What Veterans Are Now Asking

Q. I'm planning to take farm training under the Korean GI Bill, but I found out I'll have to pay $30 a month tuition. My cousin, a World War II veteran, trained, and the Government paid his tuition. Why the difference?

A. Your cousin trained under the World War II GI bill; you will be training under the Korean GI Bill. They are separate laws, and each operates differently. Under the Korean GI Bill, you pay all training expenses yourself. But you get a single monthly allowance to help do this. Under the World War II GI Bill, the VA paid a veteran's training costs.

Q. My husband was killed in Korea and I've been receiving monthly indemnity payments of $99.90. When those payments stop if I remarry?

A. No. Remarriage will not bar your continued entitlement to the indemnity payments.

Q. I am a Korean veteran and I'm thinking of opening a business. I will have to wait for several years in order to accumulate enough cash when I'm ready, will I be able to get a GI business loan, or is the program due to expire soon?

A. You will have plenty of time to get your GI Loan. The Korean GI Bill loan program will not expire until January 31, 1965.

Q. I'm planning to take flight training under the Korean GI Bill. Will I be allowed 30 days absence a year, the same as veterans taking trade and vocational courses?

A. No. Under the Korean GI Bill, you will be paid on the basis of flight instruction actually received and nothing more. You will not be paid for absences. Contact your local VA office, 607 Borden Building, for further training details.
