The next contest this community should have is one concerning the rural mailboxes—to see just who could make the most attractive box on their mail man's route. Next to a Dr. the mail man is about the most important seemingly man to expect. About two years ago the Home Demonstration Club put on somewhat of a campaign in effect to standardize and improve the looks of the mail boxes and improve the looks of our newly paved roads—as well as the unpaved ones. Mrs. Rodolph Futrel came up with a sample which many people have since followed with an eye appealing one which must make the carrier smile and make his burden lighter. This personal go between box between each individual and Uncle Sam should make each of us take pride and a delight in making it attractive enough to greet your mail man with a smile and make it a pleasure to deliver your most precious treasure—your mail. Think of the long hot summer days—and the long winter bad weather days he has to face—stopping and starting. Refresh him with a lovely box. In some sections of the country you can see different signs hanging from the bottom, denoting perhaps, their favorite fruit, pet, animal, vegetable, and what not—no one has yet seen a human being hanging beneath one yet—but if times keep changing and taxes remain the same—who knows? Many a clear conscious has sometimes been mistaken for a bad monkey! All in all, life is good to those who are not backward—in coming forward. Mrs. Eula Sanderson left Saturday A. M. for a trip up in Va. where she will tour the state and see sightseeing with a group of Club women from Wilmington, returning sometime next week. Mr. A. L. Gatlin CPO U. S. Navy returned Saturday for another thirty day leave for convalescence from Bethesda Md. Hospital again after a series of examinations find him in excellent condition and can now start using his foot and leg. Since going back to Md. Mr. Gatlin was one of a group of injured veterans to be entertained at the home of General George C. Marshall at Leesburg, Va. last week end. Reports is the General is a handsome hostess and a fine entertainer.

Next time you feel you haven't the right clothes, car, home, furniture, or ever looks—make a visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Norris, of Beaufort, R.F.D. where a wee baby of twelve years old—weighing only about thirty five lbs. lies starting and living in an unknown world all his own. Borne 11 years ago, he has never crawled, walked, talked, perhaps heard, and may not see well, and has only eaten strained food and juices for food. Drs. everywhere see no hope for him. I wonder how many people knew of this misfortune. I just found out last week. These cheerful parents whose burden it is to bear, is bound to live around darkness and unhappiness far beyond the average parents, mingling among their daily lives and that of the brothers and sisters of the little child. I wonder just how many folks can picture themselves in this darkness. Have you good reason to complain? Check. If you must cry over spilled milk, couldn't you just condense it just a bit?

Mr. Henry Sanderson of near Magnolia was down Sunday after noon visiting friends and relatives here. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Beal of Wilmington spent the week end visiting her mother, Mrs. V. Milloy and Mrs. A. F. Gatlin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sanderson spent the day with the family Sunday down at Seneads Ferry in their cottage on the beach which is a must when time is available. Those G. A. Girls who departed Monday for a week's visit to a Baptist Camp near South Port haven't been so excited since the last Santa Claus expectation. Here's hoping they all can stay well and have a nice time, and return to their homes safely. Those reported going were: Kay Sanderson, Thomasine Sanderson and Annett and Mary Gatlin and several others, names unknown. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sanderson of Wallace stopped over to visit at Chincuspia after spending the day at Seneads Ferry with Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Sanderson.

Are you getting tired of running the cultivator and weeding the hoe in your garden in a losing battle with weeds and grass? Why not use a mulch? It is surprising how few gardeners make use of mulches as an aid in the conservation of moisture and the control of weeds. A mulch may be any material such as hay, mold, peat, sawdust, pine straw, or paper which can be put down on the ground around plants for the purpose of conserving moisture during the hot, dry, summer weather. At the same time it will keep down most of the weeds. I recently read of one gardener who collected all the cardboard boxes he could get at the stores, flattened them out, and put them on the ground around his plants as a mulch—and the results were excellent. Many vegetables, flowers, eggplants, and cucumbers may be mulched with straw, leaves or paper. Azaleas, carnations, and blueberries which desire an acid soil may be mulched with sawdust, leaf mold, or peat. Red raspberries, dewberries and grapes may be mulched with straw or straw manure. In all the cases the mulch should be applied after the soil has been well moistened by rain or irrigation. If fertilizer is necessary it also should be applied before the mulch is laid down. You will find that in small gardens a mulch will help solve many of your cultural problems.

QUESTION: What points should be included in a good farm rental agreement?

ANSWER: C. B. Ratchford, in charge of farm management and marketing for the State College Extension Service, says a good lease is one that is written down on paper, covers more than one year, or else has an automatic renewal clause; specifies how the expenses, upkeep, and labor, as well as income, are to be shared; encourages the tenant to produce livestock as well as crops; and provides for permanent improvements on the land and in the home.

QUESTION: Can the ill effects of worms in hogs be overcome by adding aureomycin and vitamin B-12 to the feed?

ANSWER: A recent test by the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that pigs do gain more when fed growth-promoting antibiotics, but this growth is limited if worms are present. Even when feeding aureomycin and vitamin B-12, farmers still need to control worms for maximum pork production. In the tests, worm-free pigs on the special diet gained 161 lbs. each, but those infested with worms on this diet gained 118 and 120 pounds, respectively. The worm-free pigs on the regular diet gained 98 pounds and 154 pounds each, and those infested with worms on the regular diet gained 70 and 94 pounds each.

For many years the South Atlantic states have been using more fertilizer than any other section of the country.

Loan rates on 1952 crop tobacco range by grades from $74 per 100 pounds for top grades down to $17 per 100 pounds for certain "nondescript" grades. Wholesale prices of most dairy products are about the same as they were a year ago.

THIS is—to coin a phrase—a "shopper's market."

Folks are taking a keen look at what they get for what they pay—and they're taking a double look at price tags.

That's the kind of market where Buick really shines.

Do you know why?

Buick prices are down within easy reach of the folks who buy what's known as "the low-priced three."

Fact is—a big chunk of Buick sales comes from the folks who trade in one of this low-priced trio.

For very few extra dollars, they're getting a lot more automobile.

They're getting more power—and the thrill that goes with it.

They're getting "big-car" comfort. They're getting a ride that cost a million dollars and more to develop.

They like the room, the fabrics, the extra appointments they find in the smart-stepping beauty pictured here. And they like Dynaflow Drive.

They like the way it handles. They like the way it's engineered. They like the belt they get out of touching off the power of its Fireball 8 Engine—and they like the miles they get from a gallon of fuel.

So Buick sales are booming. Not just the SPECIAL—but also the SUPER and ROADMASTER. Folks find that each one is the buy in its field.

When we tell you that business is great, we can back up that statement with figures. More people are buying Buicks than any other car at their price or above.

Why don't you come in and see for yourself what's behind this popularity? If you can afford a new car, you can be the proud owner of a Buick.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
