In Memory Of Our Dear Mother MRS KATE CARROLL

An Angel came late one day, And took one we loved, Yes, took her away: God's will be done, It's true, we know, We knew the end was coming, But it seemed so hard to see her go.

Our hearts are broken, Our homes seem bare, They will never seem natural Since she is not there: She's gone and left us here alone, Her Father called her to a better home, And there she had to go.

Her place no one can ever fill While here on earth we live, The thought - so sweet - "We love her still" In our hearts will not fade away.

She was a loving Mother And a Mother so dear, Oh! how we miss her Since she's not here. Wherever we go, or Wherever we roam, In our hearts always she'll be - And in our homes.

Our memory of her will always be dear Our last sight of her, when yet she was near, She was sleeping so peacefully, She was cold, quiet, and still, She was sweet to her loved ones - This was only God's will.

If she could have spoken to each of us here, I feel sure she would have said: "I've gone without fear - gone home to my Father, In his heavenly land. But you, dear ones, I'll wave my hand. Live in a way that, you too May come and dwell with us here In our heavenly home."

Dear one, sleep on, in your peaceful sleep Although for you here, we have to weep. It is our loss - yet it is your gain: God be with you - 'til we meet again.

Father, make us meek and lowly - From all harm, pray keep us free, Guide us - watch us, in our tollings, Till like her - we go to Thee. Mattie Bell Carroll Austin.
