Notes

"How Good Is Our School," seems to have been the watch words of the parents and teachers of the Douglass High School Parent and Teacher Association during the month. As a result of the expressed interest in the total school program, and how well it is educating the boys and girls for occupations: For College; For Adult Life (For Citizenship, and How it is serving the needs of our modern society, became familiar sounds from the lips of some two hundred (200) parents as they gathered in a special meeting held in the school auditorium to discuss with the association's President, Henry Martin and the Principal, W. E. Smith, just what steps that might be taken to bring to the attention of the four hundred (400) parents of the school district the many problems that are in need of consideration if the Boys and Girls of the school are to receive the type of training that would enable them to become well rounded and useful citizens of the community.

Among the many problems mentioned by the parents, appeared that their interest was centered along the lines of: (1) Education, (2) Curriculum Diversification to meet the Present Day Educational Needs of the Boys and Girls; (3) School Education and Legislation for Lay-Participation, (4) and a Greater Understanding in the Layman's Participation in Good Citizenship Activities.

Realizing that if the parents were to receive any consideration as to the questions raised there must be some re-organization and re-evaluation of the work of the P. T. A., Mrs. J. G. Henry was named chairman of a special committee, composed of the following teachers, Henry L. Martin, Jr., Mrs. T. D. Williams, Mrs. M. D. Kenan and W. E. Foster, who were to outline what was needed to carry out such a progressive program. The committee in working closely with the principal, supervisor and state congress of parents and teachers, suggested that the following study groups be established: (1) School Education, (2) Citizenship, (3) Health and Safety Education, (4) Legislative Education, (5) and Parent and family Life Education; and to have the entire P. T. A. Membership working on one or the other study groups, along with a member of the faculty.
