Men Of The Church Hold Monthly Meet

The men's club of the Methodist church of which Rev. James White is pastor, met for their monthly meeting in the private dining room of the Cottage Grill, Magnolia, which was made attractive with Christmas cloth and burning red tapers.
The president, Mr. Holland, presided. After the business session, Mr. Z. W. Frazelle introduced Rev. Poole, who brought an inspiring message on the work of the "Man In The Church."

Garden Club Holds Christmas Party

The members of the Kenansville Garden Club held their annual Christmas meeting with Mrs. W. M. Ingram at her home on Rutledge Road. Each member taking part in the decoration of the Ingram home.
An attractive door swag, made by Mrs. Robert Grady lent a most hearty welcome to the guests, who were invited into the living room and den by the hostess and her daughter, Betty.
Mrs. A. T. Outlaw and Mrs. Ruby Newton arranged the mantel in the living room, using gold candles, leaves and berries to form a perfect picture that was reflected from the mirror over the mantel, while Mrs. Vance Gavin's arrangement in gold with white madonnas found a perfect setting on the piano. The nativity scene, done around a gourd by Mrs. John A. Gavin, was an inspiration to all. The miniature village scene was attractively arranged by Mrs. Louise Mitchell.
Following the singing of Christmas carols and a Christmas wish from the president, Mrs. E. W. Sadler and Mrs. George Penny, co-program chairmen presented Miss Betty Ingram, who entertained us with a visit to the colorful and beautiful gardens of Holland, Vienna and interesting scenes of Germany. These were pictures made by her brother, Lt. William Ingram, Jr., during his stay in Germany.
The hostess invited us to the tea table that was overlaid with a handsome embroidered cloth and centered with a silver bowl holding a burning red taper and an arrangement of silvered leaves, baby breath and frosted red berries flanked by burning tapers in silver holders. Mrs. George Penny arranged this lovely table.
Mrs. John A. Gavin poured coffee and was assisted in serving moulded Christmas ices and coconut cake by Miss Betty Ingram and Mrs. George Penny.
An arrangement of colorful Christmas balls and frosted candles was made on the high boy, to complement the tea table, by Mrs. Emory Sadler.
