamazoo, Mich., on Wednesday afternoon. He had been in declining health for many years.

Funeral services will be held in Warsaw at 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 3 and interment will be in Pinecrest Cemetery. Further details of funeral arrangements were unavailable Friday morning.

Mr. Raiford was born on December 15, 1875, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Raiford of Wayne County. He farmed near Warsaw for many years, moving from Duplin to Kinston. He lived there for a number of years, operating a store with the late W. H. Davenport in Deep Run during part of that time. He left Kinston about ten years ago and had been living in Michigan for some time.

Surviving are two sons, W. Robert Raiford of Kinston, and Ralph

Paint Made in Roof Colors For Better Exterior Styling

Paint-manufacturers have begun to make paint in the same colors used for roofing, making possible exact color harmony for the exterior of a home.

Frederic H. Rahr, head of the Rahr Color Co., New York, explains that home-owners will be able to select coordinated colors for the exterior in the same way they have been able to choose color-coordinated draperies, rugs, slip covers and other interior furnishings.

Rahr says paint manufacturers have been influenced by the vogue for roofs covered with colored shingles. More than 80 percent of all the roofing being used in the United States is asphalt roofing, in which the greatest variety of solid and blended colors is available.

Roof Takes Lead "An effective procedure in color styling is to use matching colors for the roof and for smaller parts of the dwelling," the color consultant says. "Depending upon the individual house and the effect desired, it might be desirable to match the roof with paint on the trim, porch or lawn furniture, window shutters or the front door, to name a few possibilities. Up to now, this has been difficult to do. Mixing paint to get an exact match with an existing color is beyond the ability of the home handyman unless he has had an exceptional amount of experience, but with matching paints that are factory-mixed there will be nothing to it."

Because of the roof's prominence, it "takes the lead" in any exterior color plan. Rahr says the roof color first and then other colors to suit something. The color consultant says that matching the roof to a home color is a bright color serve as a guide. Remodel With Color Interest in exterior color began before the war, but it did not gain widespread impetus until the postwar home-building boom. Since the war, color consciousness has been stimulated by the popularity of informal architecture, such as ranch house design, with its lack of traditional restrictions. Rahr says exterior color often is the easiest and most economical means of fixing up an older house. A new roof of asphalt shingles and intelligently chosen paint frequently are all that is needed, he adds.

For new homes, color can be used to distinguish a house from nearby homes, while, at the same time, keeping it generally in character with the neighborhood.

Universalists Holding State Convention In Rocky Mount; J. A. Ward Opens Meet

The Universalist Convention of North Carolina, Inc. will be called to order by its president, Mr. James A. Ward of Rose Hill for its 45th annual session as it meets in Rocky Mount September 29, 30, and Oct. 1st. In addition to the Convention meetings, the Association of Universalist Women with Mrs. W. C. Grady of Kinston presiding, and the Universalist Youth Fellowship, led by Miss Peggy Ward of Rose Hill, will conduct their annual program.

Rev. John H. Morgan, minister of the Unitarian Church in Charlotte will deliver the Occasional Sermon Friday night on the topic, "Total Love vs Total War". On Friday afternoon, Mr. Morgan will conduct a discussion at a meeting of all the men. Mr. Morgan received his degree from Harvard Divinity School. He has been active in Community Church work as well as serving as the minister of Unitarian Churches before going to Charlotte in 1948. In addition to his current pastorate, he is serving as President of the Thomas Jefferson Unitarian Conference and an active member of the Unitarian Fellowship for Social Justice and the Unitarian Pacifist Fellowship.

Dr. Lee M. Brooks, Professor of Sociology and Anthropology and Chairman of the Department of Sociology at U. N. C., will lead the Convention in a discussion on Saturday morning on the topic "World Problems and the Church". Dr. Brooks will also address a meeting of the Youth Fellowship in the afternoon. Dr. Brooks has written many books and traveled to various parts of the globe in the course of his profession.

Dr. Raymond Adams, Professor of English at the University of North Carolina will speak to the men on Saturday upon the topic, "A Feasible Plan for Universalism in North Carolina Within the Present Resources". Dr. Adams will also conduct a devotional service on Saturday morning. As well as doing outstanding work at the University, Dr. Adams has found time in past years to conduct services in Universalist and Unitarian churches in both North and South Carolina.

Rev. Phillip R. Giles, Director of the Unified Appeal of the Universalist Church of America with headquarters in Boston, Mass., will address a meeting of the Association of Universalist Women, serve as toastmaster for a Banquet to be held Saturday night and preach the final Convention sermon on Sunday morning. Mr. Giles received his theological degree from Tufts College, Medford, Mass. He has served as minister in Universalist Churches in Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. During World War II, Mr. Giles served as Chaplain in the U. S. Army Air Forces. His work took him to the center of the fighting in Australia, New Guinea, Manila, P. I., and Tokyo, Japan.

Other Convention speakers include: Rev. L. C. Prater, minister of Outlaw's Bridge Universalist Church, Seven Springs; Rev. Ora W. Eads, minister of Red Hill Universalist Church, Clinton; Rev. Maurice W. Cobb, graduate student, U. N. C., Chapel Hill; Mrs. S. V. Wilkins from Rose Hill; and Miss Virginia Ward from Wilmington. The Universalist Church in Rocky Mount is host to the Convention. Rev. W. H. Skeels, minister emeritus, is its advisory chairman. Delegates from all Universalist and Unitarian Churches throughout North Carolina will attend this Convention. Everyone is welcome to come and join in the program and business sessions.

Sampson County Hospital To Be Dedicated Sunday, October 8th.

The date for the formal dedication of the Sampson County Memorial Hospital has been changed from Sunday, Sept. 24 to Sunday, Oct. 8, according to James DeVane, Hospital Administrator. Reason for the change is that shipment of beds and other equipment has been delayed and will not arrive prior to that date. DeVane regretted the date had to be changed, but it was thought that the hospital should be fully equipped before the dedication.

Many distinguished speakers, representing the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, the Duke Endowment, the Sampson County Board of Commissioners, and other organizations instrumental in the construction of the hospital, will be on hand for Dedication Day. There will be band music by the Edwards Military Institute Band, and immediately following the ceremony the hospital will be thrown open to the public for inspection. There will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the front door of the hospital. The ribbon will be cut by Miss Leona Boswell, Director of Nurses.

When the License for operating the hospital is presented to the Board of Trustees of the Hospital, the Sampson County Board of Commissioners will be released of all control in the operation and management of the institution and full control will be vested in a 15 person board of trustees, composed of citizens from all parts of Sampson County.

Full details of the program for Dedication Day will be released next week.

made her home and Gordon Carlton of Charlotte; seven grandchildren; one brother, Floyd Strickland of Warsaw; three sisters, Mrs. W. W. Brown of Goldsboro, Mrs. L. W. Kirk of Norfolk, and Mrs. Ed Smith of Pink Hill.

P. T. A. TO MEET MONDAY EVE. 7:30

The Kenansville PTA will meet Monday, October 8, at 7:30 p.m. at the high school. Mr. O. P. Johnson will speak on "Education in Duplin County". A reception for our teachers will follow the meeting. Be sure to attend if you're a parent or friend of the school.

McLellan's Reopen

The completely remodeled McLellan's store in Kinston officially reopened with a special ceremony at 9:00 A. M. Friday, September 22nd.

The special ceremony was broadcast over WFTC with Carl Caudill, announcer, as master of ceremonies. Present for the occasion were W. L. Nolan, first manager of the store, now a member of the Board of Directors of McLellan's and R. A. Robbins, also a former manager. The present manager of the store is George Turner.

The store actually opened with the cutting of the ribbon with gold scissors by Mr. Nolan.

The McLellan chain now is formed of 231 stores in 29 states. The Kinston store is the first store of the chain. The store employs 60 persons and carries over 9,000 items. It is one of the most modern in the country.

LETTER FROM OUR READERS

154 Ridge Ave. Elkin, N. C. 9-25-1950

Mr. J. Robt. Grady Dear Sir: A friend in Warsaw has sent me several copies of "Duplin Times" and I enjoyed reading them so much I want you to please send it to me for the next few weeks.

"The Duplin Story" must have been a wonderful success. Since I'm away up here in the western part of N. C. I love to keep up with the Duplin news, especially the Warsaw news for I once lived there. Wish you would print more Clinton news as my only sister Mrs. Jamie Grady and a lot of friends live there. I like Surry County and Elkin just fine but, like a local country better.

ing the amendments for the benefit of the voters.

The amendments were approved by the General Assembly of 1949, to be submitted to the people.

Attorney General Harry McMullan said today that he had instructed members of his staff to prepare an explanation of each amendment, so that all citizens may have a clear idea of the purpose and scope of the proposed changes.

Secretary of State Thad Sure said today that he had been in conference with Attorney General McMullan on the matter, and his office was prepared as soon as the clarifying statements are completed to have them prepared and printed in pamphlet form. He then will distribute them to officeholders and citizens in every county of the State.

It is expected that the pamphlet will be ready in the next few days and persons desiring copies are requested to make application of the office of the Secretary of State.
