Tributes Paid Jesse Hall

Recently The Times received letters written by the members of the home for the Aged, which is located in Kenansville. Each member of the home wrote an individual letter telling why they would miss Jesse. Mrs. Della H. Whaley of Kenansville operates the home and Jesse Hall is her lovable red-headed son who graduated from high school this year, and is planning to go away to school next year. Through his many small deeds of kindness such as shaving an old gent, or taking one to ride, or leading another around the house and just by being a boy-around-the-house he has endeared himself to the people of the home, and they have written letters of appreciation of Jesse. Jesse also made himself loved in the high school, by seniors and other school mates, and he also paid attention to boys and girls in the grammar grades which meant much to the younger ones. "I wait and listen for him to come in any time in the day or night and let something fall. And believe it or not, the sound from the fall would awaken the dead, almost," says Carrie L. Berry. The letters were signed by Mrs. Dora Carter, Essie Thomas, Bessie H. Louis, Lonnie Matthews, Bettie Mae Farmer, Miss Gertrude Tew, Zeb Smith, Miss Emma Holsenbeck, Mrs. A. P. Wrench, Walter Lee Felton, Mrs. Repse Warren, Mrs. May Harrison, Bert Meadows and Matthew Collins. Miss Tew states, "We have a piano and several radios in our home, but the one in Jesse's room plays longest and loudest. This I fully enjoy. His Mother is always telling Jesse, turn that thing down, but I like to hear Jesse's radio. I will miss him when he leaves."
