RALEIGH ROUNDUP

THE LAST? . . . A lot of the legislators we have talked with during the past few days seem to think this may be the last session of the N. C. General Assembly to be held in the State Capitol.

When both houses are in session, humming and grinding away at the bills, the place seems overcrowded. Three high school social science classes can fill the upstairs galleries to overflowing. The seats there are the narrow, high-backed type that we used to have in our churches.

MUSAEUM. You can sit in the gallery of House or Senate - and particularly in the House-for 30 minutes sometimes and catch only a word or two of what is transpiring in the well below. And to climb from the ground floor of the Capitol up the four flights of steep stairs to the over-looking galleries is the equal of a five-bloek run at full gallop.

Now the beauty of our legislative halls in North Carolina is tremendous. We heard a famous artist refer to it one time as "breath-taking." We would not go that far for we are not that artistic-but our State Capitol is a thing of beauty, inside and out. But when walking through it, visiting a friend when offices there, or greeting legislators in the rotunda, I sometimes have the feeling that I am in a museum-piece.

COMPARISON. . . . If we were to spend five years of State taxes on our new Legislative Building as we did 120 years ago for our State Capitol, the cost would five times $500,000,000 or two billion five-hundred-million dollars!

hear that a lot of the members have a idea of the burden of putting up a building which cost $531,673.48 in 1833-1840-and of how our State taxes have increased from $180,000 per year to $500,000,000 in six generations.

SQUAT. . . . No within the next few days you will likely hear and read more about a new legislative building. With the present set-up, only the Lieutenant Governor, you hear a great deal of talk about the certainty of this Legislature adopting a State Minimum Wage Law, don't bet your last dollar on it. While everybody says the law is needed, strange winds blow. We hear that a lot of the members who came sailing into town plumping for it two weeks ago are slowing down a little. Those opposing North Carolina's telling employe's what they must pay their help point out that no other state south of Delaware and east of the Mississippi has a State Minimum Wage Law. Also the talk of a bill calling for a dollar-an-hour minimum wage was slowing some of them down to a walk last week. But the Governor's pushing . . . and so is Frank Crane.

MINIMUM WAGE. . . . Although you hear a great deal of talk about the certainty of this Legislature adopting a State Minimum Wage Law, don't bet your last dollar on it. Also the talk of a bill calling for a dollar-an-hour minimum wage was slowing some of them down to a walk last week. But the Governor's pushing . . . and so is Frank Crane.

NOTES. . . . The average number of bills introduced at one of our North Carolina legislative sessions is about 2,000 . . . but at the rate they are being dropped into the hopper this time, the number is expected to run close to 3,000 - a large proportion of them affecting only one county . . . or only one community in the county . . .

House Bill No. 56, introduced by Veterans Raynor Woodward on Thursday, February 12 . . . was over in the Senate side, and the Speaker of the House, and the chief clerks of the two houses have important committees and their stenographers squat for a dictating session wherever they can find a chair. Many an old courtroom in this State has better bathroom facilities than our State Capitol.

Carl Gorech story - teller publisher, aviator, and the man who has been reporting doings-of-the-Legislature for more than a quarter of a century . . . has hit it lucky . . . with the National Executives Club, which lists among its speakers the best in the land . . . Gorech has just been informed that he has been added to their select group . . . and will hit the banquet circuit for Executives Clubs soon after he and Mrs. Gorech return from a two-months tour of Europe with Edmond Harding's cruise . . . and Carl also plans to have Mrs. Gorech with him Executing. They pay a fee for each appearance . . . and Gorech figures the two combined will be enough for a nice, speaking tour of America . . . and here's wishing them luck . . . and fun . . . when all this gets under way several months hence . . .

The N. C. Society for Crippled Children and Adults, whose Easter Seal Drive begins on February 17, has extended direct aid to 50,000 disabled persons in this State since its establishment 23 years ago . . . Failure of the massive resistance movement in Virginia's effort to avoid integration is putting a quietus on some attempts to follow this approach in Tarheelia . . . and will no doubt slow down to a walk Dr. Beverly Lake's run for Governor . . . More on this later as the picture develops . . . but legislative leadirs we have talked with say N. C. will stick strictly with Pearsall Plan adopted in special session in the summer of 1955.

If we would guide by the light or reason, we must let our minds be bold.

—Justice Brandeis
