YOU GAVE THEM MORE FOR CHRISTMAS THAN THEY FOUND UNDER THE TREE

Drums and dolls, airplanes and tea sets blend with the Christmas tree and smiling children. "Santa Claus" gave them the toys, but you gave them something more.

During 12 months each year, you help give them the kind of town they live in. As teenagers, they will see and appreciate the parks, playgrounds, swimming pool, school band and youth organizations that you helped start during three Finer Carolina Programs.

As they grow older, they will notice other features of a progressive, growing town. Streets will be shaded by trees you planted this year; services like water, sewage and garbage disposal systems, planned and started this year, will have grown with the town; the new manufacturing plant attracted in 1954 will be expanded and will provide many wonderful job opportunities for these new citizens.

These are only a sample of 981 Finer Carolina projects started in 1954 by 184 Carolina towns. Their value in present-day "Better Living" is incalculable. Their value, when these children under the Christmas tree grow up to become tomorrow's leaders, will be even greater.

When you work for a finer town, you work for yourself AND for the children who will someday inherit the community you have helped build. They deserve the best hometown you can give them. Starting now, the next twelve months is all but too short to make your town "Carolina's Finest." And, again next Christmas, you'll be giving them more than they find under the tree.
