State College Hints To Home Makers

You'll give and get more pleasure out of Christmas gifts you have made with your own efforts and time. Try it. Try it. Also try making your gifts in a group -- or with the family. Sharing in preparation for Christmas is one of the joys of the season. Many hands make light work with gifts. And it all adds up on the credit side of family fun and gay memories.

Here are a few suggestions: Frilly, dainty aprons; decorated old hand irons make wonderful doorstops or book ends; giant-sized tin cans painted, covered with wallpaper, or your own inimitable designs and shellacked they turn into wonderful waste baskets. Make pot holders, hot mats, cut to fancy shapes from ready quilted chintz. Add monograms if you like.
