Apple Association Board Meets And Approves By-Laws

Members of the board of directors of the newly formed N. C. Apple Growers Association have approved a constitution and by-laws which will be presented to the association membership at the next general meeting.

M. E. Gardner, head of the department of horticulture, N. C. State College, said the directors also mapped plans for an immediate membership campaign.

The directors also voted to purchase a color motion picture, "Gateway to Health," which tells the story of apples and health. The movie will be shown throughout the state to various civic, social, fraternal and welfare groups in an effort to promote a more widespread use of North Carolina apples. Purchase of the movie is the association's first concrete step in its forthcoming promotion campaign.

Truman Noid, executive secretary of the National Apple Institute, Washington, D. C., spoke to the board members, who met in North Wilkesboro, N. C., to discuss the organization as one of the nation's few "coming" apple states. He said North Carolina has distinct advantages over many other areas, particularly in new apple plantings.

Paul D. Grady Elected Director

According to news reports, Paul D. Grady, Sr., of Kenly was elected at stockholders meeting in New York recently as a Director of the Alliance Manufacturing Company, one of the nation's large electronic producers.

Grady was recently selected by "Who's Who in America" to be included in their "Business and Industrial section."

Grady, in an interview, when asked about conditions in the Carolinas and the South said, "A Republican National Administration and an unsympathetic weather man have combined to give us a bad time at the moment, but in spite of the coldness of a Republican administration and the dryness of an unsympathetic weather man you had better save your Confederate money boys, because the South is going to rise again." Our people have courage and stamina, they have the climate, the natural resources and labor advantages, and a little temporary setback will not prevent the march of the South toward Agricultural and Industrial success.

New 3-Cent Stamp On Sale July 28

The local Postmaster Clarence Pike announced yesterday that the Post Office Department will issue a 3-cent stamp to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, through the Sioux City, Iowa, post office, on July 28.

It was at Sioux City that Sgt. Charles Floyd, a member of the expedition, died and was buried, and at which place a monument has been erected in his memory.

Stamp collectors and dealers desiring first-day cancellations of the stamp may send a reasonable number of addressed envelopes to the Postmaster, Sioux City, Iowa, with money-order remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed. Postage stamps and personal checks will not be accepted in payment.

Envelopes submitted should be of ordinary letter size and each must be properly addressed. An enclosure of medium weight should be placed in each envelope and the flap either sealed or turned in. The envelopes to the Postmaster should be endorsed "First-Day Covers."

For the benefit of collectors desiring stamps of selected quality for philatelic use, the Lewis and Clark Expedition stamp will be available at the Philatelic Agency, Post Office Department, Washington 25 D. C. on and after July 28. Mail orders to the agency should include no other stamp issue. The Philatelic Agency does not service first-day covers.

Helpful Hints to Homemakers

1. Ink stains on white fabrics can be removed by covering the mark with the pulp of a juicy tomato and leaving for twenty-four hours. Then scrape away the pulp and wash the part with a clean rag and warm water.
2. Dip a new broom into suds to lessen breakage.
3. When sewing on buttons that will have to bear a considerable strain, put on a piece of old kid glove under the material to which the button is to be sewn. The cloth will never tear away if this is done.
4. If a little alum is added to the soapy water in which you wash hair brushes, the bristles will stiffen and the life of the brush is lengthened.
5. If you have never tried melting chocolate in a greased bowl or pan, one trial will convince you that this is an easy method to use. There will also be less waste should the measuring cup that molasses is to be measured in, be greased.
6. Many recipes call for chopped nuts. Some authorities believe that cutting the nuts develops a rather

Mr. Farmer - CURE-ALLS

ARE EARNING LOTS OF $ FOR THOUSANDS OF GROWERS BECAUSE

CURE-ALLS USE LESS OIL

NO OIL VAPORS OR SMOKE ARE RELEASED IN THE BARN TO SMUDGE YOUR TOBACCO. NO TAGS ARE TURNED ON TOBACCO CURED WITH A CURE-ALL.

Cure-All excels because of its giant heavy duty heaters with the 30" diameter outer circulator and aluminum plated steel heat chamber. Its patented Twin Blast Burner is so clean burning, you'll seldom see smoke. So efficient in heat saving, the smoke pipes run cool, needs no screening. You clean it by a twist of the wrist after each cure. Built like a high priced furnace with exclusive giant heat saving air circulating outer drum. No wicks to trim or replace. Heaters built over modern equipment with securely locked edges, bound to give maximum service.

ONLY CURE-ALL HAS A SINGLE CONTROL ASSEMBLY DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR A TOBACCO COOKER.

Don't be satisfied with make-shift controls that were built for some entirely different heating job. The single CURE-ALL valve operating all four stoves assures you more dependable performance and a much simpler hook-up.

NO OTHER HAS TWO SEPARATE HEATING DRUMS PLUS SIX DEEP HEAT RADIATING FINS BETWEEN THEM

COMPLETE, less installation and smoke pipe only
$178.50

The men who use CURE-ALLS tell you they use less oil, cost less to maintain, and earn you a better price for your leaf. Mr. T. G. McLamb, Benson, North Carolina writes:

"I bought my first set of CURE-ALLS back in 1940. I haven't even bought a replacement part for these smokers and they are in perfect condition today! They are tight on oil and so simple a school child can operate them. I wouldn't trade this set I have used for 14 years for any other set."
