Acreage Below Small Grain

RALEIGH, March 22 - March 1 intentions reports from North Carolina farmers indicate a decrease of 4 percent in the planted acreage of oats, wheat, rye and barley. According to the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service the planted small grain acreage totaled 1,167,000 acres last year and reports from growers indicate that 1,120,000 acres have been seeded for the 1934 crop.

The decrease in the acreage seeded to wheat more than offset increased seedings of oats and barley. A total of 438,000 acres of wheat were seeded for the 1933 crop as compared with 323,000 acres seeded for 1934 - a decrease of 26 percent.

Growers reports indicate that 612,000 acres of oats have been seeded for 1934. This is an increase of 10 percent over the 556,000 acres seeded for last year's crop. The acreage seeded to barley is indicated at 82,000 acres and compares with 82,000 acres last year. The indicated acreage seeded to rye at 123,000 acres is the same as last year.

MISS LAURA CHADWICK WEST'S engagement to Roy Bland Barwick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Barwick of Mount Olive, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. West of Warsaw. A spring wedding is planned.

Mrs. Herman Miller Proud Of Home

Now that it is over and the house is beginning to get back in shape, we can look with much pride and satisfaction at the interior of our home. Although it does not compare with anything new and modern, little minor changes are taking place to make our home more comfortable and convenient, small though it is.

Having lived in an old house for a number of years that had something called a floor, my husband and I decided that something had to be done about it, so a trip to the lumber yard provided enough hardwood (oak) to cover the entire house.

With the help of his brother, my husband started this job of re-flooring an old house which first had to be leveled, since some of the blocks had settled and made the house very uneven. A layer of tar paper was first put over the old floor with the hope that termites would not penetrate the new wood. Flooring the house did not take too long but before the sanding and refinishing was over, we almost wished we had moved, since furniture was shifted from one side of the house to the other during this work. Two coats of a clear penetrating wood finish were applied to the floor and a very hard base wax completed the job, leaving the floors in a very soft, subdued finish.

A new coat of paint on the walls and some colorful braided rugs will do much to give our house a homey look and of course we will not stop here but are planning to continue improving our home by underpinning and by planting the yard according to the plan provided by Mr. John Harris, Extension Specialist.

Only as we learn can we plan and make progress in our efforts to make homes more livable and enjoyable. The inspiration that has led us to continue to improve our home and grounds has come through the demonstrations and ideas gathered through nineteen years of attendance at Home Demonstration Club meetings!
