TIGERS EDGE BURGAW 14-13

The Tiger's of Kenan Central nosed out the Red Devil's of Burgaw High last Friday night 14-13 on the strength of Johnny 'Wagon Wheel' Godbold's extra point kicking.

Kenan Central took a seven point lead in the second period when Godbold scored from the one after a drive which started on the Tiger's 45 yard line. Godbold's first of two important points after touchdown followed the TD.

The Red Devil's fought back into command with a pair of touchdowns in the third quarter with Morris Herring climaxing a Burgaw march from his own 38 yard line by going over from the one, but the extra point was no good. Moments later Herring intercepted a Tiger pass on the Kenan 45 and raced for the second Red Devil tally. Mike Bork passed to Morris Murray for the

To The Citizens Of Duplin County.

As Sheriff of Duplin County I feel it highly desirable to report to the people of Duplin County on the facts as I have found them surrounding the incident which occurred at the Wallace Town Jail on the night of September 19th, involving several county law enforcement officers and one Bobby Cavanaugh. In the course of my investigation I interviewed Everett Murray, an employee of the Town of Wallace, who personally saw and witnessed the entire incident, and Bobby Cavanaugh whose public explanation to the press was the same as stated to me and others on several occasions.

Knowing that the citizens of Duplin County wish to see fair play at all times and that they do not wish to see an innocent man condemned, I have, in view of the investigation and in respect to the talents of Norwood Boone as an excellent law enforcement officer of many years training and experience re-appointed him as Deputy Sheriff of Duplin County. As County Sheriff it has been my aim to operate the Office of Sheriff without blot or stigma to the best of my ability. In the performance of my duty I feel it my obligation under the constitution to protect the innocent as well as bringing the guilty to justice. I have acted, I believe, or the best interests of all concerned, to preserve order and establish justice.

RESIGNS CHURCH POSTS
Rev. M. M. Turner has resigned his pastorate of the Calypso Baptist Church, effective the last of November. He plans to teach in the Mt. Olive schools.

Rev. J. A. Mahoney resigned as pastor of the Faison Methodist church, which includes the Calypso church, several weeks ago to return to California. The Presbyterian churches in Calypso and Faison have been without a pastor for some time. It appears that soon Calypso will not have a pastor of any denomination soon unless the churches succeed in securing new ministers.

Civic Clubs And Churches Having Feeds Come Under State Foodhandling Laws

Duplin County Civic Clubs and churches are reminded by County Sanitarian Joe Costin about the law governing foodhandling.

Costin points out that civic clubs and churches come under a State law which prohibits them from selling foods to the general public and advertising foods for general public consumption. If these clubs and churches do sell to the general public, they must have a sanitation inspection and given a permit to sell such food items.

The North Carolina Attorney General has ruled on the case and says, "It seems to me that the type of establishment over which the N. C. State Board of Health has jurisdiction is limited to those establishments who serve the public in general and who solicit and invite the general public to become their patrons and who hold themselves out as ready to serve any member of the general public without distinction. It is my opinion that the N. C. State Board of Health does not have jurisdiction over or authority to inspect and make sanitary grades for private clubs who limit their services and their preparation and sales of food to select and exclusive groups who are members of such clubs and their invited guests. Such clubs are not open to the public at large and I do not think that the above quoted statute is sufficiently explicit and broad enough in its scope to cover the private club type of establishment. The same would be true as to churches serving dinner and food to their members, or who occasionally serve a luncheon or dinner for a civic group."

"We might summarize the above briefly as follows:
1. Private clubs or civic organizations that cater only to their membership and invited guests do not come under the provision of the law.
2. Churches serving occasional meals to THEIR MEMBERSHIP do not come under the provision of the law.
3. Clubs, churches, or civic organizations which cater to sell tickets and advertisement to the general public are subject to the provision of the law.

Cakes, Pies, Cookies and Candies
Recently there have been questions as to the regulations governing the preparation and sale of home baked cakes, cookies, pies, etc. These items are not under the supervision of the Local Health Department.

However, there are definite rules and regulations covering these items and enforced by the Food and Drug Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Persons who are baking cookies, cakes and making candy at home for the purpose of sale to the general public should contact the Raleigh office of that department.

Bizzell Johnson Shoots Assailant Saturday; Shot Man In Hospital

Jesse Felton of Elizabeth City remains in critical condition in Duplin General Hospital from the pistol wound inflicted Saturday night by a prominent young Duplin farmer, Bizzell Johnson, of Rose Hill. Sheriff Ralph Miller said today that the .22 calibre pistol bullet went through Felton's intestines and the bullet lodged in the lower part of the spine.

Johnson, who reported the incident to the Sheriff's Department, is out of jail on a $5,000 bond. He is charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Johnson said he did not know the youths and had never seen them before they stopped him near Rose Hill Saturday afternoon. Bobby Bradshaw and Forest James Casteen, of the Magnolia community, are still in Duplin jail under $500 and $300 bonds respectively for being part of the attack on Johnson.

Sheriff Miller said his investigation reveals that Felton, Bradshaw, Casteen, Dalton Brown and Sam Houston were riding around "drinking" and saw Johnson, who was on his way to look after turkeys on his farm near Rose Hill.

He left the boys, who followed him and attacked him after he had been to his farm. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace C. C. Hester Saturday night, after the shooting around 5:30 p.m., Saturday, it was learned that Felton, Bradshaw and Casteen threatened Johnson with knives.

Johnson said he went to his truck, took out a pistol and fired once at the ground trying to scare the boys. They continued coming at Johnson and he said he backed up and fired into the three boys charging him. The bullet struck Felton.

As soon as Johnson could reach Johnson.

Duplin ASC Sets Nov. 2 Tentative Moving Date

November 2, is the tentative date set for the Duplin ASC office to move back into its permanent and larger headquarters in the basement of the Duplin County Agriculture Building.

Sam Brown, County ASC office manager, said the date set for the moving depends entirely on whether the new addition is completed.

The ASC office was moved to temporary headquarters in Kenansville after it became apparent that the space available for the ASC was too small and an additional wing was necessary.

The Board of County Commissioners voted to construct the wing, with the cost being approximately $8,000.

Brown said with the new wing and re-arranged office space, the Duplin ASC will have approximately 1,000 square feet of additional floor space. The offices total approximately 2,200 square feet of storage and office space.

In addition arrangements have been made to accommodate from four to six farmers at one time in the office. In the old office, only two to three could be handled at the counter at one time.

Shelf-filing is being installed, which will also give more floor space. Brown said it is estimated that with shelf-filing of permanent five year records it will give up to 60 per cent more space in the filing room.

In the newly renovated basement, a larger waiting room has been provided. It will seat 20 farmers comfortably. The old waiting room was crowded with eight farmers in it.

The new set up will have two performance rooms during the peak of the season. During the slack periods of ASC work, one of the performance rooms will be used for conferences.

Twos Tough!

We think we have tough breaks. Listen to this:

James Miller of Beulaville made a business trip into the western part of the state last Friday and enroute encountered car trouble which cost him delays and expense. Saturday night someone broke into his hardware store and made away with about $30 in cash, all his automatic shot guns and rifles, cleaned out his safe, including some permanent records. The thieves forced open the back door to the store.

Tuesday morning fire broke out in the kitchen of his wife's restaurant in Beulaville and the fire department had to be called. Not too much damage was done. The fire broke out from a gas grill. Quick work by Mr. Miller with fire extinguishers kept it under control until the fire department arrived. Most damage was to a newly painted wall.

1st Annual Negro 4-H Poultry Show Set For Oct. 31

The first Annual Negro 4-H Poultry Show and Sale will be held October 31, 1957 on the Colored School Campus in Kenansville, at 10:00 a.m.

Six girls and boys received 50 birds each through the 4-H County Council to establish the first links in the chain. The 4-Hers agreed to grow the pullets and return seven to the 4-H Council for sale. The proceeds from the sale will be used to purchase chicks in 1958 to add new links to the chain.

The 4-H Poultry project may be considered at three fold. First, to teach the fundamental management practices involved in poultry production. Secondly, the chain will create an incentive for parents to produce poultry as a means of supplementary farm income or as their major source of income. Third, the chain will be a means of getting birds to lay pure birds in the County.

The chicks that will be offered for sale will be approaching the laying stage. The public will be invited. Entering birds in the show this year are: Sanford Lane of Little Creek, Benjie Hargrove of Cherry, Peggy Dobson of Stanford, James Branch of Route 2, Mt. Olive, Gwendolyn Pickett of Chincapin, and Miss William of Muddy Creek.
