

Warsaw Woman Attacked By Negro; Hearing Friday

Mrs. Cyrus Cavenaugh of near Warsaw was saved from a serious attack by a Negro employe on the place Tuesday when her husband, Cy Cavenaugh, was slow at driving away from the home.

According to reports Mr. and Mrs. Cavenaugh had finished their lunch and Mr. Cavenaugh went out on his pickup truck to drive off. Lloyd Moore, a Negro about 40 years old, who had been employed by Mr. Cavenaugh to cut some wood at the house that day, was eating his lunch at a table, as soon as Mr. Cavenaugh left the house Moore grabbed at Mrs. Cavenaugh's dress and pulled it over her shoulders. She broke loose, ran out on the porch and motioned to her husband in a hurried manner and he quickly returned to the house. Moore allegedly attacked him with a club, knocking him down, and jumped on top of him. Cavenaugh called to his wife to get the gun. As she did so Cavenaugh managed to roll on top of Moore, jumped up and took the gun. The Negro fled the house and into a field. Cavenaugh followed him, shooting twice. One lead struck him in the leg, slightly injuring him. Moore escaped. The report soon went out and neighbors began to gather for the search. Patrolman Brooks was the first officer on the scene. He sent Patrolman Briley and Constable Kissner on the search. Moore was found and brought to jail where he is now being held awaiting a hearing tomorrow on charges of assault with intent to commit rape and assault on Mr. Cavenaugh with a deadly weapon. Moore is said to be a neighborhood man.

County Home Dem. Club Members Enjoy Interesting Slides On U-Shaped Kitchen

The Home Furnishings and Surroundings

One of the most helpful and interesting demonstrations ever given us, is the sentiment often expressed by club women after having seen the U-Shaped Kitchen presented by means of slides to club members this month. This demonstration must have created a great deal of interest because agricultural workers in the County Agricultural Building, the Kenansville Home Economic Teacher, and P.T.A. Group have especially requested the agent to present this demonstration to their groups and the Rose Hill Woman's Club requested special help with their Club House Kitchen.

Several women have requested the agent to visit and help them with their special kitchen problems. A questionnaire has been prepared and sent to house furnishings leaders concerning a follow up of demonstrations given in that field this past year.

Twenty eight demonstrations on the Step Saving Kitchen have been given this month. Home Agents presented 23, with assistant agent helping with 10 of these. Home Economics Teacher presented one. House Furnishings Leader presented 1. P.T.A. demonstration will be given November 3, by home agent.

It's hard for politicians in either party to find a valid argument against national defense.

H.D.C. Co. Council Meets

The County Council of Home Demonstration Clubs held its Fall meeting in the Presbyterian Church at Kenansville on October 2. Approximately 35 attending. Mr. LeRoy Simmons, President of Duplin County Farm Bureau, spoke briefly on the general aspects of the Farm Bureau Organization and urged club families to join the organization.

Mrs. Mary J. McAllister spoke to the group on leader participation and told of the plans for the National Council meeting.

Brief reports were given on Farm and Home Week by Mrs. Charles Hearne, State Federation meeting by Mrs. J. B. Torrains, County Choral group by Mrs. David Williams, and Institute of International Relations by Mrs. C. C. Ivey, Sr.

Work in the clubs for the next few months and committees for Achievement Day were made and appointed.

Mrs. J. B. Torrains, Council President and Mrs. Hubert Boney, former state president represented Duplin County at all meetings of the National Council meeting held the last week in October in Raleigh. Approximately 24 women from this county attended several sessions of this meeting during the week along with the Home Agents. It was an inspiring experience and made each of us more aware of the vast scope of the role of farm women in determining the peace of the world.

The home agent had a very delightful experience. Several weeks before the National meeting she received a letter from Mrs. T. D. Hare of Vannadale, Arkansas, stating that she had a 1917 edition of the Progressive Farmer. In it she found an article written by Dr. Jane S. McKimmon, former state agent in North Carolina, that she was bringing with her and would be happy to give to the agent having noted that at one time Mrs. Norman Johnson was State Chairman of the Jane S. McKimmon Educational Loan Fund. Mrs. Hare is 75 years of age, evidently young in heart and a most delightful personality. The article written in Progressive Farmer concerns "How to Become a Canning Club Girl." On the front of this sheet is a Canning Club Scene showing farm girls and boys demonstrating the procedure then used in canning while middy houses type of garment to the ankles, white shoes, and a white cap over their long hair. The boys are shown wearing black shirts, with light fitting pants, white shirts, black bow ties and straw sailor hats.

In this article Mrs. McKimmon writes that 47 counties have been organized. The secretary then was $600.00 to $1200.00 for the County Agent and her assistants all together. As one sees these articles it certainly reminds us that home
