NORTH CAROLINA UNLIMITED

AND WE HAVE APPLES, TOO!

Among the many North Carolina farm items enjoying steady production increases is the rarely mentioned apple crop. A record 2 million bushels were grown and sold in 1952 in view of the important part this cash crop plays in Tar Heel farm income. It goes for in making our state a better place in which to work, play and live.

Another contributing factor to more abundant living for North Carolinians is the housing industry's participation program which sponsors, wholesales and retails—in counties where molasses, apples and other products are produced—cooperates in maintaining wholesome conditions for the local sale of beef and etc.
