

Keeping Up On Farming with Uncle Walt

We sure have been havin some real hog killin weather down our way for the past few days and I believe about everybody here in the community is takin advantage of it too. I ain't killed yit but I been helpin out my neighbors so when I do git ready, I'll have plenty of help t take care f mine.

I'm always glad to see hog killin in time roll around 'cause it gives a body a chance to help out his feller men. It use to be where we would have corn shuckins, cotton pickins and barn raisins. But times has changed so much 'til it's got do where it is sort of ever man for hisself. That ain't fer the bet ether I don't think 'cause the effect of it is carried on into the churches and schools and everywhere else.

Take when we had corn shuckins and everybody in the community would come in and set around a pile of corn a shuckin and a talkin. Nobody worked hard or very long ether and everybody had a lot of fun and the women folks always had a table full of good vittles. Back then we had a lot better cooperation in our little church and the whole community was sorta nitted together. It ain't like that no more though. When we sorta got away from helpin each other on the farm, we sorta become individuals in the church and in everything we undertook to do.

I ain't sayin that corn shuckins and cotton pickins have that much effect on the life in a community. I am a sayin though that they do a lot of good and I would like to see them come back into beln. I don't grow enough corn myself to think about havin a shuckin but I sure would like to git behind a big pile of corn with a bunch of other folks and shuck and talk like we use to do.

People is jest livin too fast these days and times it ain't only here but it must be the same way everywhere I though our little old

Several Negro 4-H clubs in the county expressed an early arrival of the Christmas spirit by holding Pre-Christmas parties instead of the regular demonstrations. Although old Santa's sleigh bells had not yet arrived Christmas songs, games, and the Christmas spirit neid sway at Calypso, Faison, Warsaw, Kenansville, Teachey and Wallace clubs.
