Duplin Farmers Urged To Increase Egg Production; Markets Are Available

The out-of-state Egg Market obtained for the Duplin County egg producers through the efforts of the County Agent's office has resulted in the rapid expansion of commercial egg flocks within the county. No longer are commercial producers thinking in terms of hundreds of birds, now the trend is to 1,000 to 10,000 size flocks.

These eggs must also be clean and of high inferior quality. With this high quality program, Duplin County eggs are gaining recognition and attracting increasing attention from other out of state markets. Recently representatives from markets in Maryland and New York have heard of the high quality of the Duplin County eggs, were in the county searching for egg supplies to fill their needs. However, since a guaranteed market has already been established for more eggs than can be supplied at present time, it is suggested that they contact neighboring counties in eastern North Carolina.

"Since Duplin County has been recognized for producing high quality eggs, the producers here in the county should redouble their efforts to produce even higher quality eggs," Jasper said, "so the demand will continue to increase in the future."

Several feed dealers in Duplin County have formed an organization known as the RAB Egg Market in Wallace, and signed a contract with this out of state market to haul the eggs from this area. At the present time this market will take all the high quality eggs that can be delivered.

These feed dealers now collect the eggs from producers twice a week and maintain them under constant refrigeration. Then once a week the RAB's hauler picks up the eggs from the feed man in a refrigerated truck and hauls them to this out of state market. This market will only handle high quality eggs which means that these eggs must be picked up at least four times a day and kept in egg coolers on the farm.

Grady defeated the New Hope Boys for their 3rd straight win with a 68 to 33 victory while the Grady girls got revenge for the earlier defeat on the losers court with an over - whelming 80 - 46 victory.

In the same Boys game Friday night Franklin Stafford led the Panther attack with 11 points. Grantham held the lead only for the opening minutes at B. F. Grady quickly moved out in front and led the rest of the game, leading by as much as 44-33 in the second half but two regular fouls out in the closing minutes of the game and Grantham managed to pull up to 46 - 44. Mike Goodson was fouled with seconds to go and made the first shot to wrap it up for the Panthers. In Tuesday's nights game Tom Stround was high scorer with 18 points. Goodson hit on four straight set shots in the opening minutes and from then on the Panthers scored at will, as every one played. Harper with 16 points, Hill with 14 and Goodson with 12 led most of the scoring along with Stround.

Friday night the B. F. Grady girls were edged out in the closing minutes by a very fine Grantham girls team. Grady led up to the closing minutes but costly fouls cost them the game. Tuesday night they got revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of the New Hope girls. Pat Harper with 48 points, Jean Howard with 17, and Betty Lou with 11 paced the scoring. who are buying or selling farmland for which an acreage allotment has been established have a definite responsibility for becoming familiar with the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture governing combination and division of allotments and for advising county ASC committees when purchases or sales have been made. According to Rufus Elks, Duplin ASC Office Mgr. for ASC State Committee, county ASC committees are not in a position to know of all land sales and purchases and therefore they cannot make a change in the acreage allotment for the land involved until a request for a division or a combination is filed by the interested producer. The Department of Agriculture has issued definite regulations and instructions on how allotments may be divided or combined.

County ASC Committees must follow these regulations in all cases. Many farmers have had some unhappy experiences in the past because they did not determine in advance how the acreage allotments would be divided before they bought or sold land covered by the allotments.

Elks further brought out that both the buyer and the seller have a responsibility for notifying the county ASC office as soon as possible after land is sold and for requesting the county ASC committee to make a division of the allotment for the farm if only a part of the farm is sold. If the purchaser owns other land and wishes to combine the newly purchased land with what he already owns he must file a request with the county committee for the combination.

The county committee, according to Elks may not approve a combination unless the tracts are operated in the manner prescribed in the Secretary's regulations. Before approving a combination ASC committees are also required to determine that a legal deed has been made and recorded in connection with the newly purchased land.

Elks further urged that lawyers or real estate agencies who are handling the sale or purchase of farmland or who are advising farmers in such transactions become familiar with the regulations before advising their clients in completing any transac-

Woman Dies From Injuries When Struck By Car - Child Hurt

A 45-year-old Negro woman was fatally injured and her two-year-old daughter hurt when they were struck by an automobile in the Summerlin's Crossroads community last Friday.

Mrs. Eged Hill died in Wayne Memorial hospital Saturday of injuries sustained in the mishap. She suffered multiple internal injuries and a fractured pelvis and left leg.

Her daughter, Linda, whom she was carrying in her arms, was not seriously hurt, although she is a patient in Wayne Memorial hospital, according to T. A. Bryan of Faison, Patrolman.

Albert Daniel Dail of route 1, driver of the car, has been charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and possession of tax-paid whiskey with the seal broken, and with manslaughter.

According to Bryan, Dail was traveling east on a rural dirt road and the Hill woman was walking west on the right hand side of the road. He said Dail's car cut across the road and the front of the vehicle struck the woman.

The daughter was examined for injuries by physicians and released, thinking she was not hurt. However, later she was unable to walk and was taken to the hospital, Bryan said.

Corn Farmers To Vote November 25

Duplin County corn growers themselves will help determine the corn program which will be in effect in 1959 and later years, according to Vernon H. Reynolds, County agent.

On November 25 growers will vote in each of the state's 32 commercial corn counties. Duplin is one of the 32.

Reynolds urged every eligible farmer to take time to consider the issues involved and then to accept the responsibility of voting on November 25.

Voters will have two choices:

1. Under the new program there would be no acreage allotments or designated commercial corn producing areas. All corn producers would be eligible for price supports without any restrictions on acreage. The level of price supports would be 90 per cent of the average corn price received by farmers during the three preceding years, or 65 per cent of parity, whichever is higher.

2. A continuance of the present program. Under this program acreage allotments and the designation of commercial corn counties would remain in effect. Price supports would be guaranteed within a range of 75 to 90 per cent of parity, depending upon the corn supply situation. Because of very heavy corn supplies, the allotment for 1959 would probably be about 33,000,000 acres, approximately 15 per cent lower than in 1958.

The November 25 corn referendum differs from most votes of its type in that farmers will have the say - a simple majority of all producers in the 1958 commercial area who vote will determine which of the alternatives will be in effect in 1959. No two-thirds vote is required.

Buy Your Christmas Seals To Help In Fight Against Dreaded Tuberculosis

A great deal of progress has been made in the treatment of tuberculosis in the past 30 years, however TB is still as contagious today as it was 30 years ago. TB remains our country's NUMBER 1 infectious disease.

Many people are complacent about the fight against TB and feel they do not have to continue the fight. Many perhaps would indeed change their minds if they could have seen the 15 year old Duplin County girl being brought into the health Department in the arms of her father about 8 months ago. She weighed exactly 63 pounds - she was too weak to eat much less walk - she had far advanced tuberculosis. Today through the combined efforts of the Health Department, T. B. association and State Sanatorium, this girl is much improved and very hopeful of some day leading a normal life.

There are many such cases in our county - there are many unknown cases that should be found. The fight against TB must continue. If you are among those who are complacent ask one of the 26 Duplin County Sanatorium patients just how complacent one can be about TB or ask a member of their family or friends how they felt until they found out they were safe.
