Learning to Say 'We'

Lesson for July 5, 1951

"We-Feeling"
GOD INVENTED the family; that ... is what is meant by calling it ... a "divine institution." It is part ... of God's plan for each of his chil- ... dren that he shall learn how to live, ... not in a lonely cell as a lonely wolf ... fighting against all comers, but as ... a member of a family.

The family is enormously im- ... portant in many ways. There is room ... to speak of only one of them. Students ... of personality have found a new but ... simple name for something that every ... one ought to have, but not every one ... does have: it is called the "we-feeling."

The lone-wolf type of person ... never really thinks "we." His mind ... divides the world into two armed ... camps: on the one side is "I" and on ... the other side is every one else.

He goes through life assuming ... that nobody is for him, nobody is ... with him, and he in turn is for no- ... body and with nobody. His "hand ... is against every man," as the Bible ... says. Even if he teams up with ... others for a while, he will doubt- ... less cross them if he thinks he will ... make something out of it. He is your ... typical criminal, "anti-social" as ... teachers and sociologists call him.

What It Means to Grow Up
CHILDREN usually begin life ... without much we-feeling, if any. They ... don't naturally share their toys or ... anything else. They grab all they can ... and they don't like to be grabbed ... from. The process of growing up ... really growing up, not merely get- ... ting older and bigger—is a process ... of developing a healthy we-feeling. ... Nearly every one develops this to ... some extent, of course; but when ... some people say "we" they don't ... mean very many.

We have all heard of the man ... who prayed, "Lord, bless me ... and my wife, my son John and ... his wife. Us four, no more. ... Amen!" He doesn't make a very ... good citizen.

But as the "we"-circle grows ... wider and wider we get a more and ... more public-spirited and service- ... minded citizen. Till at the high ... point of the we-feeling we see a ... man like St. Paul who calls himself ... a debtor to all men, or like John ... Wesley who said, "The world is ... my parish," or a modern inter- ... national citizen and statesman such ... as John R. Mott.

How the Family Helps
THE very best place to learn the ... "we-feeling" is in a good family. ... This does not necessarily mean an ... aristocratic family or a wealthy ... one. Many good families, perhaps ... most good ones, are quite poor and ... obscure, as the family of Jesus was.

But whether it is in the city ... or the country, or however large ... or small it may be, the good ... family is one that helps every ... member of it to grow up into a ... healthy adult we-feeling. Living ... in a family teaches the meaning ... of "all for one."

In a good family, all are proud ... of what any one accomplishes; the ... big brothers and sisters are just ... as pleased with little brother's first ... steps as little brother is himself. ... When father wins a prize at the ... state fair, or when mother is elected ... an officer in her church society, ... or when Molly makes the honor roll ... in school or Jim makes the basket- ... ball team, everybody in the family ... is just as pleased as if they them- ... selves had received the honor.

When any one of the family gets ... into trouble, they all stand by to ... help.

The Best Families Are Christian
THE best families are those where ... religion is real; and if we be- ... lieve that the Christian religion is ... the best, then we shall agree that ... Christians ought to have the best ... families.

Remember that in a Christian ... home Christ is the real head ... of the house. If ever any one ... had the "we-feeling" in its ... purest form, it was Jesus. No ... one can ever live long in his ... company and stay selfish.

So in the home where he is not ... only the best-loved guest but the ... true head of the house, every one ... from oldest to youngest learns to ... say "we" and lives it. From such ... homes come the best citizens and ... neighbors.

... charges to the Emperor. He ... therefore determined to convert the ... occasion into an hour of martyrdom, ... and when Jesus refused to an- ... swer him he was mocked and brutalized ... the prisoner and sent him to Pilate ... and according to the Gospel of ... Luke.

SERVICES TO CHILDREN

A list of services offered by the ... Public Welfare Department is too ... long to enumerate. Through there ... are services to those receiving pub- ... lic assistance, there are also ser- ... vices to those who receive no regu- ... latory aid from the agency. This ... latter group takes up a big per cen- ... tage of the number of interviews and ... of the case worker's time. They can ... be grouped into two groups; first, ... services to children, and second, ... services for adults.

A. T. OUTLAW
Clerk, Board of Commission- ... ers for the County of Du- ... plin.

That just man for suffered many ... things this day in a dream because ... of him.

It must have been upon the sec- ... ond hearing because it appears that ... at this time he was insistent that ... the prisoner was guiltless.

He assembled the priests and el- ... ders and announced to them that he ... had tried the person and found him ... faultless and that he had sent him ... to Herod and Herod found no fault ... in him but that in order to satisfy ... them he would compromise and ... chastise him, and release him; but ... they demanded criticism and fi- ... nally he delivered him to the mob ... saying:

"I am innoc-ent of the blood — ... this just person see ye to it." and ... when he had scourged Jesus and ... delivered him to be crucified.

The proceedings against Jesus ... from the standpoint of a lawyer ... were filled with errors and irregu- ... larities from beginning to end, ... the discussion which might be in- ... teresting but would require several ... hours of time, and I shall confine ... this discourse after calling atten- ... tion to a few of the violations of ... the Jewish law.

Both trials took place within a ... space of time variously estimated ... from 1 1/2 to 20 hours. Jesus was ... arraigned in one city before the ... sovereign courts of the Universe. He ... stood charged with blasphemy and ... with high treason against the an- ... nointed monarchs represented by ... the Roman and British Courts.

Blasphemy against Jehovah and ... treason against Thron Caesar.

The pages of this human history ... furnish a record of the trial of Jesus ... Christ.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

Faith of Our Fathers

A Catholic priest ponders religious persecution in England

Father Frederick William Faber was raised a Protestant, but followed his Oxford classmates, John Henry Newman, to the Catholic faith. In his adopted church Faber missed the hymns of Wesley, Watts and Cowper. So he determined to write some of his own. He didn't know one note from another, and he began by composing 14 tunes and writing words to them. In all he was to write 150. In 1849, at age 35, Faber was sent to London to convert an old whisky shop into an oratory for a group of fellow priests. In his spare time he wrote hymns and reviewed the religious history of England.

It had been 100 years since downer Henry VIII had known a hint of debauchery. After 16 years of marriage to his dead brother's wife Catherine, the fat monarch fell for Anne Boleyn, the queen's maid of honor. But Anne sold the king to hands off unless he meant to marry her. So he meant to marry her. But for a king to divorce his queen and marry her maid was as easy as 1+1. Among others, the Pope thought it wasn't proper.

Henry met the situation by dissolving the Roman Church and establishing the Church of England. Opponents were executed by the hundreds to the gallows, the stake and the chop block. Among the loyal Catholics sentenced to the gallows was Statesman and Author Sir Thomas More. But the king benevolently commuted the sentence to the six and the chancellor walked to the block as lightly as if going to a picnic. Monarch of both state and church, Henry married Anne, tied her and had her hanged. In all, he married six times before he roared to death at 46.

It was the memory of the Catholic martyr, especially Sir Thomas More, that was fresh in Father Faber's mind when he wrote for one of the tunes he had composed:

Our fathers, shrouded in prison dark,
Were still to heart and conscience free
How could we be so true to their children's fate,
If they, like them, could die for thee!

Faith of our fathers we will love
Both friend and foe in all our strife
And preach thee, too, as love of their children's fate,
By kindly words and virtuous life.

Faith of our fathers holy faith!
We will be true to thee till death!

homes before any child is placed there and following placement the home is closely supervised by the Department of Public Welfare.

These homes are selected on the basis of their ability to give a child the love, care, and security that he needs to grow into a well rounded adult.

Many children have behavior problems which often react on their social and emotional life. These problems range from the barely noticeable to the very extreme. Many of these children can be helped through psychological and psychiatric services which are offered by any local Welfare Department. Let's take the case of Johnny.

The boy was eight. He had a good home, good parents and plenty of toys and money to spend. Yet Johnny would steal, not because he needed those things because he had the same items at home. The parents tried from every angle to correct this, but he continued to steal at the store, at home, at school. His mother became desperate and requested the services of her local welfare department. Arrangements were made and Johnny was given a psychological examination followed by psychiatric services for a period of several months. Shortly afterwards the father, seemingly remark- able, "I don't know how he (the psychiatrist) has done it but he has." This boy had overcome this problem.

Some cases, however, are held in Juvenile Court. The hearing is held privately and there is no publicity. The Welfare Department has a part in any Juvenile Court hearing. Usually a social study is requested by the court. This study brings to the Judge the circumstances in the home, the school and the commuty, and it gives facts about family relations and friends and it also gives a history of the child's delinquency. The judge studies this before the hearing. He listens to the child's story, to the witnesses, and can make his decision then or later. He may order the child removed from the home. He may commit him to an institution, or he may return him to his parents home and place him on probation. The superintendent of public welfare is the recognized probation supervisor and works with the child during his period of probation. If he serves a term in a training school, he is released on probation and here again the Superintendent is the supervisor.

In cases of separation, neglect, non-support, alcoholism, etc. the children are usually the sufferers. A trained social worker is often able to help parents in cases of this kind to work through their problems and then to help the children. Where this can not be done and the trouble is serious enough the Juvenile Court often awards the custody of such children to the Welfare Department and plans are made for them.

These are only a few of the many, many services offered by a Public Welfare Department to children.

When we have completed the garden planting for the season, we usually have a quantity of seed left over. Will they be any good next spring or should they be discarded now? The longevity or length of life of seeds depends on two main factors — the kind of seed and the conditions under which the seed are stored.

Under the hot, humid conditions in the South, seeds do not retain their vitality as long as they do in cooler climates. Different kinds of seeds vary greatly in their longev- ity. For example, onion, sweet corn and garbanzo seeds retain their vitality for only one or two years; beans and peas for two or three years; cabbage, collard, kale, turnips and mustard, four to five years; okra parsley and salify, about two years; cucumbers, melons, squash, and tomatoes, about five years — all of these under favorable storage conditions, which means a cool temperature and relatively low humidity.

The difficulty in determining if seeds are likely to be good next spring is that we don't know how long the seed merchant has had the seeds before he sold them to us. In many instances, I have found bean seed to be good only for the year that I purchased them. That might mean that the seedsmen has had the seed for at least one year before he sold them to us.

If you do keep seed over until the next year, you should have a germination test made before you
