Old North State 4-H Winners Named

TOP ranking records in the 1950 National 4-H Dairy Achievement, Frozen Foods and Tractor Maintenance programs have brought state honors to three North Carolina club members.

Cary Franks Martha Cashion Morris Woodall

Achievement in dairy production and management has earned state honors for Cary Franks, 18, of Raleigh in the 4-H Dairy Achievement program. Dairy practices and care of animals learned in the project has given him an understanding of the principles of sanitation and animal health. Cary also has learned the value of teamwork and sportsmanship. A 4-H'er for seven years, the youth developed a fine herd of five cows, and helps his father manage a herd of 143 Holsteins. In 1950 Cary became state champion in Dairy Judging and went to the National Dairy Show at Waterloo, Iowa. He won first place in showmanship at the District Dairy Show and placed eighth at the National 4-H Dairy Judging Contest. Cary has been president and junior leader of his local club and was elected president of the County 4-H organization. Lederle Laboratories has provided Cary's award—a handsome gold watch.

There's no fuss or muss to serve a tasty meal on short notice in the Cashion family of Cornelius, since daughter Martha, 17, has learned how to freeze all kinds of food. Proof that she did a first rate job is not only in the eating, but also in the fact that she won top state honors in the 4-H Frozen Foods program. The award, a handsome gold watch inscribed with her name, was presented by International Harvester. A club member for eight years, Martha has frozen 623 quarts of food. Her 4-H garden supplied most of the 143 quarts of vegetables and 93 of strawberries. She froze over 1,700 pounds of meat. Martha raised the chickens, turkeys, as well as the pork, and a calf supplied her with 365 pounds of beef. The young homemaker won noteworthy honors on her many exhibits, including $500 in cash prizes. Martha is president of the county group and junior leader of her local 4-H Club.

Morris Woodall, 16, of Benson, found that plenty of hard work and diligent study helped him reach the top in the 4-H Tractor Maintenance program. Acquiring the know-how to care for and operate the family tractor meant considerable savings in time and money, too. Morris has been a club member for four years. He attended tractor maintenance school at North Carolina State College. Applying all he learned to the care of his tractor at home, he kept it operating more efficiently. Morris was county winner in tractor maintenance for two years. The youth is president of the county group and serves his local 4-H Club as junior leader. American Oil Co. furnished funds for Morris' National 4-H Club Congress trip to Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA co-operating.

Jay Kornegay of Warsaw visited Mrs. Floyd Heath Monday.

Mr. George Turner was a recent business visitor in Charlotte.

Junlian Grady has returned to New York where he is employed following a few days'at his home in Albemarle, Rt. 1, having been called because of the death of his mother Mrs. Leslie Grady.

R. K. Smit expects to spend the holidays with the Mewbern family in Savannah, Ga.

Misses Annie and Nellie Grady of Kinston, Mr. and Mrs. William Gooding of Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Rogers and Helen Smith of Smith township visited the H. D. Maxwells Sunday.

Highway officers from Kinston and Fayetteville were among those enjoying a barbecue supper given for the men who built the new road from highway 11 by Maxwell mill which was served at the Legion Hut Friday night.

Ike Stroud and Elbert Smith, employed in Clarkton, spent the week end in Pink Hill.

Miss Lula Tyndall was hostess to members of the Tyndall family at a Christmas party at her home Saturday night. Gifts were exchanged and the hostess served fruit cake and coca colas.

technically suited to some certain on the market. Better stick to the purpose or at least to the user's firm belief as to what's suited for that purpose. Just buying somebody a rod would be like buying him a pair of shoes without knowing the size he wears. Find out what he wants.

In reels, too, never were there such good values. Believe it or not, $5.00 will now buy a casting reel that will cast much better and more smoothly than the $50.00 reel of a generation ago. However, there are also some very poor casting reels

As for lines, find out what sort of casting or spinning line the person uses, and get him a new one like it; he probably won't want to change. Don't give anybody a cheap fly line. The line must be of the right size to fit his rod or it's completely useless.
