Ye Editor CONTINUED FROM FRONT torical musical based on the play "Anna and the King of Siam" by Margaret Landon. Gertrude Lawrence, the famous British actress, played the leading role, the British school-mistress to the King of Siam. Yul Brynner, a native of the orient, played the King and Dorothy Sarnoff played the role of one of the King's wives. When we saw Miss Sarnoff's name on the program we became excited as we heard her last season in the Community Concerts in Clinton and met her there. I sent her a note and when the final curtain pulled she sent for us to visit her in her dressing room. She is as beautiful as her picture reveals and her voice just as wonderful. She sang a number of songs in the show. She is a very charming woman and married to a doctor. He came in and we were introduced but frankly I have forgotten her name. Miss Sarnoff talked quite a bit about Clinton and this section of North Carolina. She has several tickets for some folks in Clinton who were to see the show the next day. She asked if we could give her the recipe for "Rock Chimney Pie". We had never heard of it. She said she ate some while in Clinton and was very fond of it.

Faison Friday morning after several years illness. She was the daughter of the late Clement and Natalie Atkinson and the widow of Henry B. Shine.

Surviving are one son, Clement R. Shine; Faison, one sister, Fannie Richardson of the home.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to express our appreciation to our friends, and relatives for their kindness shown to us during the illness and death of our husband and father, Mrs. Lewis T. Jones and family.

EDGAR OUTLAW Funeral services for Edgar Outlaw, 69, were held at the home in the Herring Store community, Thursday, Nov. 22 at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Lloyd Vernon, Free Will Baptist minister, officiated. Burial was in the family cemetery near the home.

The deceased was a member of the Free Will Baptist church of Snow Hill, and was a prominent farmer and active in community affairs previous to his illness about six years ago.

Surviving are his wife, the former Nora Kornegay, of Duplin county; three sons, Remus, Eugene and Ronnie of Mount Olive; four daughters, Mrs. Wade Price and Mrs. Joyce Outlaw, both of Mount Olive; Mrs. Roy Torrens, Rockingham and Mrs. Ross Sutton, Goldsboro; neices, nephews and grandchildren.

CLAUDE B. HERRING Funeral services for Claude B. Herring, 72, were held Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter Mrs. J. E. Hill, Route 2, Mount Olive, with interment in Wayne Memorial Park. The Rev. George Lane, Adventist minister officiated.

Mr. Herring, a resident of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., died Thursday in a Newport News, Va., hospital after a short illness.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary C. White, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., four sons, Paul Herring, Mt. Olive, T-Sgt. Claude M. Herring, Fairfield, Calif., Sgt. William C. Herring, Craig Air Field Base, Ala., and J. E. Herring, Newport News, Va., three daughters, Mrs. E. J. Hill, Route 2, Mt. Olive, Mrs. E. C. Sykes, Norfolk, Va., one sister, Mrs. Sam Herring, Mount Olive, 13 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Deceased was formerly a resident of this section.

MRS. NELLIE SHINE Last rites were held for Mrs. Nellie B. Shine Saturday at the home in Faison with the Rev. M. M. Turner of Ingold officiating. Burial was in the Faison cemetery. Mrs. Shine died at her home in

...ous to get the recipe. We said her we would ask our readers if they could send it to us so we can forward it to Miss Sarnoff. So if any of you know the recipe please mail it to us.

Returning to the hotel about midnight we were exhausted, but it would never do, we thought, to visit New York and not take in a night club. The hotel recommended the "Latin Quarter". We struck out and had a rhapsodic table. It was a beautiful show with a top rating orchestra. About 50 beautiful girls in all sorts of dress and costume did almost every kind of dance imaginable and some of as good acrobatic stunts as I have ever seen in Ringling Brothers.

About 2:30 we called it a day. Saturday we decided to take the train for Rahon, Pa., near Philadelphia, and spent the day with Mrs. Grady's sister, Mrs. Dick John. At midnight Saturday we hit the pullman in Philadelphia and slept our way to Wilson and our car. We were glad to see home but had thoroughly enjoyed our trip and had not one regret.

It is above that "South Pacific" is a musical, I'll also say "The King and I" is a musical if you go to New York. I would also like to see it two more times. We recommend the Hotel Statler. — J. R. Grady.

Revival Services At Chinquapin Rev. Charles B. Howard, well-known Baptist minister and teacher of Bible at Campbell College, will conduct a week's meetings beginning December 3, 1951 at the Sharon Baptist church, according to an announcement made today by Rev. N. E. Gresham, pastor.

Mr. Howard has served as pastor of several churches in North Carolina for the past quarter of a century including the College church at Bules Creek. He is a pleasing and forceful preacher and one who places much emphasis upon evangelism. His application of accounts of personal experiences and his illustrations of human interest serve to make his sermons very impressive. This is Mr. Howard's second meeting in the Sharon church. He has many friends in Duplin County who will be glad to see him again.

The public is cordially invited to the services each evening during the week.

Witnesses To Meet Near Beulaville A public discourse, "With All Thy Getting Get Understanding", Sunday afternoon at 2:00 Dec. 9th will climax a special week of activity including the College church at Bules Creek. The discourse, which is free to the public, will be delivered by Francis R. Eldridge, of Hagerstown, Md., the servant of this circuit, at Troy Mercer's home six miles north of Beulaville on highway 111.

The speaker will give another discourse on Tuesday evening Dec. 4th at 8:00 o'clock on the subject, "The Fear of Man" at Blanche Harpers' home who lives on Robert Sheppards farm near Pink Hill. This talk will trace man's fears from childhood to death and will emphasize the difference between worldly fear and the proper fear of Jehovah God. The Sunday talk will answer two vital questions — "How can we get proper understanding?" and why is it most important?

Eldridge will be making his semi-annual visit to the local congregation and the discourses are part of a worldwide free Bible educational campaign with over 400,000 ministers volunteering their time.

Revival At Warsaw A revival meeting will start at the Pentecostal Holiness church in Warsaw on Sunday Dec. 2nd. The evangelist will be the Rev. Joe Russell, Jr., of Clinton. Services will start each night at 7:15. The public is invited to attend. The pastor is Rev. O. D. Lambert of Mt. Olive.
