Care For Linens

Perhaps you used those lovely, cherished linens — damask cloths, lace cloths, monogrammed napkins, doilies, embroidered and appliqued guest towels, place mats — during the holiday. We hope you've put these linens away properly since the great occasions. Remember the old adage about a stitch in time. Don't forget either to remove any stains you see. It is better to eliminate stains first rather than take the chance of setting stains, as ironing will do.

Brushing Blanket Helps

Brushing the blanket before washing, drying, and after it has dried completely is extremely important in preventing and minimizing shrinkage as well as reconditioning badly felted blankets. Brushing does remove some of the blanket's nap but it will stretch the blanket somewhat, it will make it soft and fluffy and the nap will stand up like new.

For A Safe Kitchen

In the kitchen where most home accidents occur, cleanliness and orderliness are important, both from accident prevention as well as health standpoint. When it is necessary to reach high shelves, a sturdy stool or short stepladder is much safer and far easier to use than boxes or chairs. Disorderly housekeeping, poor furniture arrangement, slippery waxed floors, worn floor coverings, unanchored rugs or carpets, neglected repairs, spilled liquids or food, and dark or obstructed passageways are other fall hazards found in many homes.

This notice will be pleaded in bar of their recovery. All persons indebted to said estate will please make immediate payment.

This 14th day of January, 1952.

N. C. Crop Summary

For the first time in several weeks there were no reports of dry soils, reporters indicated soil moisture conditions as being "OK" to "too wet". Generally, the State's small grain crop is "fair" to "good" with the exception of rice which is mostly fair. Harvesting of most crops is almost complete. Reporters indicate there are still small amounts of corn, cotton, soybeans and lespedeza seed to be harvested in some areas. Reports of farm feed supplies of hay, roughage, and feed grains are about equally divided.

Whom Do You Follow?
THE story of Matthew suggests also that every one is some kind of follower. Some people just "follow their nose"; that is, they just keep on in the routine of their lives, doing today what they did yesterday just because they have the habit of living in this way. Others follow an ambition, others a desire for revenge, others follow pleasure, others attach themselves to a leader (political, social or what not) and follow somebody else's band-wagon.

The tragedy of the Christian church is that although every Christian, or rather every church member, has solemnly promised to follow Jesus Christ, they don't all follow him, by any means. They go right on following habit, or pleasure, or ambition, and they do not ask (as Matthew must have asked) whether these things are such as Christ can bless, or not.

In spite of Jesus' plain statement: You cannot serve God and Mammon (the god of money), people go on serving Mammon in spite of their Christian profession.

About Face!

THE word "conversion" means simply "turning around". It is turning all the way around. It won't do for the "rookie" to turn his face around, or to turn "all the way" or nothing. Jesus our Command-giver, the command "About Face" has been given to many Christians a success!

They are too well loaded with sin and bad people. They are not strong enough to go to rest of the week just the same way. What we need converted 100
