With the annual run of bluefish arely two weeks old along the outheastern North Carolina shoals, large numbers of Spanish mackeral have moved in to join the bluefish. have moved in to join the bluefish. As a result, fish boxes are being filled by a multitude of anglers all the way from Snead's Ferry southward to Frying Pan Shoals. Most rewarding catch of the season so far has been chalked up at Snead's Ferry. A quarter of local troilers, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Godwin, Sr., and Mrs. and Mrs. O. W. Godwin, Jr., brought Mrs. O. W. Godwin, Jr., brought back 256 bluefish and 45 Spanish mackeral Monday. They were fish-ing from Captain Mart Fulcher's boat Miss Etta." It was an auspic-ious beginning for Captain Fulcher. The day before, he took a party out to the same area off Snead's Ferry, and came back happy with six mackeral and 14 blues... since that was the first catch of the season for Snead's Ferry.

At Frying Pan, bluefish continue productive and the mackeral are helping liven things up. M. B. Logan and party from Kings Mt., N. C., went out with Capt. Ray Stubbs on the "Bessie Ray" Monday and came back with 40 mackeral and 59 blues... ranging from one to three pounds apiece. With that, Capt. Stubbs passed the word, "Come and get 'em!" On the same day, Capt. Leon McKeithan and the "Botfly" - also out of Southport, brought back 110 nice blues from the fabulous Frying Pan. John McArthur and party from Sanford, N. C., had the fun.

After weeks of foul fishing along the banks of Dare County and around Cape Hatteras, things look-ed up this week. The first dolphin of the season was boated by a party fishing from Capt. Hallas Foster's "Albatross II" out of Hat-teras. Up the beach, channel bass catches improved, with surfcasters generally having luck with big ones. Largest bass of the week was a 46-pounder, caught by Ralph G Wilson of Washington, D. C. Although few drum have been caught by any method since the Easter week-end, whether by surfcasting or trolling, there's one distinction

Here's the way you lined 'em up for us to play on the HILLEHLLY HIT PARADE ...

1. Mexican Joe (4) Green Tree Frog The Green Tree Frog must be well known. It bears so many com-non names. Bell frog, fried bacon frog, cowbell frog, marsh tree frog are a few of the more descriptive of those common names. Of course some of these common names are

The Green Tree Frog is found near the edges of fresh waterways on water plants, bushes, over-hang-ing trees or vines. Some of its rel-atives will stray farther from water than will the Green Tree Frog. Usually this species is found close to the water level rather than high above it. Rafts of water hyacinth or stands of pickerel weed (see illustration) provide a superior type of vegetation to meet the needs of this frog.

Mature Green Tree Frogs reach a length of from 1½ to 2 1-2 inches Mature Green Tree Frogs reach a length of from 1½ to 2 1-2 inches with the female being definitely larger than the males. formly cream-colored.
All sorts of interpretations have All sorts of interpretations have been made to represent the call of the Green Tree Frog. Some say that the frog says "fried bacon" repeatedly. Others claim that the words "grab, grab, grabit, grabit" better represent the sound. Still others claim that it is a simple repeated "quonk" closing with a "quank". At a distance a chorus of the frogs sounds much like a cowbell.

The sounds are produced by the

The sounds are produced by the males alone. They come to the breeding grounds or show a wish to reproduce before the females do. Breeding usually takes place between mid-April and mid-August. The eggs float in small films or clusters near the water surface to ome support.

The eggs are black or brown and white or cream. The tadpole that develops from the egg is of no extraordinary size, reaching a max-imum of about 1½ inches in length. The tail is long and drawn out in the tadpole. The body is green with yellowish or ivory stripe down the side of the head.
