James Kenan High Notes

Although the Seniors have not had a class meeting lately, they have been busy with such activities as selling magazines and annual ads. Industrious magazine salesmen kept doorbell ringing until the Senior cash register rang to the tune of a two-hundred dollar profit. Even before these sales ended, annual staff members were covering this area selling ads. So far, $600 worth of ads have been sold, and we have to sell even more to have the best possible annual. As you can see, we're a busy group with our minds on finances. Could this be due to a trip we are hoping to make next spring?

The Senior Class
