More Farmers Are Taking Soil Samples Today

More farmers are taking soil samples each year because they have found this service pays. These soil sample reports tell the farmer how much phosphate, potash and lime the soil will need to grow a particular crop.
Several farmers have reported small grain drying on land that has been recently limed. A soil sample would have told them not to plant small grain on that particular field.
Soil Samples should be taken in the very near future to insure getting an answer in time to plant your crops.

Dairying Has Continued With Bright Outlook

Dairying has continued with a reasonable bright outlook for the future, during 1935 relative to the general economic status of all farming operations. However, there are three less dairy farms in the county than a year ago. When a new highway split the farm and build-

William P. Saunders Worked His Way Up Ladder To Become Successful Man

William P. Saunders, who became director of the North Carolina Department of Conservation and Development on December 15, 1933, literally worked his way up in the textile industry into which he went after leaving the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

He was president of Robbins Mills Inc., which had branches at Aberdeen, Raeford, Red Springs and Robbins, when the firm was merged with the American Woolen Company in 1924. Mr. Saunders then retired to his Southern Pines home, devoting his time to golf, fishing, hunting, and enjoying life.
When his old friend, Governor Luther H. Hodges, who was business manager of the University of North Carolina Baseball team on which Mr. Saunders also played as an outfielder, asked him to come to Raleigh and take over the directorship of the Department of Conservation and Development when Director Ben E. Douglas asked to be relieved Mr. Saunders complied with the request.
Mr. Saunders became manager of the Pinehurst Silk Mill at Hemp (now Robbins) in 1931 after having served in various capacities in the textile industry since leaving his studies at the University of North Carolina. The name of Hemp was later changed to Robbins largely as a result of the efforts of Mr. Saunders.

A native of Dallas in Gaston county, Mr. Saunders was born on October 28, 1897. He is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Saunders. His father was long active in the textile industry. His mother was the former Miss Mary Elizabeth Gaston.

Mr. Saunders was a classmate of Associate Justice William H. Robbitt of the State Supreme Court in the class of 1921 at the University of North Carolina. Justice Robbitt administered the oath of office to Mr. Saunders when he was sworn in on December 15.

The new head of the State's chief development agency attended Plumtree Academy in Spruce Pine and the University of North Carolina. Mr. J. R. Edwards, he decided not to go to the expense of rebuilding. Mr. Jean L. Hood was forced to give up his dairying due to a bad back. Mr. Roy Williams, who was operating on his small farm, moved his cattle and equipment to join the F. K. operation. This leaves a total of 44 Grade A dairies in Wayne County.

He was graduated from the Morgan High School in 1917. While an undergraduate at the University of North Carolina in 1917-18 he was a private in the Student Army Training camp.
Mr. Saunders served as mayor of Robbins from 1935 to 1930. He was a member of the Hemp (now Robbins) School Board, and has been a member of the Moore County Hospital board for more than 20 years.
He was named by former Governor R. Gregg Cherry as a member of the first State Stream Sanitation Commission. He resigned as a member of the State Banking Commission to which he was named by the late Governor William B. Umstead when Governor Hodges named him head of the C&D Department.

Article in Reader's Digest Reveals 'Jittery Pre-Menstrual Tension' Is So Often a Needless Misery!

Do you suffer terrible nervous tension—feel jittery, irritable, depressed—just before your period each month? A startling article in READER'S DIGEST reveals such pre-menstrual torment is needless misery in many cases!
Thousands have already discovered how to avoid such suffering. With Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets, they're so much happier, less tense as those "difficult days" approach!

A member of the board of trustees of the Greater University of North Carolina, Mr. Saunders is chairman of the board's visiting committee. He is a director and a vice president of the Business Foundation of the University of North Carolina as well as a member of the Advisory Council of North Carolina State College. He is a member of the Scottish Rite Masons, a Shriner, the Southern Pines Kiwanis Club, a former member of the Lions Club at Robbins and the Knights of Pythias.
Mr. Saunders has called numerous places in North Carolina home. He resided in Concord, Chittenden, Shelby, Kannapolis, Morganton, High Point, Kings Mountain, Gibsonville and Burlington. His legal residence is in Southern Pines. He is an elder in the Southern Pines Presbyterian Church.
A lifelong Democrat, Mr. Saunders has worked for years in the ranks. He was chairman of his precinct at Robbins and is the male member of the State Democratic Executive Committee from Moore county.

Mr. Saunders was married in October, 1923, to Miss Elizabeth Yates Plonk of Kings Mountain, who died in 1933. They have two daughters: Mrs. Ralph W. Barnhart of Clarksville, Va.; and Mrs. Robert O. Southwell, who is with her husband, an American Army officer with the American Armed Forces now on duty in West Germany.
The Raleigh address of Mr. Saunders is: Education Building.
