1953 Seal Sale Drive Is Open

The Christmas Seal Sale of the Duplin County Tuberculosis Association which has been launched during the past week will continue until Christmas, announced Mrs. Wm. Craven, executive secretary. Over 3500 letters containing sheets of the 1953 Seals have been mailed to citizens in the county. In addition to this booth for the sale of Seals will be opened in the various communities during December.

Students of Warsaw High School under the direction of Mr. J. F. Harmon, principal, and students of several colored county schools under the direction of Miss Annie May Kenon, supervisor, have aided the executive secretary in folding the seals, stuffing envelopes and stamping the letters.

Mr. Lewis W. Outlaw of Albertson, County Seal Sale Chairman, announced that a speaker's bureau has been organized to bring this year's Seal Sale message to various civic organizations in the county.

A few of the needs for furthering the fight against tuberculosis are highlighted in the following letter which has accompanied the mailing of the 1953 Christmas Seals:

November 16, 1953

DEAR NEIGHBOR:

We have been fortunate in Duplin County in many ways during the past year. We have escaped the devastating storms which have struck so many sections of our country. Our children have not suffered the crippling effects of a polio epidemic which has been widespread in other areas. And the amount of dry weather to hit our crops cannot even be compared to the costly droughts which have brought such misery to the Southwest. These are a few things for which we can be thankful.

However, we have far too many cases of Tuberculosis in our midst. There are 24 Duplin residents now receiving Sanatorium care for Tuberculosis, and there are 12 known cases of T. B. in the county who are not in hospitals due to lack of space. In addition to these, there are over 100 suspect and arrested cases who have to be X-rayed at regular intervals by our Health Department.

Warsaw Fire Department Completes Plans For Reorganization; Committees

The Warsaw Fire Department in regular meeting the first of November completed its plans for reorganization by setting up six standing committees. Two of the most important of these committees are the Fire Prevention and Building Inspection committees. The chief aim and purpose of these committees is to keep the public conscious of the danger of fires, and the hazards involved, and to use every possible means to minimize these hazards.

The Fire Prevention Committee is headed by Johnny Todd assisted by Cohen Tew, and Johnny Jenkins. The Building Inspection committee members are Forest Martin, Chairman, Marlee Jones, James Edixson, and Kenneth Garner.

In keeping with the assignments made to these committees, they are requesting all merchants and business houses to clean up buildings & surroundings in preparation for inspection of buildings which will begin the first week in Jan. of 1954.

Predict Farm Prices To Remain Steady; Production Costs May Drop

A hopeful note was sounded at the recent Agricultural Outlook Conference to the effect that there may be some further drops in farm production costs next year, in addition to slight reduction this year, according to our county agent for the State College Extension Service. Prices received for farm products, on the other hand, are not likely to fall much below their present levels, except for normal seasonal variations.

The fall in prices of farm products and farm incomes this year has been due largely to two factors, says Mr. Reynolds. These are abundant harvests and a sharp curtailment in foreign demand for United States farm products. Total crop output next year may be reduced somewhat by acreage restrictions for wheat, corn, and cotton, though supplies are again likely to be larger if weather is favorable. An improved foreign gold and dollar reserves permit domestic demand, which has been at a high level throughout 1953, is expected to continue strong in 1954. Price supports will cushion the effects of large carryover supplies. Taken together, these factors spell a probably stabilization of farm prices near their present levels, according to V. H. Reynolds.

The general level of prices paid by farmers ran about 3 per cent below the 1952 level in the first 9 months of this year. Mr. Reynolds explains. Most of the decline was due to lower prices for feed and feeder livestock, and prices of these major items are not expected to change much from present reduced levels. Prices of industrial products will probably change very little, but price concessions are likely to be more general than in 1952 for these commodities produced primarily for the farm market.

It was decided that the supper meeting will be held at seven o'clock each third Thursday night. President Holt announced that two members, and more if they desired, would attend the National Convention of Ruritans in Washington City next month.

It goes well without saying that these men who contribute their time strictly on a voluntary basis are performing their duties with a sincere desire to be helpful to the community. Every possible effort should be made to cooperate and assist the firemen in their inspections, and this should result in direct benefits to all concerned.

Half the world doesn't know how the other half lives—but it has its suspicions.

Electric services will be interrupted for five minutes in the Warsaw-Wallace area, including Rose Hill, Magnolia, Kenansville, Burgaw, Beulaville and Chinquapin between the hours of 1:30 and 1:35, Sunday, November 29, 1953. This interruption is to enable crews to make changes in the sub-station.

This is in keeping with the Carolina Power and Light Company practice of keeping ahead of needs of its customers by maintaining an abundant supply of electric service for all present and future needs.

Albertson Club Holds 2nd Meeting

The newly organized Albertson Ruritan Club held its second meeting last Thursday night in the temporary quarters on the second floor of the M. B. Holt storage warehouse. President Holt presided. Secretary Harry Stroud called the roll of the 27 charter members and read the minutes of the first meeting. After a bounteous supper the club heard talks by Rev. Eugene Hager, pastor of Jones Chapel - Alum Springs - Garner's Chapel Baptist Church charge and editor J. B. Grady of the Duplin Times.

The two speakers, talking extemporaneously, pointed out the benefits to a community of such a club and gave them their best wishes for success.

Vice-President, J. D. Grady, reported on the Ruritan district meeting held recently at Calypso. The turkey shoot was then discussed. It was announced that the two immediate objectives of the club are the construction of a community building in Albertson and securing telephone service through the community.

State To Firmly Enforce Safety Responsibility Law

RALEIGH — The State Department of Motor Vehicles will move swiftly beginning Tuesday night toward firm enforcement of North Carolina's new Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Law, which becomes effective on January 1.

The initial steps looking toward complete enforcement on the statutory effective date were announced as follows:

1. The department has prepared a small leaflet explaining essential details about the law which motorists may pick up at any gasoline station, without cost, beginning Tuesday morning.

2. On Tuesday evening Motor Vehicles Commissioner Edward Scheidt will address the people of North Carolina by radio in the first official explanation of how the new law will operate.

3. Throughout the month of December, through the cooperation of the press and radio of North Carolina, the Department of Motor Vehicles will keep the public, and particularly the motorists, advised about various phases of the law up to the hour enforcement begins.

Commissioner Scheidt's address will originate through the facilities of Station WPTF in Raleigh, and will be heard over other stations throughout the state. It will be entitled "Safety and Security On Our Highways." In view of earlier commitments, all stations may not be able to broadcast it simultaneously and it was suggested that those desiring to hear it consult the daily programs in their local newspaper on Tuesday morning and afternoon.

The new law, which was enacted by the last session of the legislature requires the automatic suspension of a driver's license if he is involved in a traffic accident and fails to furnish satisfactory proof of his liability to meet damage claims up to $11,000. Commissioner Scheidt will explain the conditions and circumstances under which this can happen and also information as to how it can be avoided.

Forty-three other states have enacted the same type of law.

Sister Dr. Straughan Only Woman On White House Library Book Committee

Miss Hattie Straughan of Greensboro, sister of Dr. J. W. Straughan of Warsaw was one of a committee, and only woman, of the American Booksellers Association which recently presented President Dwight D. Eisenhower an addition of 200 volumes to the White House Library.

Miss Straughan runs a book store in Greensboro.

A word about the White House Library will be of interest. When Herbert Hoover and his family moved into the White House after the inaugural ceremonies of 1929, there was a search for an evening's relaxation with books. But no books were to be found.

The White House did not have a "home library." Word of this reached John Howell, a bookseller in Mr. Hoover's home state of California, and was relayed to the convention of the American Booksellers Association. The number one "Home of American," Mr. Howell felt, should have a library more permanent and more inclusive than any personal collection which Presidents brought in with them and later took away.

The Booksellers Association immediately responded to the idea, and appointed a committee to make up an ideal Home Library of 500 volumes to present to the White House. Following this auspicious beginning at each presidential term since, an additional 200 volumes have been added from the books of the intervening 4 years. With the presentation of the 1953 collection, the White House Library now contains 1700 volumes considered to be representative of the best books published in the United States. The 200 titles presented on November 10th were selected from the new books of the years 1949-52.

Several points of view are kept in mind in selecting books for the White House Library. The books have to be significant, yet not overspecialized; readable, yet not confined to the popular. The American scene, our history, lives and letters are naturally emphasized. There must be books for children. In this connection I may say that the recent collection contained 23 titles for children.

Like them, let us bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to the Giver of "every good and perfect gift."
