Chinquapin Chats

BY: VIDA MILLOY

Are you one of those persons who sag their shoulders to reflect their moods? Shoulders reveal character, and definitely moods, where they are glad or sad. Worry is the interest one pays on trouble before they have it. Kindness is the key that unlocks the heart. Ability to pray—is worth as much as ability to pay—if not as tricky! Aren't you less miserable—when you have a companion in trouble too?

It's better to understand a little than to mis-understand a lot. Don't go and mis-understand me now. But I guess man is about the only animal that can get skinned twice. I hope everyone will pray for bad people to be made good—and the good people to be nice... a good thought.

Residences of the Chinquapin community are to be commended on their donations for the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wood, who lost their home last week by fire, which was a total loss and an immediate collection and donations of all sorts—money, clothes, etc.—were contributed for the stricken family. A tragedy which only the victims can know the full impact.

Do you have Tuberculosis of the lung? A terrible thing. Do any of your loved ones have it at the moment? Do you know any family man or woman who have to neglect their children who have it? Last week your County Health Department held a meeting on this question for your benefit. Were you there? Or aren't you interested? Pictures of victims of T.B. were shown to wake up the public to the danger of T. B. Several were at the meeting but not enough. Watch for later items on this subject in this paper and find out the facts about your Health Department in your county. It may mean life or death to your child. Don't wait for the new drug, (isonicotinic) which is in experimental stage.

Did you know about the hardest thing to see through is flattery—and about the thinnest. But if you can only smile until about ten o'clock in the morning... the rest of the day will take care of it's self.

Mrs. Eula Sanderson and V. Milloy spent several hours last Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sanderson near Magnolia where they recently purchased this Carr and have made considerable progress into improving the grounds until it is hardly recognizable on entering the grounds. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Sanderson Jr. and Mrs. David Kilpatrick were visiting and residing at the home.

Mrs. A. F. Gatlin, and daughter Annette, Mrs. Jerry Wood and daughter, Maggie and Mrs. Eula Sanderson were a few of the folks from here last week to attend the Music Festival at Kenansville Saturday night. The small girls taking part in the program. Such a program is a credit to the schools and to the county.

Mrs. Emile Dail and children visited with her sister Mrs. T. G. Huffman last week for a short while and did some shopping in town.

Miss Eilan Ann Dail, daughter of Mrs. Dail spent the week end with her parents. Miss Dail is in training at the James Walker Memorial Hospital in Washington, getting on nicely and likes her new experience fine.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Dixon of New Bern parents of Mrs. Rodolph Morton spent last week with her family. Mr. Dixon has been in ill health and we all hope him to soon recover and be able to be on the well list again, soon.

Jene Sanderson spent the week end home with his family last week. Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sanderson sporting his new hot rod he made himself. It gets about too. Everyone here about knows Jene is a "Jack-of-all-trades."

Messrs Bobby Gresham, returned home Saturday from a trip to Louisville, Ky. where he visited with his sister Mr. and Mrs. Van Murrell, after they had spent the Easter week end visiting with their parents Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Gresham and Mr. and Mrs. Murrell of Jacksonville, N. C.

Mrs. Hilton Maready who has been seriously ill in the hospital has been returned home but is quite on the sick list anyway. All her friends hope her a speedy recovery to be out again soon.

Miss Nellie Lanier daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Finell Lanier and Mrs. Earl Barkley of Wilmington spent the past week end with Mrs. Lanier and other relatives and friends.

Selfishness is one thing few of us seem willing to forgive in others yet, none of us are without it. You never heard of anyone who lost his soul laughing, have you? One of the finest things ever uttered in a pulpit was uttered here last Sunday morning at the regular service by the Rev. N. E. Gresham when he said, (quote) "All Christian people should put out the Welcome Mat on this church door steps for all people to come in to it to hear the word of God." Be a member of Sunday School no matter how lowly or poor or in need. Everyone has a right to have a chance to take part in a church which their community has prepared for them. Every member should see that some one came along with them and bring an extra one.

Last Sunday morning there was 174 present. This Baptist Sunday School has been increasing in number for years, but the week's revival recently was like a much needed spring shower on young buds to sprout out of the ground—it just doesn't seem the same. Some member was heard saying "A nice crowd out today, isn't there?" To Another member answered, "Well, it's a large crowd, I don't know how nice they are." She might have something there, no?

Folder Published On Bow Saw Care

The State College Extension Service announces publication of a new folder on "Care and Use of the Bow Saw."

The folder was prepared by extension forestry specialists, who point out that a bow saw, filed and used the right way, will cut wood faster in small timber than a two-man cross-cut saw. This is why bow saws are being used more and more to cut pulpwood.

To cut wood fast and easy, any saw must be set and filed the right way. With practice almost anyone, by being careful, can learn how to sharpen a bow saw if he has the right tools.

The folder is illustrated with a series of simple, easy-to-follow drawings.

"Care and Use of the Bow Saw" is issued as Extension Folder No. 86. Single copies may be obtained from the local county agent or by writing the Publications Department, N. C. State College, Raleigh.

Japanese beetle control in soybeans can be achieved with DDT dusts or sprays.

If growing conditions are normal, grasshopper damage to U. S. crops this year is expected to be light and localized.

HOW TO HANDLE green undergrowth in grain crops

Clover seeded with your grain crop builds up your soil, but this green undergrowth may be a problem at harvest time. Here is how to handle it.

A home-owned ALL-CROP Harvester lets you time your harvest perfectly. Catch the grain at full ripeness, but before green undergrowth is too high.

The wide, rubber-faced bar cylinder handles the full swath width with less chopping of green matter—separation is easier over the rack and there is less choking of sieves. Grain is drier, brighter, safer to store.

Power harvest grain this year, valuable seed next year, from the same field... with your own ALL-CROP Harvester. Stop in and talk to us.

MORE "MULE-POWER" FOR NORTH CAROLINA FARMERS

North Carolina is at the crossroads of a new era of agricultural development. Mechanization has played an important part, for the number of tractors on farms has increased approximately ninety per cent in the last five years! This advancement, coupled with more efficient use of farm resources, point to higher and more stable farm incomes. North Carolina continues to move forward as a better place in which to work, play and live.

Another fine example of North Carolina progress is the steadily-improving standards of operation by malt beverage retailers in "legal control" counties. The United States Brewers Foundation policy of co-operation with such retailers, in maintaining orderly, law-abiding conditions for beer and ale sales, provides an important contribution to the pleasant living that is North Carolina.
