Plentiful Hogs Listed For July

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods for July features broilers and fryers, Miss Alla Lawson, county home agent for the State College Extension Service, reported this week. Fruits and vegetables on the list for the month include Irish potatoes, locally grown vegetables, watermelons, peaches, plums, lemons, limes and canned applesauce. Other foods listed are honey, canned citrus juices, fish cottage cheese, buttermilk, and peanut butter. Ten Southern states will have a combined peach crop of 17,317,000 bushels this year. UHDA crop reports indicate. Last year, production in these states totaled only 6,103,000 bushels. In South Carolina alone, the 1961 peach harvest is estimated at 6,240,000 bushels. Georgia's crop is placed at 4,410,000 bushels, and North Carolina will harvest approximately 2,772,000 bushels, the home agent said. The California lemon crop this season is the largest in four years. Florida's crop of limes is estimated at 280,000 boxes for this year, against 280,000 boxes last year. Dr. Clyde Gilmore, Route 3 Siler City, is buying some 400 head of grade brabams cattle which will be brought in from Florida. The annual state tanworth swine sale will be held at Lexington on October 26.
