

Straight from the Shoulder — Right from the Heart of Duplin

VOLUME XXIV NO. 18

KENANSVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA, THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1957.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: $3.00 per Year in Duplin and adjoining Counties; $4.00 outside this area in N. C.; $5.00 outside N. C.

PRICE TEN CENTS

DUPLIN HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Spring Fashion Show Here

A Spring Fashion Revue was given Thursday night, April 25 1957 at 8:00 p.m. in Kenansville High School Auditorium by Duplin County 4-H and Home Demonstration Clubs. The scene was the bedroom of a teenager, the time—night of a slumber party and those taking part in the play were mother, Mrs. Billy Blanchard; daughter, Annette Holmes; friends, Patsy Holland, Florrie Currie and Sandra Herring; neighbor, Mrs. J. C. Pidgeon, Jr. Judges to the revue were: 4-H Club — Miss Gwenn Fussell, Rose Hill; Mrs. Betty Gray Sanderson, Harrells and Mrs. Bill Spicer, Kenansville. Home Demonstration Club— Mrs. Otto Matthews, Warsaw; Mrs. Ed Strickland, Warsaw and Mrs. John Vincent, Warsaw. At the end of the revue a group from Chinquapin entertained while the judges were making their decision. Furniture for the stage was furnished by M. B. Holt Co. of Kenansville and those donating prizes were: A&P Store, Warsaw; Books Dept. Store, Warsaw; D. E. Best Store, Warsaw; Ethels Store, Warsaw; Farmers Hardware, Warsaw; Hobbs Town and Country Sheppe, Warsaw; Page's Appliances, Warsaw; Quinn McGowan Furniture Co., Warsaw; Warsaw Furniture Co., Warsaw; Warsaw Hardware, Warsaw; Western Auto, Warsaw; Rose Hill Trading Co., Rose Hill; Sam's Drug Store, Rose Hill; Kramer's Department Store, Wallace; Modern Beauty Shoppe, Mt. Olive; Mt. Olive Tribune, Mt. Olive; Patterson Furniture Co., Mt. Olive; and Thompson & Francis Super Market, Mt. Olive.

SPRING FASHION REVUE PICTURES

39 MODELS WHO APPEARED IN THE REVUE: Evelyn Wilkins, Rose Hill, Jr. 4-H; Alice Brown, Kenansville, Jr. 4-H; Kay Thigpen, Kenansville, Jr. 4-H; Beth Matlock, Rose Hill, Jr. 4-H; Doris Bishop, Magnolia, Jr. 4-H; Margaret Heyer, Rose Hill, Jr. 4-H; Joyce James, Chinquapin, Jr. 4-H; Patricia Herring, B. F. Grady, Sr. 4-H; Mrs. O. L. Holland, Friendly H. D.; Mrs. Robert Ward, Rockfish H. D.; Mrs. Tom Quinn, Morning, H. D.; Mary Ellen Broadhurst, Calypso 4-H; Gail

Grady, B. F. Grady, Jr. 4-H; Elizabeth Sutton, Warsaw, Jr. 4-H; Judy Hill, Warsaw, Jr. 4-H; Martha Sandlin, Beaulville, Jr. 4-H; Kay Green, Chinquapin, Jr. 4-H; Mrs. David Boney, Tin City, H. D.; Mrs. Henry Sanderson, East Magnolia H. D.; Mrs. Cecil Davis, Franklin H. D.; Mrs. Ralph Pickett, Bethany Chapel H. D.; Mrs. Marion Butler, Calypso H. D.; Mrs. Robert Herring, Penny Branch H.D.; Mrs. Walter Craft, Rose Hill, H. D.; Mrs. Cecil Korngay, Scotts Store H.D.; Leona

Boone, Magnolia Sr. 4-H; Carellene Maness, Warsaw Jr. 4-H; Donna Stafford, Wallace 4-H; Barbara Heyer, Wallace-Rose Hill, Sr. 4-H; Mary Vann Wilkins, Wallace - Rose Hill, Sr. 4-H; Mrs. Walter Rhodes, Cabin H.D.; Mrs. Edwin Wells, Jr., Teechee H.D.; Mrs. Rose Teechee, Island Creek H.D.; Mrs. Jane Fields, South Kenansville H.D.; Margaret Miller, Kenansville, Jr. 4-H; Mrs. Della Blalock, Mineral Springs H. D.; and Mrs. T. A. Jernigan, Summerlins H. D. (Lanier Photo.)

A Message From State President Kenneth Grady Is

Mrs. Ralph Proffit, President North Carolina Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs

North Carolina club members join 6 1-2 million club women in the United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska in observing this week as National Home Demonstration Week, April 28 — May 4.

In our state the theme is 'Home Demonstration Work Serves the People' and local clubs and county councils will observe the week in many ways.

A variety of events such as tours, teas, open houses, demonstrations, television and radio programs, new articles, flowers placed in local churches, exhibits and programs acquaint more people with our program which emphasizes the best in family living in our homes, communities, and our nation, and carries education toward it from local through international phases. This week also gives us an opportunity to recognize leaders throughout our state for their service and years of devotion to home demonstration work. Another aim of this week is to help farm families understand better our part in planning and carrying out the Extension program—a program which interprets to people the scope of home economics and its contribution to family and community life.

Your local Home Demonstration Agent's service is available to you only for the asking. The latest bulletins and printed materials are in her office waiting for you to take them home. We invite all homemakers throughout our state to join us and to put research findings into use in a thrilling, rewarding way in your own home for your family and in your community for others.

Your local Home Demonstration Agent's service is available to you only for the asking. The latest bulletins and printed materials are in her office waiting for you to take them home. We invite all homemakers throughout our state to join us and to put research findings into use in a thrilling, rewarding way in your own home for your family and in your community for others.

Pink Hill Youth Drowns In Effort To Save Brother

A 14 year old boy, Shafter D. Tyndall, drowned in the Waterring Ponds about three miles southeast of here at about 1 p.m. Sunday afternoon when he jumped in to save a younger brother.

The younger brother, Eugene, later said something 'big and black' came up in the water beside him and that he became frightened. He called for help, he told Kingston Fire Capt. O. W. Koonce and Lynwood Rouse of Kingston, and Shafter came to his aid.

The small boy made it back to the bank, but the older youth disappeared from sight beneath the water. He was pulled on the bank by rescuers between 10 and 20 minutes later, Koonce and Rouse said.

Koonce and Rouse, an employee of Garner's Funeral Home, took a resuscitator to the scene and worked on the body for an hour and a half before the youth was pronounced dead.

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tyndall of Pink Hill Rd. 1. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tyndall of Pink Hill Route 1; his brother; three sisters, Dorothy Mae, Mary Ann and Della Frances, all of the home. Also, his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lula West of Pollockville, and several uncles and aunts.

Funeral services were held from the home at 3 p.m. Tuesday conducted by Rev. Robert Craft, Holiness minister of Beaulville. Burial followed in Harper Cemetery near Irving's Crossroad. Classmates at Pink Hill school were pallbearers and flower girls.

Mrs. Paul Tyndall of Pink Hill, mother of Shafter Tyndall, who drowned Sunday, gave birth to another son in a Kingston hospital while funeral services for Shafter were being held. Mrs. Tyndall and new son are reported to be doing fine.

Teachers for the new high school will be the same school teachers now employed at Warsaw, Magnolia and Kenansville high schools.

Club Women Observe 12th. National Home Dem. Week

ADVISORS TO HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

MRS. JEAN G. HUE
Ass't. Duplin Home
Demonstration Agent

MRS. ALTA L. KORNGAY
Duplin County Home
Demonstration Agent

MRS. ANNIE G. BRITT
Ass't. Duplin Home
Demonstration Agent

Mrs. J. B. Stroud Is South Kenansville's Most Outstanding Member For The Year

The most outstanding member of South Kenansville Club is Mrs. J. B. Stroud. She was instrumental in getting the club started and has worked faithfully ever since. Not only does she work with our club but she takes an active part in church work. She teaches a Sunday School class, works with Girl Scouts is an officer in O.E.S. and is a grade mother for two grades.

She went to New York in January as a delegate from Duplin County to United Nations on a study tour and since has given a number of interesting reports on United Nations to clubs, schools and church groups. In addition to all her outside activities and club work, she has three children to care for and is a wonderful homemaker.

A Good Starter

MRS. J. B. STROUD

Duplin Sends 15 To Armed Services During April

Fifteen men from Duplin County were inducted into the U. S. Army during the month of April, according to Mrs. Margaret Oakley, Draft Board supervisor.

Those inducted were: Jessie Brown Best, Jarvis Barnes, McCoy David Williams, Norwood James Sanderson, Charles Edward Sanderson, Chester Belton Houston, Cleatis Earl Jones, Gerald Haywood Boyette, Milton Sumner, Viles Williams, Forrest Thomas Knowles, Hugh Franklin Sanderson, Macon Forrest Swinson, Frank Gene Wallace and Russell Guy Futrell.

The May induction, according to Mrs. Oakley is for five men on May 21. There will be no physical examinations in May.

Methodist Church

Rev. Tom Collins of Raleigh, Executive Secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the North Carolina Methodist Conference, will be the guest speaker at the local Methodist Church for the 11 a.m. services, Sunday, May 5.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

The occasion of the Twelfth National Home Demonstration Week presents an opportunity to let the people of the United States know the contributions to progress made by Home Demonstration Work.

The twelve years during which this week has been observed have seen significant changes in rural living. County, State and Federal Extension Services have joined forces to call attention to these changes which influence the home, the community, the state and the nation. It specifically points out the contributions that home demonstration work makes to homemakers in interpreting the results of research and successful experiences in the field of homemaking. The contributions which volunteer local leaders have made to the program should never be overlooked as these leaders furnish the real channel for getting the practices put into operation.

All groups interested in the development and improvement of the farm, home, and family should take advantage of National Home Demonstration Week to acquaint the general public, especially the younger families with the educational programs available through the Home Demonstration Agents and Home Demonstration Club work. The observance of this week should emphasize the importance of wise management decisions in home and family living, and increase the awareness of the influence of the home on the character and the personality of our youth. While the development of new skills and changed attitudes in the many phases of homemaking is important, the broader aspects of the problems of agriculture and their relation to local, national, and world economy must not be overlooked.

One of the fine programs being emphasized this year is the development of communities. Problems in connection with such projects emphasize the necessity of people learning to work together to accomplish goals that they cannot achieve as separate individuals or as separate families. The community is the logical place to demonstrate the democratic principles which have sustained this nation through its many trials and tribulations.

David S. Weaver, Director N. C. Agricultural Extension Service

Advance Notice Given Highway Racing Fans

The State Highway Patrol can use, and will use, unmarked patrol cars, AGAIN.

This is a warning to those people who have been using the highways of this area as a race track on many occasions.

Now that the law has come into effect, at least 21 per cent of the patrol cars can be unmarked, and the siren does not have to be used when pulling a speeding motorist, or anyone for the matter, unless it is at night.

The new law requires warning signs to be posted at highway entrances to the State of North Carolina alerting outsiders to the existence of the unmarked Patrol Cars.

The honoree received many lovely and useful gifts. One gift was a money tree.

Duplin, Sampson, Wayne Cotton Farmers Meet Here Next Thursday Discuss Policies

Tar Heel cotton growers, seemingly weary of an ailing industry, will hold a series of policy meetings during the first two weeks of May to discuss possible alternatives to present laws governing cotton production and marketing.

Area meetings will be held in the major cotton producing sections of the State, according to Will H. Rogers, director of organization for the North Carolina Farm Federation.

Fieldmen for the Federation will organize and conduct the meetings and will present the problems and suggested alternatives that were discussed at recent industry meeting held throughout the South cotton belt.

Sampson, Wayne and Duplin cotton men will meet in the Agricultural Building in Kenansville, Wednesday, May 8, Wake, Harnett and Johnston folks will meet in Smithfield at the American Legion Hut, Thursday, May 9.

Pleasant Grove Community Club Hears Garland King At Meeting Last Week

Garland P. King, Secretary-Treasurer, of the Kenansville Production Credit Association, was speaker at the Pleasant Grove Community Club Thursday night.

He told the group that if ever there was a time to look forward and not back, it is now. But to look around for new enterprises to take the place of reduced acreages of crops; to further mechanize farming and to try to make the allotted acres produce more and better crops. He said that he thought irrigation would play an important part in doing that in the future. He explained the different kinds of loans available to farmers and said he would be glad for them to come in and see him about their needs in the way of financial aid. He also pointed out that whatever affects the farmers, also affects the Production Credit Association and that the cost of borrowing money

Alternate Cotton Rows Now Eligible

In the past, many farmers have expressed a desire to plant cotton with an alternate row agreement.

It was announced today by Samuel T. Brown, Jr., Duplin Co. ASC office manager, that alternate rows in cotton will now be eligible deductions. The rows must be a normal row width. The smallest number of rows which may be left out is one to every four planted rows.

The arrangement must be uniform across the field. We hope that this information has not come to us too late that farmers will not be able to take advantage of this arrangement in coming this year, Brown said.

Duplin Teacher's Gift To Superintendent Johnson

On Friday night, March 22, at the NCEA Convention in Wilmington, Miss Lee Jackson, president of the Duplin Unit of NCEA presented the Silver Service in behalf of the teachers of Duplin County as a token of appreciation for his years of unselfish service to the teachers, children and association.

JUNIOR AND SENIOR 4-H DRESS REVUE

WINNERS. Reading left to right: Barbara Heyer, Rose Hill, 1st place; Beth Matlock, Rose Hill, 2nd place; Mary Vann Wilkins, Rose Hill, 3rd place in the senior contest; Margaret Heyer, Rose Hill, 1st place; Judy Hill, Warsaw, 3rd place; Alice Brown, Kenansville, 2nd place in the Junior Contest. — Photo by Daniel Lanier of Lanier's Studio in Wallace.

HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB DRESS REVUE WINNERS

reading left to right, Mrs. Rose Teechee, Island Creek Club, 3rd place; Mrs. Henry Sanderson, East Magnolia Club, 5th place; Mrs. Walter Craft, Rose Hill, 1st place; Mrs. Robert Herring, Penny Branch, 2nd place; Mrs. David Boney, Tin City, 6th place and Mrs. Robert Ward, Rockfish, 4th place winner. Photo by Daniel Lanier of Lanier's Studio in Wallace.

Magnolia, Warsaw, Local High Students To Attend School In Warsaw Next Year Pending Completion Of New Building

Warsaw school will be used for Warsaw School Board, Kenansville the consolidated James Kenan High School Board and Magnolia School, school at the beginning of the 1957-58 school year.

O. P. Johnson, County Superintendent, is necessary in order that the high school teaching program can be the move become official last week carried on from the beginning of and at a combined meeting of the school board when the new consolidated James Kenan School Board, Warsaw high school is completed, the high school students will be moved into the new structure without an interruption of studies and schedules.

Warsaw elementary school children will be divided and some sent to Kenansville and Magnolia. The Warsaw National Guard Armory will be used for a short while for elementary school classes.

It is expected that this arrangement will be necessary for about six weeks, Johnson said. Once the high school students are situated in the new building between Warsaw and Kenansville, the Warsaw elementary students will be returned to their regular class-