three County checks were examined. It is, therefore, apparent that if the above statement of Joe Carr is true, the endorsement is a forgery. We also examined the following two County Fund checks furnished us by Mr. F. W. McGowan, County Accountant: Feb. 6, 1950, to Mary Lee Sykes, $48.30; Jan. 1, 1951, to Mildred Pridden, $47.84, total $96.14.

"Mr. McGowan informed us that Dr. G. V. Gooding, Duplin County Health Officer, and in charge of the Health Department, admitted to Mr. McGowan that he, Dr. Gooding, had forged the endorsements and had cashed the checks. We are incorporating these comments concerning these statements that, if true, would indicate forgery of some of the checks that developed during our investigation."

A summary of the financial statements submitted by the addressees:

Health Clinics: total recorded collections from all sources $8,175.30. Of this $6,239.05 came from tonal clinics; $1,033.05 from x-ray clinics and $665.00 from eye clinics.

Shortages totaled $1,215.47 of this $1,002.27 in the tonal clinics; $214.20 in the x-ray clinics and $8.00 in the eye clinics.

By Mr. Carr, who introduced the principal speaker, Honorable R. Hunt Parker, Resident Judge of the 3rd Judicial District of North Carolina. Judge Parker delivered a very informative and inspiring address. The Nominating Committee gave its report and the following officers were elected:

President: Vance Gorin of the Duplin County Bar; vice president, Marion Parrott of the Lenoir County Bar; secretary-treasurer, Earle C. Sanderson of the Duplin County Bar.

Executive Committee: E. Walker Stevens of the Duplin County Bar; Thomas J. White of the Lenoir County Bar; Stewart W. Warren of the Sampson County Bar and R. N. Summerall of the Onslow County Bar. State Councilor John D. Warlick of the Onslow County Bar.

Following adjournment, the members and guests attending the meetings were the guests of the Onslow County Bar at a very delightful supper at the American Legion Hotel. Honorable Herbert F. Seawell, Attorney of Carthage, North Carolina, was the principal after-dinner speaker.

sufficiently interested in the future of the county who will join Meetings will be held quarterly with dinner served. Of the $15 dues $5.00 will go to pay for all meals, $4.00 for the advancement of agriculture, $4.00 for the encouragement of new industries in the county and $2.00 for general expenses.

When it was divided to include agriculture in the program it was studied out that to bring new industry into the county without at the same time making better opportunities for agriculture might possibly do more harm than good. Duplin is essentially agricultural and this must not be overlooked. The overall purpose is to increase the capital income of every family in the county, regardless of the type of work they do. To increase one without helping the other might throw us out of balance, and one thing vital to any progressive community or county is an economic balance.

Attendance at the meeting was small but it was enthusiastic and made up of men from all parts of the county who are sincerely interested in the welfare and future of our county.

Needed Revival

consciousness of God come to be a present and controlling reality in the hearts and lives of those who bear his name, we have nothing with which to meet the world, the flesh and the other foes of God and of righteousness both in the flesh and in the spirit. The Wise Men of Israel said "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Such "fear" can never be present without a consciousness of God's presence.

Reference was made above to the Wesleyans and the marvelous movement set in motion through them. Those who know the facts in the case will recall that it was only after John Wesley's heart was "strangely warmed" in the Aldersgate prayer-meeting in London in May, 1738 that his preaching and his testimony were with converting power and with life-changing results. So great was his power after this experience that the historian Ledley said that had it not been for the influence of John Wesley, England would have had to endure just such an experience as those across the Channel did in the awful French Revolution.

When we again read the Christ's death and resurrection, the present reality, the much-needed revival will be here and our Christian people will go forth as the hosts of the Lord, conquering and to conquer in a way that is sadly lacking today. This is the way the whole matter impresses one who longs and prays that he may see this "much-needed revival" come to pass, and come with power and blessing.

But How Is It To Come?

Suffer four suggestions here: (1) It can come only as God shall become a precious reality to those who believe in Him. (2) There are people who have come into such contact with God that he can and does communicate himself to others through them. When such people are found, they should be used as widely as possible. (3) The good man who taught me Greek many years ago used the word "truth" in an ever private conversation that where years ago told me one day in a "truth" they should be translated, "real" and "reality" respectively. That is to say, the time of shadows, the time of figures of speech, the time of being guided by the pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night is now a thing of the past. In the coming of "the Word" into human flesh (John 1:14), we now have God made available to each of us at first hand. (4) A few months ago I was visiting in Asheville, N. C. and asked my hostess one day whether she realized that she was just then in eternity. "No, Mr. Cullom," she said, "I never thought of such a thing." Then I said, "If I know what the word eternal means it is that which has no beginning and no end. If that be true, are we not as truly in eternity just now as we shall be a thousand years from now?" "I guess we are," she said. And we truly are. It is therefore just as truly our privilege to enter into and cultivate a vital and immediate fellowship with God right here and now as it will be when our bodies are in their graves. If this assurance does not give a special significance to the lives we are living moment by moment, it is hard for me to think what could do so. We are at this very moment in God's eternal school. When we shall have this fact continually and perpetually in mind and govern ourselves accordingly, the much-needed revival, I repeat, will be a reality. The time to begin is the present moment and the place to begin is just where one is.

After the program a social hour was enjoyed in the church parlors which were decorated in evergreens, holly and red candles. A large crystal plate centered with a red candle surrounded by holly, candy canes and Della Robbia mints made an attractive centerpiece for the refreshment table which was covered with an Italian cut work cloth, red lighted tapers tied with

Answer to Question No. 1:

It is a disease of the nervous system that often strikes in the early twenties. Its cause is a medical mystery, and there is no known cure. A new organization, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, is however sponsoring a number of research programs in an effort to unlock the secrets of the disease.

Answer to Question No. 2:

About half the cases recover without any crippling after-effects. One patient in four is left with paralysis that requires prolonged medical care. Others have slight after effects that can be relieved by physical therapy, surgery, or simple corrective devices. Extensive research is under way to try to discover the cause or causes of polio. Until more is known, the best hope of avoiding it lies in maintaining good general health.

Answer to Question No. 3:

Some 70 per cent of the body weight is salt water. We become thirsty when we lose enough water through sweat, excretions, or evaporation to upset the water-salt balance, according to one theory. Another view is that the thirst sensation results from drying of the mucous membrane of the throat.

MRS. NELLE SHEFFIELD PRACTICES GOOD SLOGAN

"Produce, conserve, and use." This slogan has been well carried out by Mrs. Nellie Sheffield of the Island Creek community. According to a recent report by Aleusa Massenberg, Negro Home Demonstration Agent Mrs. Sheffield has canned more than three hundred quarts of food during the past summer. This includes all home grown foods and fruits, vegetables and meats. In addition to canning this great supply of food, Mrs. Sheffield reports that she has sold fresh fruit and vegetables from her garden at the Wallace Market.

Three hundred quarts of food is more than enough for the two members of the family, therefore, Mrs. Sheffield and her husband, Mr. J. A. Fussell, Mrs. Graham Fussell, Mrs. S. E. Butler and Miss Nancy Fussell in serving party sandwiches and cookies.
