Chinquapin Defeats North Duplin

Myrna Lanier led the Chinquapin girls with 38 points to a 74-62 victory over North Duplin last Wednesday night in a conference game. McCullan and S. McCullan led the losers with 32 and 24 points (continued on back)

Myrna Lanier Attracts Attention Of AAU Scouts and Local Fans With Play

Myrna Lanier has always stood out and shoulders above the girls to whom she is associated. This is even more true now.

She hit her peak in basketball performance recently when she scored 31 points in a basketball game against arch rival Beulaville in a game which saw Chinquapin score 108 points and Beulaville 104.

In the next outing against B. F. games, 175 points, is believed to be one of the highest totals in North Carolina and possibly the United States in Girls' Basketball.

In all games where Myrna is soaring into high figures, she lives a rough life - under the boards and from the visiting spectators.

With her 5 feet 11 inches and 150 pounds, she is able to withstand most of the court pressure. Spectators have never bothered her much. "I usually don't hear what they Grady, Myrna, 17, came through with 84 points. Her total for two say," she said. She does recall one incident a couple of years ago when a young fellow sat under the basketball goal and every time she would score would yell, "William Wadsworth Longfellow." His persistence soon got through to her, but it did not effect her scoring.

Myrna, who could play right under the basket, finds that she is more effective on a two hand, overhead, jump shot from about eight to 12 feet from the basket. However, when she is under the basket her 7 foot 6 inch reach comes in handy.

As a freshman at Chinquapin school, she did not see much action. However, as a sophomore she averaged 48 points per game and last year had an average of 54 points. Her average this year is 51 points. Already her ability and agility (continued on back)

Town Of Beulaville Water Supply At Emergency Stage; New Pump Installed

In the past few months the town officials have been having headaches on top of headaches with the water supply of Beulaville. The town has been out of water several times due to the sand filtering to the pump and lines. A state emergency was declared by the town Board and Mr. Harry E. Lande, geologist, from Raleigh, is contacted. Tuesday night Mr. Grande met with the Town Board and reported that he had analyzed the Beulaville water and found that it contained very few minerals and a very small amount of iron. He stated that the town's water is good. It seems that the trouble has been due to sand filtering into the pump and water lines and that it was suggested, and recommended that the town contact J. C. Hartfield of Kinston who connected with the Heater Well Company. The Board did so and Mr. Hartfield reported that a Gravel pump type well was needed, which would solve the sand problem.

Kinston Youth Is Charged With Beulaville Wreck

Amos Kranklin Davis, 17 year old youth of route 4 Kinston is charged with failure to yield to right of way which resulted in a wreck in the town of Beulaville Monday morning, around 9:15.

Crop Insurance Officials Meet Here

Federal Crop Insurance Officials met here on Thursday, January 23, to discuss the 1958 All-Risk Crop Insurance Program, and shown before the discussion got under way are, front row, left to right; H. Kellum James, District Supervisor; Emma S. Lockamy, County Office Representative; Earl Hule, County Sales Agent. Second row: Andrew Scott, County Sales Agent; G. E. Alphin, County Sales Agent; Roland James, County Sales Agent. Third row; Percy Gavin; Murphy Simpson, County Sales Agent, and Reid Smith, Fieldman of the Eastern District.

The District Supervisor and Fieldman of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation met with Duplin County Agents who will contact tobacco farmers on the 1958 All-Risk Crop Insurance program.

It was brought out in the meeting that the insurance does not compete with hail and fire insurance policies sold by local agents. It provides protection against weather damages such as excessive rain, drought, plant diseases, and many other things beyond the tobacco farmer's control. It amounts to a "guarantee" that the tobacco producer will get back his cash production cost each year.

Mrs. Emma S. Lockamy is in charge of the local office and will explain the protection to those who call on her. She is located in the Agriculture Building.

Tobacco growers who are not already insured may also contact any of the above pictured representatives whose communities are listed after their names; Gilbert E. Alphin, Jr., Wolfesboro; Earl Hule, Warsaw; Percy Gavin, Warsaw. John A. Scott Kenansville; Henry Carter, East of Wallace; Roland James, Island Cr.; J. R. Halso, Chinquapin; Murphy Simpson, Beulaville - Lyman.

Miss Brackett has been in Fayetteville for the past 18 months, having transferred from Atlanta, Georgia. She is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and was with the Veterans Administration in Atlanta.

Following the program there will be a short business meeting of sections. There will be a social hour at the end of the meeting.

CROP REPORT

Word has just been received that we can now sign no more acreage reserve agreements for tobacco. As on corn we are taking the farmer's name, address, and the number of acres he wants to put in acreage reserve. If and when we receive an allocation the farmers will be notified on the basis of first-come, first served.

The final figures of signed agreements are:

Agreements	No. Acres	Amount
Corn	329	4389.9
Cotton	118	396.4

Uncle Pete From Chittlin Switch

I heard about a feller onct who always put a dollar and a dime in the church envelope for foreign missions, with this note: "The dime is for their heathens, and the dollar is for the missionaries to git it to 'em."

I want to pitch part of my sermon today around that thought.

The reason we got such high federal taxes is because all the states in the Union is always running to Washington to git something. They demand "States Rights" but spend half their time in Washington begging. And like the feller on foreign missions, we send a dollar up there to fetch back a dime.

Am' what disturbs me is that we seem so grateful for the dime.

It reminds me of the story about the Indian and his dog. The Indian feller service a piece of the dog's own tail. The Indian started feeding the front end of his dog by cutting off a piece of the tail end. He kept this up till the dog had eat hisself up. The story goes that ever time the Indian give the dog a bite the dog licked his chops for more.

That's us, Mister Editor, on this federal aid business. Ever time we git that dime back we lick our chops for more. We've been feeding the front end from the back end so long that it's beginning to hurt us at both ends.

The tail has been wagging the dog

F. B. W. Convention Approves $1/2 Million Drive For College

Mt. Olive, Feb. 1 - Free Will Baptists in unprecedented numbers descended upon Mount Olive Junior College in a special session of their State Convention and unanimously approved plans for a campaign to raise a half million dollars for the College during the next three years, the Reverend Michael Pelt, secretary of the Convention, announced today.

An extra session of the Free Will Baptist State Convention, the first to be called in 25 years, was necessary by the rapid growth of Mount Olive Junior College which opened here in 1954 with 22 students but which has grown to an enrollment of 101 students for the current school year.

The College, located on a three-acre lot in Mount Olive, recently purchased fifty acres of land near its present site, and is currently working on plans for the development of the new campus.

M. L. Johnson, business manager of the College, revealed that the financial assets of the College have increased 700 percent since coming here. "The support given the College by churches and friends has exceeded all expectation," the Reverend David Hansley of Kinston and Chairman of the College Board of Directors, declared.

The keynote address at the Convention was delivered by J. W. Batten, principal of Micro High School, who said, "Mount Olive Junior College is the greatest challenge for Christian Higher Education ever to confront Free Will Baptists, and it is here that we must share our part of the responsibility of providing higher education for the youth of our church and state."

In presenting the need for additional buildings, President W. Burkette Raper declared, "Our concern in Mount Olive Junior College must be the type of education we offer our students. This institution prefers to be known for the quality of its work and not its size." The Convention went on record as endorsing the concept that Mount Olive Junior College be made a citadel for liberal arts education in keeping with the highest Christian and academic standards.

Duplin Classroom Teachers To Hear Mrs. Cartright At Meeting James Kenan High

Mrs. Hazel Cartright of Raleigh, president of the Classroom Teachers Association of North Carolina, will be the guest of the Duplin County Unit of Classroom Teachers on February the 12th at 3:15 o'clock. This meeting will be held at the James Kenan High School. Other guests will be Mrs. Pauline Lougest of Fayetteville Southeast; C. T. A. president Miss Lois Lambe, also of Fayetteville.

The Duplin C. T. A. has 132 members. The objects of the C. T. A. are the same as those of the N.C.E.A. of which it is a unit. On the National level it ranks equally with N. C. E. A.

Prominent among its many activities is the raising of money for the Mary Morrow Scholarship Fund. Proceeds from which help to send some future teacher through college. The present recipient is a member of the Senior Class at the University of North Carolina. The officers of the Duplin Unit are Mrs. Sallie C. Ingram, of the James Kenan High School, Mrs. Nina Gardner of the B. F. Grady High School, and Miss Grace Sanderson of the Wallace Elementary School.

It is hoped that all C. T. A. members will attend the meeting and any other teachers who are interested.

Conserving North Carolina's Water to Be Considered By Water Commissioners

Action aimed at insuring the conservation and wise use of North Carolina's water resources will be given detailed consideration when the State Board of Water Commissioners and its 16-member Advisory Committee meet here on February 1.

W. H. Riley, the Board's executive secretary, announced plans for the meeting today. He described the scheduled event as "very possibly the most important meeting to be held by the Board since its establishment in 1955."

Riley explained that after more than two years of collecting and analyzing information relating to
