Jack Worley Seeks Old Family Bible

Jack Worley of Pink Hill wrote the Times the following letter.

Maybe someone can help Jack out. If so please communicate with him.

Keansville, N. C.
Mr. Bob Grady, Editor
The Duplin Times

One of my ancestors, Nicholas Worley, Grandpa No. 8, I believe, came to Sarecta from Yorktown, Va., sometime between 1738 when the last Worley births and deaths were recorded in St. Charles Parish, York County, Va., and 1749 when Duplin became a county. It was Mrs. Woodrow Jackson and children who returned Sunday.

Miss Sarah Ann Maxwell of Richmond and Miss Emileigh Maxwell and Harold Latham of Norfolk were guests of the H. E. Maxwells for the week end.

Some of the Lawhorns, Millers, Marshalls, Smiths or Grady's, who married Worleys, perhaps have the Worley Bible that was brought from Yorktown. I sure would like to see it.

Suppose you ask for a registration of all Duplinites family names who are older than the county.

Sincerely,
Jack Worley.

It would be interesting to have a list of all the families now residing in Duplin or adjoining counties whose ancestors were here before the formation of the county.

The Virginia church records show Nicholas, son of Edward and Mary Worley, was baptised March 1708. His son, Thomas, who came with him to Duplin, was baptised March 19, 1723. I am now searching for the records of the St. Gabriel's Parish in Duplin, that ceased to function during the Revolution, to establish the birth dates of my ancestors between 1733 and the birth of my grandfather, Ted Worley in 1812.

Some of the Lawhorns, Millers, Marshalls, Smiths or Grady's, who married Worleys, perhaps have the Worley Bible that was brought from Yorktown. I sure would like to see it.

Suppose you ask for a registration of all Duplinites family names who are older than the county.

Sincerely,
Jack Worley.

Tips Offered On Kitchen Safety

Activities in the farm kitchen are stepped up with the approach of winter holidays. An accident can easily mar the season unless extra safety precautions are taken.

Miss Alta Lawson, assistant county home demonstration agent, says knives and other cutting tools should be kept out of children's reach. Turning pan handles away from the front of the stove will prevent accidental tipping. Before opening a steaming kettle or roaster, cover the hand with a cloth and life the far side of the cover first. In carving meats, a fork with a knife guard should be used and all cutting strokes should be away from the body.

On final precaution: Apply first aid immediately to any injury no matter how trivial it may seem.
