PINK HILL POSTMASTER RETIRES

Jasper Jones Smith

EDITORIAL

By J. R. Grady

Jasper Jones Smith son of Mrs. Catherine and the late Walter Smith of Smith Township was appointed by the Woodrow Wilson Administration on August 2, 1919 as postmaster at Pink Hill. At that time Pink Hill was a town that you could hardly drive through the sand. He took over the post office as the area was beginning to boom in the 1919 inflation. Pink Hill was a town at that time hardly known. 'Jap' took the post office under a democratic administration and gave service to areas within a 15 mile radius that had never known postal service before. He developed a post office that serves people, efficiently for miles around.

He retires as a great gentleman of the old south who talks very little but carries on his business efficiently. He is a farmer, an automobile dealer who does his business judicially, he is calm, collected and wholesome. We don't mean he is a saint but he is a hard headed business man. Prior to taking over the post office in Pink Hill he was a rural mail carrier at Deep Run. He is married to Carrie Stroud, daughter of Isaac Stroud in Kinston. They have four children, J. K. of Pink Hill, Mrs. Charles S. Sanders of San Antonio, Texas; Walter Howard Smith of Raleigh, Mrs. Richard Stroud of Pink Hill and five grandchildren. 'Jap' went to school in Smith township, from there to Trinity Prep School (now Duke University) he later was principal of Patetown school in Wayne County from there he went back home to Pink Hill where he became agent of the Kinston and Carolina railroad which at that time operated between Kinston, Deep Run and Pink Hill. In 1934 he became an auto dealer in Pink Hill and since that time he has developed real estate holdings in Pink Hill that have developed a greater Pink Hill. The Duplin Times takes its hat off to Jasper Jones Smith, we need more meh like him if we are going to build a better tomorrow.

Witchweed Is Discovered In Duplin Co.; Survey Efforts Concentrated In County

The dreaded witchweed has been found in Duplin and Pender Counties.

Vernon H. Reynolds, Duplin Farm Agent, said today that Walter Fedronko, with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has advised him that one plant of witchweed has been found in each county.

'The plants which were found have been destroyed,' Reynolds said. 'We are hoping to check the spread of witchweed by burning every specimen as soon as it is found and identified as witchweed.'

He further added, 'It will take the cooperation of all farmers in the counties hit by witchweed in order to wipe the killer out.'

Witchweed was found as the result of an extensive survey which was started last week by the USDA after witchweed was discovered in Sampson County. Since 37 cases were first discovered in Sampson, more cases have been found, the USDA reports.

'With more new cases being found in Sampson,' Fedronko said, 'our efforts are being doubled to determine just how fast it is spreading.'

Surveys are presently being concentrated along the Sampson County, Duplin - Pender line.

George Ammons Shot By Tenant

George Ammons, operator of Ammons Grill in the western edge of Kenansville was hospitalized Wednesday night from gun shot wounds inflicted by C. J. Murphy, a tenant of Ammons.

The shooting occurred between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock, while Ammons was seated in front of his place of business.

According to reports, Ammons went to his farm on which Murphy and family reside to see him about burning tobacco today. After finding out that Murphy was not at home, left word for Murphy to unload the cured tobacco from the barn for today's harvesting. Shortly after Murphy went to see Ammons and an argument ensued. Murphy left and went back home, later Ammons was seen to pass Ammons place of business four or five times before parking across the highway in front of Ammons Grill. Murphy fired at Ammons while sitting in his car and then drove off.

Sheriff Miller and Deputy Houston were called to the scene. Ammons was brought to Duplin General Hospital for treatment and was found to have gun shot wounds over the upper part of his body, on his arms and over his face. One shot pierced his left eye lid and it is not definite as to whether the vision of his eye is permanently impaired. Ammons was shot with number 4 shot, presumably from a 12 gauge shot gun.

Search for Murphy was begun immediately and continued until late Wednesday night. This morning he was arrested at Ralph Brown's garage and put in jail. Sheriff Miller said he would be charged with secret assault with intent to kill. No date has been set for a hearing.

August 15, 1957

Dear Mr. Grady:

Jonathan Daniels has asked that I send you a copy of his booklet, 'The Forest is the Future,' which has just been published by International Paper Company.

The growth of a new industry in a region like the South is bound to present many opportunities as well as many problems. In his study of the growth of the southern paper industry, Mr. Daniels has analyzed some of the most pressing problems of the region as well as some of its greatest opportunities.

I hope you will enjoy reading this booklet which is being mailed to you under separate cover. If you wish to have additional copies, I shall be very pleased to supply them.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Thelma D. Taylor has been re-employed as Superintendent of Public Welfare in Duplin County.

E. E. Kelly, chairman of the Board of Commissioners, said that Mrs. Taylor, who resigned in March reconsidered and is already back at her desk in the Welfare Building in Kenansville.

Since her resignation, County officials have been interviewing applicants for the position of Welfare Officer but have been unable to locate anyone with the necessary qualifications for the job.

'We are pleased that Mrs. Taylor reconsidered and has returned as our Welfare Officer,' Kelly said.

Revision Of South Carolina's Marriage Laws Listed; Also N. C. Marriage Laws

By MRS. CHRISTINE W. WILLIAMS, Register of Deeds

Since the North Carolina General Assembly recently enacted its new marriage laws several couples from this area have made trips to S. C. to obtain marriage licenses and found that they lacked the necessary credentials. As a public service, I am herewith giving the South Carolina marriage laws, and the North Carolina Marriage Laws in order that young people contemplating marriage, parents, ministers and counselors may understand the advantages of planning marriages in our County.

The requirements of South Carolina law for persons applying for marriage licenses are as follows: (Continued On Back Page)

'We are not able to pay for the heart operation.'

Those were the words of Mrs. Troy Horne, in Magnolia when asked how the heart operation on six-year-old Elizabeth Ann Whaley would be financed.

The Hornes, a family of moderate means and humble circumstances have cared for Elizabeth Ann since she was six months old. Now that the heart operation is a necessity for her to continue a normal life, the Hornes are confronted with a major problem.

'Our son is going to sell his car, and it looks like for sure we will have to sell our deep freeze,' she said.

Horne, employed by the State of North Carolina, is a highway foreman and receives, after deductions, $284 monthly. He suffered a heart attack six years ago and has been under doctor's care since.

Mrs. Horne is a diabetic and insulin is required daily. In addition to this, the care of Elizabeth Ann over the years has been expensive.

The Hornes and Elizabeth Ann live in a three - room house.

Dr. C. F. Hawes, her physician, said today that he hopes the North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and the Heart Association will assist with the financing of the heart operation at Duke Hospital.

Elizabeth Ann's father, Johnny W. Whaley, who has been located in the U. S. Army has said he would sign an affidavit permitting the operation. Elizabeth Ann does not receive an allotment from her father. The affidavit has not yet arrived but the Red Cross has advised that it is in the mail.

It was learned today from M-Sgt. Allen Fountain, recruiting officer who re-located Whaley, that Whaley swore at the time of his enlistment that he was single and had no dependents.

In addition to Elizabeth Ann, Whaley has two other children, Johnny, Jr., 7, and Mary Sue, 8. Mrs. Horne said today that she received a telephone call this week from Norfolk, Va., asking the whereabouts of the other two children.

Mrs. I. H. Dillenger, maternal grandmother, said in the phone call she was under the impression that Johnny, Jr., and Mary Sue were with the Whaley relatives. The (Continued On Back Page)

Revival Services Be Held Pink Hill Presbyterian Church

On the 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th of August Mr. James Nichols, a student in Union Theological Seminary Richmond, Va., who has been assisting Rev. N. F. Farrior in the Pink Hill field this summer, will deliver a series of four sermons in which he will point out the significance of preparation for Christian work, and the mission of the church.

Mr. Nichols' sermon topics will be: The Nature of Salvation, the nature of the Church, The Mission of the Church, and the Sin of Doing Nothing.

Services will begin at eight o'clock each evening. These services will be the last in which Mr. Nichols will participate in these churches this summer.

Duplin County Tax Valuation Up Over 1956

Duplin County tax valuation increased $14,234,144 this year over the 1956 valuation, according to Faison W. McGowan, County Auditor and Tax Supervisor.

McGowan points out that the new tax valuation is $54,084,786. The 1956 tax valuation was $39,850,642.

The increase is due to a 50 per cent across the board increase on all real estate.

The tax rate, however, was dropped from $1.70 in 1956 to $1.25 this year on each $100 valuation.

300 Gallon Still Destroyed Tuesday Near Warsaw

The crow must have been out, said Duplin Sheriff Ralph Miller. His reference was to the 300 gallon liquor still which County officers found and destroyed Tuesday near Warsaw.

When officers arrived, they not only found a 'hot rig' but also four complete cases of illegal white whiskey. The whiskey had been left behind when officers arrived.

On the raid were Deputies W. O. Houston, T. E. Revella, R. M. Byrd and M. D. Shiver.

Questions Answered On Nickels-For-Know-How Vote; Cotton Up

Many questions have been asked about the Nickels-For-Know-How program and what it is designed to do. With the referendum coming up tomorrow, the Weekly Gazette prints several questions and answers which may enlighten some of those who will vote on exactly what they will be voting for.

Farmers will also be voting in a Cotton Referendum tomorrow. They will decide if they are to pay 10 cents per bale of cotton which will be used in cotton research to improve cotton strains and quality.

THE PLAN

Q. What is the 'Nickels for Know-How' proposal?

A. It is a plan to continue to expand agricultural research and education in North Carolina through a farmer contribution of five cents per ton on all feed and fertilizer sold in the state.

Q. Who originated it?

A. It originated with the farm organizations and agricultural leaders in North Carolina. The General Assembly of North Carolina passed the enabling act in 1951 which permits farm people to arrange for this contribution.

Q. Why a special contribution? Why don't we pay for more research out of our regular tax money?

A. North Carolina has such a diversified agriculture — such a varied climate, so many different crops, insects, diseases and weed problems that even the generous appropriations passed by the recent sessions of the General Assembly fall short of needs.

Q. Doesn't this special contribution tend to reduce Federal and State appropriations for research?

A. No. In fact, private contributions tend to increase appropriations. Past experience shows that a state legislature feels more like helping a group which is already helping itself.

THE VOTE

Q. When will the referendum be held?

A. On August 23, 1957. Polling places are listed elsewhere in The Gazette for Lenoir County. Polling places will open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 6:30 p.m.

Q. Where will the voting be conducted?

A. In most communities, the voting place will be the same as that used in ABC elections, plus others in the County Nickels for Know-How Committee will add. Poll locations will be announced locally and advertised with posters.

Nickels For Know-How Voting Tomorrow

Q. Must I vote in my own Township?

A. No. You may vote wherever it is most convenient for you to vote. However, you will be asked to sign an election roster wherever you vote so as to avoid duplicate ballots.

Q. Do I have to register especially for the referendum?

A. No.

Q. Who is eligible to vote?

A. As in the past two votings in 1951 and 1954, all persons who use feed or fertilizer and their wives (Continued on Back Page)
