large city of L. W. harder the world sither forget this fundamental fact about the land, if indeed they ever knew it.

But what makes Mount Vermen, Washington advisure the stages on here is that in this town there is a felse Vander Pol operating a small business under the name of Westate Welding.

Located in a tenter of the northwest deliry industry, Mr. Vander Pol developed a special type of pastare harrow which he has been menufacturing and selling. Due to excellence of his product, he enjoyed a tidy little business. Not a vast business listed on Wall Street, but nevertheless, quite important to Mr. Vander Pol, his employees, and to the Mount Vernon economy.

But now Mr. Vander Pol is faced with a problem he cannot solve himself, and in fabt, a problem not of his making, a comparable place of outprison is being shipped in from Holland without a cent of tariff only and in being shipped in a proce under the mander without a cent of tariff only and in being shipped in a proce under the mander that a production boots.

clea while this obligation is in effect weald be a violation of U.S. international commitments.

This appears an astounding statement. First, the General Agreements on Tariffs and Trade is one of the offshoots of the United Nations. Thus, U.S. representatives to an international convention extended perhaps into perpetuity an act of Congress without Congress knowing it.

New it is held in efficial circles that the Congress of the United States, constitutionally the nation's sovereign governing body, is powerless to take any action.

In connection with this, it is important to bear in mind that early in 1956 State Department is attending another one of these international clambakes on tariffs. According to advance reports, State Dept. is prepared to sell down river U.S. producers of some 1,000 different items.

This report staried out on the matter. . harrows. But as constitution grows on what could, and probably will happen at this conference carry in 1956, the story becomes harrowing. Only ray of hope is Congress will again take ever reins, But time raise abort, because if present course continues unchecked much longer, U.S. Congress can become a more rubber, startip.
